City To Appeal New Equalized Valuation

The Charlevoix city council this week voted to appeal to the state tax commission to equalize the county's tax roll in an effort to cut the city's equalized valuation which today was hiked from $4,865,000 to $5,237,528 by the county board of supervisors.

The new figure is an increase of $372,528 over last year's equalized valuation on real and personal properties.

Under the new valuation figures adopted by the board of supervisors, Charlevoix's equalized valuation is more than 25 per cent of the total valuation in the county which is $20,717,204.

Island Voters Reject School Bond Proposal

Residents of the Beaver Island Community school district rejected a $53,000 bond issue for a new school building at a special election Monday.

The proposal to raise the 15-mill tax limitation was turned down by a 49 to 39 vote and the second proposal, to bond for $53,000, was rejected by a vote of 48 to 35.

If the bond issue had been adopted the district planned to build a new school which would be used for a high school and the present high school would be converted for use as an elementary school. The present elementary school has been condemned by the office of the State Fire Marshal.

The enrollment in the Beaver Island Community school where students from both Beaver and St. James townships enroll is 76 this year including 45 in the elementary school and 31 in the top six grades. In the four high school grades there are seven students in the ninth, five in the tenth, one in the eleventh and four in the twelfth grades.

The Ninth Coast Guard district at Cleveland has scheduled the hearing to determine whether or not the Coast Guard is justified in continuing the operation of the two facilities.

Coast Guard officials from Cleveland will fly to Beaver Island for the hearing which will be held at the parish hall.

The board of supervisors and the city council have already forwarded resolutions to the district office opposing the closing of the facilities.

High School Band Receives First Division Rating At Muskegon

The 56 piece Charlevoix high school band directed by C. A. Odmark was again acclaimed as one of the outstanding Class C bands in the state Saturday when it was awarded the coveted First Division rating in the Michigan State Band and Orchestra Festival in Muskegon.

Adjudicators for festival in which 28 Class C bands were entered were Oscar Stover of Michigan State University, Lynn Huffman, director of instrumental music at Bensenville, Ill., Warren Fette of West Senior high school in Aurora, Ill., and Ralph Abrahamson, director of instrumental music at Medford, Wis.

Typical of the comments were "Band showed unusual understanding of rhythmic problems, 'nice spirit', 'general effect and sound of this band is very good', 'numbers are done with excitement, interest and color', and 'a good overall performance'.

In addition there were constructive criticisms by which the director gauges his band's needs. The three judges in the Concert Section gave the band two 1's and a 11, giving the group a concert rating of 1. In sight-reading the band received a 11 which combined with the concert rating averaged a final and official 1 rating.

Charlevoix was one of eight Class C bands to win a first division rating. Others were Mayville, Berrien Springs, Quincy, Fowler, Saline, Middleville and Portland.

The Charlevoix band left Charlevoix at 6 a. m., arriving at Muskegon at noon. After playing at 2:45, the group spent two hours in downtown Muskegon before leaving for the return trip. They arrived home at midnight.

Accompanying Mr. Odmark as faculty chaperones were the Misses Arlyle Roberts and Francis Milner and Leonard Burns. Drivers were Martin Elzinga and Ava Howard.

County Supervisors Set Tentative Budget Of $218,218 For 1957

The Charlevoix county board of supervisors adjourned Monday after one of the longest and busiest meeting sessions in its 88 year history.

Besides adopting a tentative budget for 1957, setting a new county equalized valuation and accepting a bid for the new county building the board voted to levy the one mill for the courthouse sinking fund on the state equalized valuation, approved bringing a proposed bond issue for the construction of a new Grandvue hospital to a vote of the people, approved a full-time deputy for the sheriff's department, rejected two proposals to move the county seat elsewhere, adopted a resolution opposing the closing of the present Coast Guard facilities on Beaver Island, returned the election of road commissioners to the people and outlined the duties of the register of deeds office.

The tentative budget for 1957 was set at $218,218 or $35,000 more than the adopted budget of $183,209 for 1956. The tentative budget for this year was set at $172,004 at the April meeting last year and increased to $183,209 at the October. The major increase was in the tentative appropriation to the welfare department which was increased from $53,000 this year to $65,000 for 1957. The tentative budget also allowed for anticipated increases in the budgets of all county departments and agencies receiving county funds.

The county's equalized valuation on real and personal properties was hiked from $19,393,127 in 1955 to $20,717,204 in 1956 for an increase of $1,324,077. All cities and towns were given an "across the board" increase. Charlevoix's valuation increase of $324,087. All cities and townships were given an "across the board" increase. Charlevoix valuation was increased to $5,237,528 over last year's figure of $4,865,000. (See city council story.)

On the opening day the board accepted a bid for $163,210 submitted by the Lake Construction Co. of Charlevoix for the construction of the two-story section of the county building. At the same time Helmut Forbiger of Lake Construction submitted a bid of $237,254 for the construction of the entire building. In order that funds would be available to complete the building when the

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

"Play Ball" was heard throughout the major leagues Tuesday and from now until early in October that will be one of the major topics of conversation. "Who will not only be on first, but then it'll be the questions of who's pitching to him and who's in first base, as the case may be. But baseball will have lots of competition this year. . . . an election year. . . . The old battle already on and with the state's Republican county conventions slated for this week, the politicians will be at it. . . . from now until the final vote is counted November 6. . . . And in addition to the regular politics, the residents of Charlevoix county will be faced with a decision regarding a bond issue. . . . So sometime during the next two months be sure and check with your city or township clerk to make sure you are registered to vote. . . . in this year of big decisions. . . .

Sunday it looked as though the April showers might soon be bringing May flowers, mushrooms and a few signs of spring. . . . but Monday morning those thoughts were banished by that white stuff that kept falling. . . . not that it was piling up but how could one get enthusiastic about sunshine, sandy beaches, rolling waves, swimming suits and such when all around were signs of winter. . . . Everyone's been telling us that we must have one more snowstorm before the weather settles down for the season. . . . maybe this will be it.

Things are happening around our town. . . . The new postoffice is coming right along and by the looks of things everything should be ready for the moving day early in June. . . .

And on the corner of State and Mason other big things are scheduled to begin. . . . the new courthouse for which we've all waited so long. . . . In fact, when the whole project was approved last week we could hardly believe it cause like our new bridge here, the highway north to Petoskey and the Mackinac bridge, we never thought they'd happen in our day. . . . After all, we've been hearing about this for all too many years. . . . But, barring unforeseen complications, ground should be broken during the next few weeks and the project will be underway. . . . And right here we like to add a word of praise to the courthouse building committee. . . . A hardworking, more sincere group we've never seen. . . . Having talked with them often since last spring and knowing first hand of their work on this assignment we'd like to say that Charlevoix county is mighty lucky to have such fellows on its board of supervisors. . . . We'd like to give a pat on the back, too, to Clarence Meggison, now our state representative, and to Pete Bulow and the others who were far-sighted enough to establish this sinking fund in '49. . . . To day their efforts are paying off. . . . We know they are happy about it and we should be very proud of them. . . . and others like them. . . . who have done much to make our county a progressive one. . . . We might add, too, that in our experiences with the board of supervisors, we have never seen such harmony nor men and women so unselfish in their work. . . .

"One nice thing about the new building that's going on, too. . . . the chief of our sidewalk superintendents, H. G. Feiereisel, won't have far to walk and won't be wasting time traveling between projects. . . . yes, things look good for Charlevoix this summer!"

If you graduated from the old Charlevoix high school anytime between 1914 and June of 1918 and are interested in a class reunion, get a card off to Mrs. Earl Shapton. . . . who's one of a committee of local residents making tentative plans for the event which at the moment is scheduled for June 2. . . . We all will depend on those of you who are away so make your sentiments known. . . . and fast. . . .

Charlevoix's enjoying a homecoming of another kind at the present time. . . . All our people who have been hither and yon during the winter months are like the birds, returning to the northland. . . . Almost every mail brings a note from someone. . . . and just about every time you walk down the street you see somebody sporting a tan. . . . It won't be long 'til we have every one home. . . . and then we'll await the arrival of our summer friends.

And speaking of summer friends a card from Bill Jenkins down Bedford, Indiana way informs us that the bass season will open just two months from Thursday. . . . so you see, summer will soon be here. . . . whether you want to believe it or not. . . .

Also in the mail a card from the economy size job. . . . from Laguna Beach, Calif., where the Bob Bridges, vacationing in the west, had a reunion with the Fred Youngs and the Gerry Richards. . . . All six wrote notes and all added up to two things. . . . they were having a grand time reminiscing about everyone back here they all wanted to be remembered to everyone back home. . . . The Bridges, incidentally, expect to be home about May 1 after spending some more time with Gene and his family at Monterey where he is stationed at Fort Ord. . . . But, gee, wouldn't you have loved being there and joining in the confab. . . .

Congratulations to our band. . . . and to their director, Odie Odmark. . . . who came home with a first division rating in state competition. . . . We don't know when a band has had to work so hard for anything. . . . maybe it was good for 'em. . . . Anyway, with their director in the hospital for weeks last fall and winter, the band continued to work under their student director, Kit Carson, and to do the things they should do, despite the fact that they were without a director. . . . That they were able to come up with a one despite the handicaps speaks well for the wonderful training they

And to Mrs. Charles See a happy birthday on the occasion of her eighty-first anniversary this coming Saturday. . . . She observed the event by trapping off to visit her son, Stan, and his wife at Scott Field, Ill.

DISCOVER THE DIFFERENCE IN DODGE!

This isn't just "big" talk. Dodge actually is bigger all around—up to 7.7 inches longer than cars in its own field, 14.5 inches longer than cars in the "low price" field. Dodge is bigger inside, too. More legroom front and rear! More hiproom front and rear! Dodge gives you plenty of room to relax in comfort.

Dodge push-button PowerFilt makes every other way of driving old-fashioned. It's mechanically perfect—the easiest, safest, surest way of driving ever developed. Just touch a button and go!

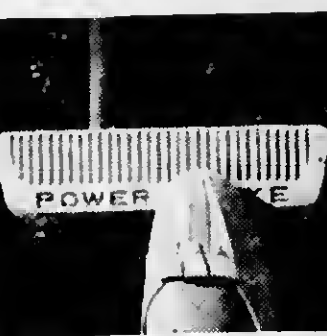

Dodge is powered for today's driving! Aircraft-type 260 hp. V-8 engine develops tremendous break-away power!

Solid—that's the way Dodge builds 'em! From the frame right on up, Dodge is engineered to take the roughest punishment. EXAMPLE: Box-section side rails provide greater strength and ruggedness than common I-beam or U-channel type used in most other car frames. Crossmembers are extra heavy. Here's solid dependability.

Who says parking isn't fun? Dodge power steering does 80% of the work, takes fewer turns of the wheel than other cars.

You can stop on a dime—with Dodge power brakes. Front wheel brakes have two cylinders, two anchors for positive, predictable stops.

It's America's performance champion! No other car has ever given such proof of superior performance. In a 14-day run at Bonneville, Dodge outclassed American stock cars and European sports cars both—shattered 806 AAA records in all, including 27 world records.

March Of Dimes Fund Drive Total Over Last Year

A report on the result of the 1956 March of Dimes fund drive to raise funds for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis was issued this week by Charles A. Robinson, 1956 fund chairman.

A breakdown of the contributions show that the Charlevoix area, which includes Beaver Island, contributed a total of $2,118.10 or 136.83 over the 1955 figure of $1,981.27.

Elsewhere in the county the area totals were as follows: Boyne City, $1,767.07; Walloon Lake $34.00; Boyne Falls, $225.10; Iron-ton, $109.10; East Jordan, $1,444.50 plus a contribution of $16,274.60 from a Deputy navyman who amply makes a contribution to the national drive which then credits 20 per cent of the amount to his home county which is Charlevoix. Initial plans for a proposed new Grandview hospital were approved by the board which then made plans to bring a bond issue before the public in the August 7 election. (See special story under architect's drawing of proposed hospital).

A full-time deputy for the sheriff's department was approved after a special committee composed of Henry Lee and William Korchase Jr. of Boyne City and T. R. Miller had consulted with Sheriff Glenn E. Rose on his needs. On Wednesday Sheriff Rose said he was accepting applications for the newly-created position. Information regarding the job may be obtained by calling his office.

An effort to change the site of the county seat was made by both Boyne City and East Jordan. On Tuesday night Boyne City's senior supervisor, Talmon Brady, proposed that the county seat be moved to Boyne City was rejected by a vote of 16 to 7 with one member abstaining and one absent. The following day, William Taylor of East Jordan presented a proposal to move the county seat to East Jordan. This was turned down by a vote of 19 to 6.

The board went on record as opposing the closing of the Beaver Island lifeboat station and Beaver Island light station. A resolution to this effect was adopted and forwarded to the office of the Ninth Coast Guard district at Cleveland.

Barney Milstein of East Jordan presented a proposal to return the election of road commissioners to the people. As a result, Karl J. Erber whose term expires this year will seek reelection in the August 7 primary.

Collectors

While sauntering about in woods and fields, an alert observer is impressed with the collecting habits of nature's children. A fox squirrel races to the ground from a high oak limb where he has picked a ripe acorn. Swiftly he digs a small hole, caches the nut near others he has previously hidden, and scampers up the oak tree's bole again to search for more provender against days of winter scarcity. Sometimes a small collection of acorns is forgotten by their planter, and in years to come, oak trees will stand there, tall leafy testimonies to the squirrel's absent-mindedness.

Occasionally a "mushroom tree" is seen in a forest or field, with mushrooms showing in every crotch where branches meet. These are usually the hoarding of red squirrels, avid lovers of mushrooms. They nibble on a few of these fungi as soon as they find them. But many they gather and set aside for future use.

Butcher birds, also known as shrikes, collect and impale other birds and small rodents on thorns or barbed wire fences. When hunger gnaws at their vitals they return to their larder for a taste of their collection.

The collecting habit is prevalent among human beings, too. The first farmers were collectors. They ranged the hillsides, the valleys and the forests, seeking their favorite herbs and roots. Having observed that food plants grew more plentifully and more luxuriantly under certain conditions—as in refuse dumps where seeds and pits were thrown—they returned repeatedly to such favorable places to gather their choicest plants. In our times civilized man spares himself the bother and effort of collecting his vegetable food from over a vast expanse by concentrating his crops on farms and in gardens. Then he separates them into types—certain plot for grains, another tract for potatoes, and still other areas for cabbages, beets, lettuce and sundry other foods. Nevertheless, man is still a collector, and when harvest time arrives, he goes about gathering what the warm sun, the soft rains, and the fertile soil have grown.

The human propensity for collecting is evidenced by man's hobbies. Children and grownups alike gather stamps, coins, match covers, and figurines. Some men have cabinets filled with old guns. The wealthy collect the original paintings of the old masters. "Bobby-soxers" hoard the autographs of their favorite crooners, and those who can afford them may purchase the signatures and letters of great men and women of history.

A New York woman collects cats' whiskers and owns over five hundred specimens. A modern Casanova of St. Paul, Minnesota, has confessed to collecting locks of hair from every girl he kisses. He pastes the tresses on sheets of paper, labeling them with date, place, the girl's name, and noting his impressions at the moment of impact! The extent of his collection has reached three hundred locks. All known colors of human hair are included.

Some people collect faults, as the St. Paul man does kisses. They make mental notes of what is wrong with every person they meet. More often than not, this hobby arises from their feelings of inadequacy and unworthiness. It is as if their subconscious mind were saying, "I'm not much good. So what? Nobody else is worth much either if you take a good look at him. Everybody I meet has something wrong with him. I guess I'm as good as the next fellow."

A noted soprano gave a remarkable concert one night—perfect in every respect except one. Aiming for an unusually high note, she "flatted" when a certain crowd got together for a post-concert party, the only thing they could talk about was that one flat note. The soprano had sung thousands of notes to perfection. But the fault-collectors weren't interested in them. Perfect notes wouldn't do. For their collection of mistakes they needed a flat.

Then there are the slight-collectors. Talk to them for awhile and they will wax enthusiastic about their hobby. With relish they will name their latest additions of indignities suffered, the humiliations they have undergone, the snubs they have acquired. Some of their slighters are really beautiful to behold, polished to gem-like perfection from much handling and exquisite care.

The most admirable people, as well as the most insufferable, are collectors. Some whom I know have assembled an impressive

Community Concert Association Opens Drive On April 23

The Northern Michigan Community Concert Association will launch its tenth annual membership campaign April 23, Mrs. Marion Ross, general chairman, has announced.

The artist's Selection Committee composed of Ross Stokes Jr. of Petoskey, Chairman, Mrs. Ralph Dean, Merton Carter and the Rev. Robert Titus of Petoskey, Mrs. C. A. Odmak, Mrs. Lee Moerland of Charlevoix, Emil Acitelle of East Jordan and Carl McClutchee of Onaway has taken a "hold date" on an outstanding attraction for the next season. This year, in observance of its tenth anniversary, the committee has taken a "hold date" on the world-famous Boston Pops Symphony Orchestra. The remaining three concerts which comprise the annual concert series will be announced following the close of the membership campaign.

All members are reminded that their membership in the Association will be scheduled for renewal the week of April 23. New members will have an opportunity to call local workers, whose names will be announced later, to purchase memberships in the Association this anniversary year.

The membership campaign will open Monday with a kick-off dinner at the Indian River Inn for Northern Michigan Community Concert Association officers, board members and workers numbering some 125 from 18 northern Michigan communities.

Mrs. Marion Ross, Community Concert Service representative will also be present at the dinner and to assist in the selection of attractions for the concert season.

C. A. Odmak is vice president of the Association and Mrs. Odmak an associate board member. Other local workers are Mrs. Leonard Burns, Mrs. E. J. Edwards, Mrs. Charles Bellinger and Francis Martin.

In announcing the campaign plans, Mrs. McCune, membership campaign chairman, said that every effort would be made to avoid scheduling concerts on nights when athletic events are scheduled.

NOT FOR THE RIDE!

Next time you see a truck on the road, remember—it's not there just for the ride. It's loaded with cargo bound for some important destination—and ultimately that destination is you.

Yes, the economy of Michigan—and of every other state, in fact—is geared to motor transport.

Trucks are the key to our great achievements in production. They have made possible new products and new marketing methods. They've enabled us to go out into the rural and suburban areas and build homes and business projects.

It's no wonder that trucks have increased in number in Michigan from 150,190 in 1941 to 351,337 in 1954. Their popularity has grown because they've done such a magnificent job—for manufacturers, farmers, retailers, the public—every one!

First Choice of Auto Engineers

Premium in every way...
still at regular gas price

New '56 Blue Sunoco

Used by more Auto Engineers than all other premiums combined

Of engineers who compared it with premium-priced brands:

- 93% say Blue Sunoco matches or excels premium-priced brands for overall performance!
- 86% say it matches or excels premium-priced brands for miles per gallon!

Once again, the most exacting gasoline jury in the world—the men who engineer America's great cars—has made Blue Sunoco its first choice over all other gasolines.

We recently invited a large group of automotive engineers to try New 1956 Blue Sunoco, boosted to a new high in octane, in their own cars and give us their reactions. The results, compiled by an independent, nationally-known firm of certified public accountants, make Blue Sunoco the favorite by an overwhelming margin.

43% already use Blue Sunoco. Of the 1,166 engineers who reported on '56 Blue Sunoco, 43% said they were already users of our gasoline. A far greater number than reported using all other premium gasolines combined!

Premium octane at regular price. Blue Sunoco is recommended for the newest high-compression cars when owners' manuals recommend a "premium". Yet Blue Sunoco sells at regular price, gives many more miles per dollar. Make your own 10-gallon test today.

COMPARISON CHART
This is what auto engineers reported after comparing Blue Sunoco with premium-priced gasolines in their own cars
93%	say Blue Sunoco matches or excels premium-priced brands for overall performance	91%	say Blue Sunoco matches or excels premium-priced brands for power and pick-up
85%	say Blue Sunoco matches or excels premium-priced brands for anti-knock performance	86%	say Blue Sunoco matches or excels premium-priced brands for miles per gallon

America's Greatest Gasoline Value!

The only gasoline that meets new higher premium octane standards and sells at regular gas price!

One elderly woman collects moments of gratitude for favors, some received from God and others from dear ones of earth. Her theme song is an old hymn I've heard her sing innumerable times while she worked about her kitchen, her washroom, and her garage.

"Count your blessings, Name them one by one, Count your many blessings, See what God has done."

Everyone is a collector, owning an accumulation of evil, of the mediocre, or the best. You are a collector too. What do you save and cherish?

Mitchell St. at the Bridge, Petoskey,

WHAT DO YOU MEAN, "JUST FACE LIFTING"?

EVERY NOW AND THEN, we run across someone who seems to think that 1956 cars do not offer anything really new—just a little face lifting from the year before.

We won't try to speak for the automobile industry. But we certainly can speak for Buick.

And let us announce in no uncertain terms—it's the newest thing on wheels.

The Styling is New

Sure, it looks like a Buick. But it has a new V-proved grille that says 1956 and no mistake. The hood's new—the fender ports are new—the sweeppear is new—and it all adds up to a new sweep-ahead look that ends in a sassy new slant to the rear contours.

But that, friends, is only the beginning.

The 1956 Dynaflo® is New

It introduces what the engineers call "double regeneration"—which means a double-action take-off. It gives you new, split-second response in the first inch of pedal travel—plus the "switch the pitch" at full acceleration, which no one else has yet approached.

The Ride is New

To coil springs on all four wheels, a brawny X-braced frame, and torque-tube drive, the engineers have added deep-oil shock absorbers to give new softness, new buoyancy, new comfort, and a brand-new "sense of direction" handling response.

The Power is New

All 1956 Buicks have new 322-cubic-inch V8's—with record highs in power and compression—with unique new double "Y" manifold to step up efficiency—with new carburetor "deicing"

—and a host of other new features to make owning a Buick pure pleasure.

The Thrill is New

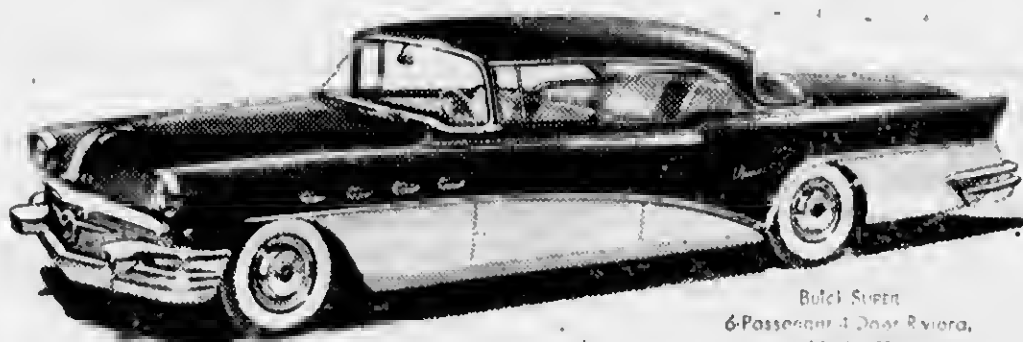

And the surest way for you to find out how right we are, is to sample a 1956 Buick yourself.

As we said before, this is the best Buick yet—by a wide measure—and when you learn the prices we're quoting, you'll know why this Buick is one of the three best sellers in today's market.

It takes a lot more than face lifting to produce such a winner as this.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick built today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Women's Hospital Guild Approves Scholarship Rules

Announce Dates For Pre-School Age Visitation

The time for pre-school age children who will be enrolled in the kindergarten next year to visit school is near at hand.

Because of the confusion caused last year when approximately 80 prospective kindergartners visited school in one week, a new system has been devised this year, according to Mrs. Dorothy McKee, kindergarten teacher.

Children are invited to visit school any afternoon between May 1 and May 25.

However, parents are asked to call the school office, LI 7-6583 and tell the clerk in the office, Mrs. Emma Schied, when their child would like to visit school. She will then check the calendar and register the child for a given day, thus doing away with the problem which arose last year when 25 children visited school one morning.

Arrangements will be made for children who will come to school on the bus. Parents are asked to mention this when they call the school.

In making the change Mrs. McKee said she was sure that the new arrangement will be a better one for it will give the prospective students a better idea of the kindergarten as it really is.

The number of call is LI 7-6583. Do it now so your youngster will have an opportunity to visit school between May 1 and May 25.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

Have you recovered from the wedding... The ones in Monroe last Wednesday and Thursday... with so much pomp and publicity... You can go right on dreaming of the poor little American... who married the prince... Just between you and me, I'd like the kind of a guy I could get in a good argument with without having to start out... Your Highness... Think what that would do to the good old family quarrel... Are you the kind of people who live together for 50 years with nary a cross word... Would that be dull... And then there was the quiet little wedding in Independence, Mo., which to my way of thinking was what a wedding should be... And can you think of anything less romantic than a bad case of mal-de-mere...

A real milestone in Charlevoix county's history will be reached this week when the ground is broken for the new county building... For years we've heard of plans for such a building which would never be constructed here because someone was going to change the county seat hither and yon... Barring the unexpected, the big day will be Saturday... Shortly the building will be underway... Of course for the first few weeks, all the workmen will do is lay all kinds of forms and concrete and make tunnels and what have you and then cover them up so you can wonder what they've been doing all along... But all kidding aside...

It's going to be quite a day... In fact it would compare with the completion of the city hall or the new highway north of town or the highway bridge... all important events in our community...

The Martins have returned for the summer... or perhaps we should say, are returning... We under the first scouts arrived about 10 days ago and the first pair arrived at the Griffin home on E. Lincoln ave. Thursday... Julian Griffin had made two big apartment houses during the winter and his brother, Howard, had to get them up Thursday or the birds would go elsewhere... Like the swallows at Capistrano, the Martins return to Charlevoix just about the same day every year... A smart bunch of birds... those Martins...

There's a movement underway to get a club organized and going for not only kids but all people who are interested in cars... There's a story elsewhere in this week's paper about their activities but we'd like to give you a little more info on what they're trying to do... The local V. F. W. post is backing it and we think they've a good project started...

As we said, it's for everybody interested in cars... they hope eventually to build a track for jalopy races and find a garage, barn or shelter of some description so the members can have some place to work on their cars... We can't think of a better way for everyone to have a good time so why not turn out for the next meeting at the V. F. W. post home at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday... You'll find it worth your while... How's this for a name... it has been suggested that the area where the city hall, courthouse, postoffice and other important buildings are going to be located where all are completed be called the Civic Center... We think it's a whole of an idea... how about it... Our good friend, Judge Floyd A. Supp thought it up and we think it's worth adopting...

Shakespeare Study Club Has Election Of New Officers

Mrs. Charles Bellinger was elected president of the Shakespeare Study club held last week at the home of Mrs. T. R. Miller.

She succeeds Mrs. Charles J. Pontius in the office. Other newly-elected officers who will assume their duties when the club year opens in October are: first vice president, Mrs. Miller; second vice president, Mrs. Leslie T. Ball; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Lee Moerland.

At the social hour which followed Mrs. Lisle Shanahan of Los Angeles an early member of the club who is visiting here, presided at the refreshment table which was decorated with an arrangement of spring flowers.

The meeting, concluded the club's activities for the current year.

and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McRae was tastefully decorated in spring flowers in shades of gold for the occasion. The refreshment table was centered with a tiered wedding cake encircled with daffodils.

Mrs. Ikens greeted the guests in a skipper blue figured dress complimented by a corsage of yellow roses.

The couple received many lovely gifts, cards, telegrams and other remembrances of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Ikens were married at Petoskey April 14, 1906 and for the past 44 years have resided here. Mr. Ikens served as Charlevoix county sheriff from 1932 until he retired Dec. 31, 1954.

Among those from away who came for the anniversary party which was climaxed by a family dinner Sunday evening were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ikens of Oak Grove, Mrs. Ikens' sister, Mrs. Ida Lovig of Chicago, Mr. Ikens' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ikens of Fremont, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Pritchard of Alameda, Mr. Hugh Blacklock and son of Grand Rapids and O. P. North of Newago as well as relatives and friends from East Jordan, Boyne City and Petoskey.

Betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Himebauch have announced the engagement of their daughter, Lueile, to Langford W. Palmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Palmer of Lansing.

The bride-elect is a 1954 graduate of the Charlevoix high school. Mr. Palmer, a graduate of Pittsford high school, is a veteran of two years service in the U. S. Army.

Junior Class To Present Play 'Act Your Age' At School May 4

Designed to produce a minimum of a laugh a minute, the three-act comedy, "Act Your Age" will be presented at the Charlevoix high school auditorium at 8 p. m. Friday, May 4, by the Junior class. Mrs. Robert Hamilton is directing the production.

The play tells the story of two teen-agers, Andy (DeeAnn Geneis) and Jerry (Judy Cunningham), who, out of patriotism, started writing to a pair of lonesome sailors, Jim (Terry Davis) and Gadget (Jim Flynn). Just to make it more interesting the girls pass themselves off as young ladies instead of kids of 14.

About that time the sailors plan a leave to visit their new-found girl friends. Andy and Jerry handle the situation well by donning grown-up clothes and everything looks rosy until Aunt Sandra (Carol Duerr) appears, bent on teaching the girls a lesson by dressing as a brat of a child and making a holy terror of herself.

From then on it's a whirl of fun and complications with the boys wiring Commander Stone (Phil Timmer) for an extension of leave to get married. But Sandra, who happens to be the commander's daughter, intercepts the message and re-addresses to her dad as "Pickle-puss" Stone. Meanwhile Gadget falls for the cook, Cora (Nancy Wallace) who with Helga (Sue Gill) is a lady wrestler on her time off and wires for another extension . . . this time to bury their wives who have supposedly drowned.

Cmdr. Stone arrives about this time and the boys are forced to stage a hokum "wake" scene which is one long cascade of laughs.

In a sparkling finale, the 14-year olds thankfully return to their own age. Gadget's heart is captured by Cora and her cooking and a romance between Sandra and Jim give the Commander something to feel sentimental about. Deanna Left plays the role of the Western Union girl.

Tickets for the performance may be purchased from any member of the Junior class.

What Is Death?

All living things die. They do not perish from the same causes. Some of the better developed creatures like man, may determine, to some extent, what they shall not die off, and by exercising care and using the aids of science, man may postpone death for a time, but all finally die.

Most wild creatures die a violent death. Even at Hidden Brook, our wild life sanctuary, the children of nature are not absolved of death. When morning dew lies heavy upon our acres of ferns and grasses and trees, we sometimes see a Jeweled cowbird spread between birches, a gem encrusted tray for wandering insects. A wandering butterfly blundered into the lovely snare and is quickly pounced upon by the spidery, eight-legged owner, and in a moment goes the way of all flesh.

Fish in the brook become the prey of other fish, and the predator soon after becomes the prize of an eager fisherman, and soon or late the fisherman becomes the victim of a weak, or an onslaught of perms or viruses. If the angler manages to escape sudden and violent death, the slow building up of unrepentant arrears of wear in his vital organs will at last do him in.

Even the earth, of which Hidden Brook is but a small green fragment, will undoubtedly die last. The sun's energy will fail and cease to give the earth its needed light. The pull of the moon, slowing the earth's spinning may at last bring it to a disastrous halt. Possibly the earth will be shattered by chance collision with another celestial body and die like a June bug smashing into a street lamp. How it will come, nobody knows, but the astronomers are pretty much agreed that the earth's destiny is to die as surely as does a butterfly, a spider, a fern, a white birch tree, a minnow, a trout, and a fisherman.

Against the inevitability of death we rebel. We won't have it, we will call it something else, "a passing" or "a falling to sleep." We shall try not to think about it. In our urgent effort to hold old age at bay we betray our fear of death. The beautician and the gland specialist, the masseur and the plastic surgeon are employed to pile up denial that we are growing older. But they cannot stop the clock nor the ravages of time, and death comes inexorable on.

Some attempt to spare their children a knowledge of death. When a funeral occurs in the family, they send the young away to stay with friends so that they may not be confronted with the problems of death. Usually the reason given is that "He's too young to understand," or "She will only be confused." But they neglect giving the child an opportunity to accept the fact of death as part of life, part of the scheme of things.

What is death? For the creatures that bound through the woodland, that leap streams or dash from one watery den to another in the brook, or beat the air with wings, death is change. In the Divine economy they are not lost. Those that are preyed upon are reincarnated their flesh becoming the flesh of the predator. All, by a long route of changes, or by two long routes of changes, or a short one return at last to the earth and are resurrected, soon or late, into the new life of trees and grasses and other creatures that will inhabit the earth in years to come. There is evidence all around us that one of the chief attributes of God is his "tender care that nothing be lost," to use Alfred North Whitehead's meaningful phrase.

For man, too, death is not the end, but a change from one life to another. Death is like a moment in a sculptor's shop. The body is but a mold into which the plastic, moldable spirit is poured. The experience we call death occurs when the mold is removed and the finished art is released from its imprisonment—more beautiful than the molding, or less, according to the patience and care of pouring and handling.

Again, death is such a change as we have known in traveling. It is adventure, a moving out from familiar places into the excitement of and thus far only dreamed about, and now to be seen and traveled in the glad company of those we love the most. To say that a loved one "has gone" is but to tell half the story. A sojourner not only goes, which means sadness of those left behind, but he also arrives, which brings joy to him and to those he meets at his journey's end.

Point graduate who established the Army of Israel, was killed in the Jerusalem Road Battle in 1948 while leading Haganah forces. More than likely he had a premonition of death, because the following note was found in his wallet and sent to his widow:

THE SHIP

"I am standing upon the sea-shore. A ship at my side spreads her white sails to the morning breeze and starts for the blue ocean. She is an object of beauty and strength, and I stand and watch her until at length she is only a ribbon of white cloud just where the sea and sky come to mingle with each other. Then someone at my side says, 'There! She's gone!'"

Gone where? Gone from my sight—that is all. She is just as large in mast and hull and spar as she was when she left my side and just as able to bear her load of living freight—to the place of destination. Her diminished size is in me, not in her, and just at the moment when someone at my side says, 'There! She's gone!' there are other voices ready to 'be up the glad shout. 'There! She comes!' And that is Dying."

The belief that when we die we have not gone but have arrived is an old one, shared by many primitive people upon whom God has let the light of hope shine. While we say "He has gone," the African says, "He has arrived."

What is death? Wherever we find it amidst nature's wild children or among the sons and daughters of God, it is change. But above all else, death is the inadequate name our poor vocabularies of traveling to our Father's house.

Used by more Auto Engineers than all other premiums combined

Of engineers who compared it with premium-priced brands:

- 93% say Blue Sunoco matches or excels premium-priced brands for overall performance!

Once again, the most exacting gasoline jury in the world—the men who engineer America's great cars—has made Blue Sunoco its first choice over all other gasolines.

We recently invited a large group of automotive engineers to try New 1956 Blue Sunoco, boosted to a new high in octane, in their own cars and give us their reactions. The results, compiled by an independent firm of certified public accountants, make Blue Sunoco the favorite by an overwhelming margin.

43% already use Blue Sunoco

Of the 1,166 engineers who reported on '56 Blue Sunoco, 43% said they were already users of our gasoline... a far greater number than reported using all other premium gasolines combined!

Premium octane at regular price

Blue Sunoco is recommended for the newest high-compression cars when owners' manuals recommend a "premium". Yet Blue Sunoco sells at regular price, gives many more miles per dollar. Make your own 10-gallon test today.

A number of open matches will be conducted by other cities in Northern Michigan this summer. The forthcoming match here will afford local shooters an opportunity to improve their scores.

Spray Raspberry Crop To Assure Perfect Control

This is the time of the year when raspberry growers plan their spraying program. One of the most troublesome diseases of raspberries in Charlevoix county is Anthracnose according to Ed Robman, county agricultural agent. This disease affects a small raspberry plantation in the home garden as well as the commercial plantation.

Control of this disease is fairly simple but it must be done as soon as possible. Probably the easiest method is to use a delayed dormant spray of lime sulfur. Use liquid lime sulfur at 12½ gallons per 100 gallons of spray when the leaves are exposed

One-half to three-fourths of an inch. For the home gardener this would be one pint of liquid lime sulfur per gallon of water. If the buds progress rapidly and are out past the three-fourths inch stage, reduce the amount of lime sulfur by fifty per cent.

The growers must obtain complete coverage of the raspberry vine to get control of this disease. Arrange the nozzle of the sprayer so that it will cover the entire plant. The bulletin showing the suggested spray program for small fruits may be obtained from the County Extension office.

Easy Coins A Quick Profit

Hear about Easy Roberts last Friday? I helped him count his money—both before and after—so believe me, the story's true.

Easy was on the way to the bank to deposit his "cookie jar" savings—exactly $24.95 in nickels, dimes and quarters. He had them in a paper bag and as we crossed Main Street the bottom fell out.

Money went flying. Passers-by pitched in to help recover the coins. Later on when Easy counted up, he had $25.05. The "search party" had turned up all of Easy's money plus ten cents someone else had lost!

From where I sit, I wouldn't want to try this "Easy" way to make money. Usually, it takes time for a bank roll to grow... just as it takes time for a friendship to grow. But by respecting a neighbor's rights—including his right to drink coffee, tea, beer or buttermilk, whichever and whenever he chooses—it's wonderful the solid friendship you can build. You can "bank" on that.

"By doing this," he intoned, "you have averted a heavy tax load at this time. By careful planning the second section of the building can be erected with little hardship to the taxpayer."

The first, two-story section, of the county building will be constructed within the next nine months at a cost of $163,210. The second section, or the one story south wing, will be added when funds are available. By levying the millage for the courthouse sinking fund on the state equalized valuation, as approved by the board of supervisors at a recent meeting, it is expected that Lake Construction will proceed with the project when the present section is completed.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

Somebody goofed . . . somewhere along the way the weather orders got mixed up and we're sure that on April 29 we got that scheduled for some eight months later say December 29 . . . Couldn't believe our eyes when that darned white stuff started at noon and kept falling and falling until by night we had up to four inches . . . There's only one consolation . . . we're almost repeat almost sure I won't last too long.

May baskets this year will sure be short on May flowers . . . and with the weather we've been having there aren't even any good weeds available . . . In fact, the poor little buds will be frozen if this keeps up. That's possible, you know, especially after the temperature dropped to only nine above zero one morning last week.

What with all this talk about Mayor Albert Cobo of Detroit possibly seeking the Republican nomination for governor, maybe Charlevoix will become the site of the governor's summer home should he win . . . He's vacationed at the Harry Weinbaum home for quite some years and many Charlevoixians have come to know him personally . . . and of course, are very fond of him. Wouldn't it be something . . . to have a governor we all know . . . it's possible you know.

People from far and wide went to Beaver Island last week . . . to prove the eluding of the lifeboat station and Beaver head light . . . And, as only the islanders can do, they rolled out that shamrock green welcome mat and made everyone right at home . . . In fact it was hospitality that would even rival that found in the deep south, according to our own Hal Hill, a boy who should know 'cause he comes from the heart of a state named Tennessee . . .

And if you're looking about you for the sun and dreaming of that tan you're going to have, it and when summer arrives, take a look at Mrs. Joe McPhillips, home from a short vacation trip to Daytona Beach with her husband and son sporting the most beautiful tan we've seen . . . In fact, we turn green (with envy, that is), just looking at her . . .

From Egypt a card from our traveling friend from the State Department, Ed Madill, who's been on a Middle East jaunt for several weeks . . . Noting the date on the card, April 3, he must be back in Washington now after one last stop at Baghdad . . .

And if you're traveling home from the south this weekend don't forget to stop at Churchill Downs and place your bet (if you're a betting man) on your favorite in the Kentucky Derby . . . We're not a racing fan but just once we'd sure like to see that . . . the track itself, the huge and colorful crowd, the pageantry, the thrill of watching the race proper . . .

And while you're checking your calendar, don't forget to put a big circle around May 13, Mother's Day, 1956 . . . It's a big day for Moms and don't you forget to remember yours . . . with a card, a letter, a gift . . . it doesn't matter too much as long as you remember . . .

Gary Plum, who's only seven and who's been having quite a time . . . now that he's in a body cast got quite a morale booster last week when he was named mascot of Cub Scout Den 8 . . . Of course he can't have much excitement so the boys gather in his room for their opening ceremony and then go to the nearby home of their Den Mother, Mrs. Walker Jarvis, . . . for the remainder of their meeting . . .

Had the nicest time recently . . . when we were invited to the golden wedding anniversary party for the Floyd Ikenes . . . It was old-home week, really, seeing all the people we'd known so long . . .

Floyd was in his element greeting everyone . . . and being greeted by all the gals . . . at least that's the only way we could account for the various shades of lipstick . . . Mrs. Ikenes was her gracious self . . . thoroughly enjoying every minute of it . . .

Michigan farmers will have four new Michigan certified corn hybrids for planting in this year.

Congratulations

We the people of Beaver Island have successfully defeated Plan one for a new school. Plan two and three were discussed and discarded. That we could not possibly afford the expenses of a new school is evidenced by the fact that for approximately seventy-eight permanent residents on the Island. We have about ninety-two cars and trucks and forty-six TV sets. That we are already doing all that we possibly can for school purposes is born out by the fact that we have spent almost twelve thousand dollars for new school construction in the last fifty-three years.

I would like to suggest now Plan four, which can be carried out at a great savings to the taxpayers.

The plan as follows: Wait until the old building falls down. Thereafter we can construct a much smaller building that will adequately house the surviving pupils of the community.

I sincerely believe that this is the cheapest plan for the taxpayers

Turning Trouble Into Triumph

Along our brook banks the yellow lady slippers grow. Some springs they appear in wild profusion and other years they are scant in number, but every springtime some of these delicately dressed members of the orchid family, can be seen dancing to the brook's gay music.

Orchids, such as the lady slippers and the showy orchids, have a queer disposition. They will thrive only when fungi grow in and around their roots. Such fungus infection has given the orchids an unsavory reputation of being unhealthy plants, but such disrepute is undeserved. Rather, the orchid's health depends upon the presence of fungi, for the orchid has no rootlets and therefore cannot drink nor eat like many of its plant cousins. The fungi living in and around the orchids roots eat and drink the elements of the soil and pass on to the plant the predigested nutrients. It is the orchid's glory that it takes a fungus infection and makes beauty out of it.

During World War II—nearly one hundred species of plants strange to London, England, sprang up in the bombed and burned areas of that war-devastated city. Botanists theorized that the bombing and burning changed the chemical properties of the soil and made the earth suitable for the growth of plants whose seeds had been there all along but could not sprout until conditions were right. The scouring of the earth brought about conditions conducive to growth. Some plants turn trouble into triumph.

Of all the differences that exist among people, this is one of the most significant: when trouble infects the roots of human life, some spirits sicken and die, others, like yellow lady slippers, make beauty out of it. Great art has often arisen from tribulation. Mozart wrote his immortal "Requiem" while living in the presence of threatening death.

An occasional sparkle of genius was observed in John Milton during his rather trouble-free youth. But not until blindness descended upon him did his poetic brilliance bloom. Beethoven, an occasional sparkle of genius was observed in John Milton during his rather trouble-free youth. But not until blindness descended upon him did his poetic brilliance bloom. Beethoven, an occasional sparkle of genius was observed in John Milton during his rather trouble-free youth. But not until blindness descended upon him did his poetic brilliance bloom.

Robert Louis Stevenson did much of his writing while confined to bed by physical weakness. Dr. Edward Livingston Trudeau, after being afflicted by tuberculosis and near death, built a hospital in the Adirondacks for other tubercular patients. Although Louis Pasteur's experiments in bacteriology had brought him fame while he was still but a young man, many of his most discoveries were made after he suffered a crippling paralytic stroke in his forty-sixth year, including a treatment for rabies.

Madame Curie's bereavement at the loss of her husband in a tragic street accident spurred her on in her experiments. With her husband she had discovered radium. After he died in 1906, she devised a radiograph apparatus for examining wounds and thus saved countless lives during the first World War through her provision for the prompt location of bullets and shell fragments. Innumerable other benefits of her work have arisen from her sorrow-filled days to bless mankind. Madame Curie knew how to turn trouble into triumph.

"Ideal" conditions are sterile. Nothing of real worth grows there. Wherever you find strong and beautiful character, if you dig around the roots you will discover some infection of adversity, some handicap, some struggle, some sorrow. Like yellow lady slippers feeding on fungus, spiritual greatness thrives on trouble, absorbing it and making beauty from it.

Plans for a summer play camp for pre-school children in the three to five age group were announced this week by Mrs. Robert Wallace.

The school will feature planned activities including handicraft, games, music, dancing, story-telling and other outdoor activities. Swimming for the youngsters will be taught if the parents desire it. June 4 has been tentatively set for the opening of the school. Enrollments will be on a full or half-day basis.

Mrs. Wallace who will operate the camp attended DePaul University and the University of Indiana where she majored in speech and had a minor in physical education. Later she was active in summer theatre in the east.

Since coming to Charlevoix three years ago she has been active with the Brownie Scouts and Sunday school.

Enrollments are now being accepted for the summer session.

Now Is Time To Order Petunias To Decorate City

"Have you ordered your petunias yet?" Mrs. Harley Ochs, president of the Garden Club, asked this week.

If not, the florists have them. Or if you prefer to grow your own, one good way is to mix the tiny seeds with sand for easy sowing. The plants may be thinned as they grow.

In conclusion Mrs. Ochs urged everyone to plant petunias in every nook and corner as well as in beds to add color to our city this summer.

Urge Pre-School Age Children To Visit Kindergarten

Preschool age children in the Charlevoix school district who will be enrolled in kindergarten during the next two weeks.

Parents of these youngsters are invited to call the elementary school, LI 7-6583, and make a reservation for the time their child would like to visit school. This is being done to prevent the confusion that has arisen in other years when more visitors than students showed up at school.

Mrs. Dorothy McRae, kindergarten teacher, is anxious to have the children visit kindergarten so parents are urged to plan now for the visit by calling the above number.

Among the visitors to date have been Gordon Freedman, Stanley Warner, Tommie Burns, Paul Thodeson, Debbie Potter, Bobby Reed, Donnie Ward, Kathy Klosser, Scott Blanchard, Cheryl Meier, Bruce McPhillips, Timmie McCracken, Chuck Pease, Greg Martin, Kenny Heeres, Larry Straw and Tommy Moore.

Miss Richardson was presented with a piece of luggage from the American Dairy Association and was the organization's guest while in southern Michigan. She was accompanied by Mrs. William Parsons.

Plans Announced For Construction Of New Army Reserve Center

Plans for a U. S. Army Reserve training center to be constructed here at a cost of $79,000 on a site yet to be selected have been announced by Brigadier General L. S. Bork, Chief of the Michigan Military district, Fort Wayne, Detroit.

The training center will be the new improved standard type, brick-faced construction, will resemble modern school-type buildings and will contain approximately 3,681 square feet. It will cost approximately $79,000 and will be ready for occupancy approximately one year from the date a suitable, approved site is made available.

At present there is one active Reserve unit, the 310th Ordnance Company (Field Supply) Capt. John N. Barkdoll Commanding, undergoing training at the temporary training center located at 304 Petoskey ave. with a current participating strength of 45 men and officers. The unit is now being trained under the supervision of Capt. John M. Bruce of Traverse City, the Army Reserve advisor locally representing the Chief of the Michigan Military district.

In making the announcement regarding the proposed new building General Bork stated that the Department of the Army has recognized the need for improved and permanent training facilities of the Charlevoix area.

The present facilities are only marginally adequate for present training requirements and not suitable to meet the expanding demands of new units to be activated and the anticipated increase in number of reservists who will be required to participate, he continued. After reporting this condition to the Department of the Army, approval for the construction of the training center was received.

As all men returning from active service after August 1957 will have a Reserve training obligation, a very substantial increase in participation is expected. To insure that Reserve units are available within this area to which reservists can accept assignment, Michigan Military district has provided the existing units and plans on activating additional ones. As only a limited number of Reserve units of specific types are available, there will necessarily be a limit to type units which can be provided and the communities which can be allocated such Army Reserve units.

At present Army Reserve units normally, drill at night, their training is of a classroom nature which is designed to prepare them for active duty training at summer camp and ultimately make their unit combat ready in event of a national emergency. The building, therefore, is designed with several classrooms, supply and orderly rooms, an indoor firing range and a drill or assembly floor. Maximum utilization will necessitate its use by various Reserve units about four nights per week. The local Michigan Military district advisor personnel will maintain offices in the training center and conduct other Army Reserve activities such as recruiting, organization of new units, planning for training and normal administration of Reserve affairs during week days.

Capt. Bruce reports he is most happy to learn of these new plans and feel Charlevoix will have a beautiful building of which the citizens can be justly proud and which will serve far better to meet current needs as well as provide for expanding requirements of new and larger units.

"Now we can really get our program in high gear" Capt. Bruce said. "However," he continued, "I know the time will come in the not too distant future when young men will be seeking assignment to our Army Reserve units and there will be no space for them. That is, we will be filled to authorized strength and we will be unable to get additional units for activation. The men who are signing up now are smart they realize this!"

Anyone interested in more information concerning the new plan or current activities can contact Capt. Bruce at Bldg. 201, USCG Air Station or at 305 Petoskey ave., Charlevoix, any Monday evening between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30 p. m.

Gold Star Specials

Let us face it. There is no money in fire, and the fire that destroyed our new Alpena unit two weeks ago took with it valuable merchandise that must be replaced for our coming busy season. As well, we have kiddingly had many inquiries about a "Fire Sale" ... We can't have a fire sale ... the fire itself saw to that by eliminating everything. Result is a SACRIFICE SALE in Gold Star Seal Specials at all Fays Stores.

Gold is where you find it ... and at Fays it is a 20% saving on any and all items that have Gold Star Seals ... Diversification of Gold Star items means a savings for everyone ... for the Gold Star can very possibly be on the one item that you have set out to seek.

The Gold Star is where you find it—in the blouse dept. in the sweaters, the Bras, the hose, the coats, dresses and so on. All regular merchandise ... glittering with Gold Stars ... and a saving in gold for you.

Beginning now—in all Fays' Shoppes in Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Gaylord, Petoskey, Onaway—And Alpena—when we get it open in a few weeks—this also includes Fays' Bo-Gi Shoppes in Cheboygan.

I repeat—FOLLOW THE GLEAM—TO GREATER SAVINGS AT FAY'S

Roadside Clover Crop Provides Bees With Food Source

Stop and think before cutting clover along the roadside or in unused fields. The bees who live on these plants are helping to feed you.

Without bees to carry pollen from one flower to another, commercial fruit and vegetable growers and flower producers could never meet public demand, says E. C. Martin, Michigan State University entomologist. Home gardens would produce little.

Finally, the livestock farmer would have no legume seed to plant, and much of his valuable forage would be lost.

Martin reports that the bumble bee population has been greatly reduced as the plow has ruined its nests and the mower has removed its pasture early in the season.

Honey bees are holding their own fairly well, but honey yields of many commercial producers have decreased by one-half since the 1930's. This has discouraged many producers, and it may eventually cut the number of bees.

Martin believes that this yield decrease is caused by urban development and close cutting of suburban lots, as well as by early mowing of legume hay. He says that a continuing market for honey and beeswax is also important to beekeepers.

The farmer can help maintain bee numbers by using pasture mixtures with a high percentage of legumes, Martin says. Bees particularly like sweet clover, which is an excellent green manure crop.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

Charlevoix is certainly taking on that early spring look—Carpenters are a-building, painters are a-painting and one day last week it even looked as if spring might just be here—Of course, it didn't last long but surely it will warm up one of these days—

In the meantime, however, Leo Allard's street crew is making like it's really Spring, picking up trash during clean-up week, hauling dirt and dumping it along the north bank of the channel east of the highway bridge. DeWitt Peters and his crew are working like mad getting the new Turkey Wing, located at the bridge, ready for the summer season—Hess Furniture already looks like something out of House Beautiful with its new furniture arrangements—the furniture and lock boxes at the post office are being lightened and brightened for the day when they're moved around the block to the new postoffice site—next door to the city hall—

Lake Construction is a-digging at the new courthouse site—the new Kroger Co. store at the top of the South Bridge st. hill is nearing completion and the parking lot is being constructed—The Schroeder home on Park ave. is coming right along as is Gibbons' motel on south Bridge and Bogart's motel a little farther on—The boat yards are humming, getting all those beautiful boats of every description ready for the summer season—Yards are being raked, shrubs planted—And you can't help but get the idea that we all have hope that spring will eventually come—

It's hard to believe but in another five weeks many of our summer residents will be migrating north—

Meanwhile, we have to finish out the school year—This week there's the J-Hop, next Wednesday the Home Ec. department fashion show followed by the music department's Spring concert—On May 19 there'll be open house at the U.S. Coast Guard Lifeboat station in observance of Armed Forces Day and the Civil Defense mass feeding project on the same day—With the officials of Camden coming to town for one day May 21 for Mayor's Exchange Day—

Somewhere along the way (we haven't heard yet) there'll be the Senior class trip, followed by Baccalaureate with graduation scheduled for May 31—And the day before that there's Memorial Day—And if you have any time left over, let us know how you do it, will you?

Last week, as you know, was Student Government Day and the high school kids took over the duties of the city officials—It's the first year that they've actually been on the job—going out on the job with the regular officials—We're sure that they now have a better idea of the scope of city government and the problems that must be met every day—The orchid of the week should go to our city superintendent Hal Hill who did such a terrific job in making it all worth-while—and to the patient city officers for their cooperation—Started three-years ago by the then city superintendent, Roy R. Robinson, it's a growing program—

This Wednesday the Senior class was scheduled to visit the city's facilities—We think it's a grand idea and a sure way to get the public acquainted with the things that keep our city growing—

Remember Etta M. Reid who taught English here back in the middle 1920s? We hadn't heard of her in years and years until recently when Bob Cook's mother, Mrs. May Cook, who was visiting in Port Huron, brought back a clipping about her and a Charlevoixian, Vincent Madison—Seem's the latter, who is now the director of the Area Development Division of the Detroit Edison Co. was guest speaker at a meeting in Port Huron and during his talk mentioned Charlevoix—After the dinner Miss Reid, who is now mayor of Port Huron, no less, introduced herself and the two spent quite some time reminiscing about Charlevoix and their mutual friends back here—

So, if you're in Port Huron and get a traffic ticket, just mention the Mayor's name—but make sure she remembers you or you'll be out of luck—You know, we just can't quite imagine that gal going into politics—Maybe we seemed the type—Maybe we can fix the Mayor's Exchange one of these years so she can come to Charlevoix—

One of the nicest events on the Girl Scout calendar was held recently—the Father and Daughter banquet—Close to 200 Girl Scouts and Brownie Scouts turned up at the banquet with dads or a reasonable facsimile thereof and had a whale of a time—The substitute dads, we hear, had as much, if not more fun than the regular dads—It's sure one grand way of acquainting the male population of the community with the Girl Scouts and their activities—And the orchid of the week goes to the leaders, council members and others who planned the event and brought it to a successful conclusion—

More excitement Sunday—what with a road block at the bridge and everyone on the lookout for the three escapees from the prison camp, at Wilderness Park—Sunday drivers all around the area were being checked at various spots—

Remember that Tangletown contest that started in a Detroit paper last fall, was held up because of the newspaper strike and then was finished late in the winter?—Seemed as though everyone we knew was working on it but Charlevoix only came up with three winners—Frank Och and Steve Raab who won $5.00 a piece—and then there were a few dozen others who got nothing—

We had quite a famous person in town recently in the person of Wally Burkem, Michigan PGA and Golf champion who was visiting at the Bob McCall home—It was his first visit here and he was quite impressed by Charlevoix—the water, its lovely summer homes and most of all the golf courses—Maybe he'll come back and take a look-see when we have our party clothes on—in the middle of the summer—

There's a custom that we like and think it's a pretty nice one—Despite the fact that May 1st dawned cold and gray we found a May basket on our door filled with pretty little hand-made flowers—'cause there just weren't any real ones—It was such a bright spot in the day and we think we're indebted to our little neighbor, Nancy Novak, 'cause it sounds like something she'd do—But then, it could have been some of the other youngsters in our neighborhood 'cause we're blessed with lots of nice kids—the kind that will even 'fess up when a window gets broken while they're playing ball—

By the way, what ever happened to the smelt run this year?—From what we hear it was as spotty as the weather—But the perch are biting—at least at Beaver Island for George Hutchinson came home with enough for himself and all his friends—the big kind that are so luscious—We know 'cause we had some—And then there was the night the phone rang and this voice asked "How would you like a couple speckled trout?"—We quick-like said we'd love 'em and found that one of our nephews, Herb Cummings, age 10, has managed to do something a lot of grown-ups hadn't been able to do—he'd caught some trout—Guess there just haven't been many caught thus far—at least we haven't heard about 'em—

Garden Club Told Of Pioneer Methods

Mrs. H. E. Paddock presented an interesting lesson on "Pioneer American Gardening" at the regular meeting of the Garden club held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. A. B. Cameron.

The garden tip for the meeting was: "Braid your bulb foliage to make way for other plants."

Mrs. Karl J. Erber will be host to the next meeting of the club at 2 p. m. May 15.

The success of the hospital cart has warranted the purchase of two late books—"Boon Island" by Kenneth Roberts, an adventure story for the men, and "Glamour" by Lily Dache, a book bound to interest the gals.

Of course, we realize when you are in the hospital you feel about as adventuresome as a broken down car, and as glamorous as an old rag rug—but nevertheless, as long as being in the hospital is the only chance you'll get to read these days, we're making it as interesting as possible.

Another row book on our cart shelves is "Nectar In a Sieve", a novel of India, which was generously donated by Fran Martin—thanks, Fran.

The group, headed by Margit Hamilton, included Fran Milner, Dorothy McRae, Sarah Rice, Connie Snider and Arlyle Roberts.

Announce Contest To Name Scouts' New Camping Area

A contest to name a camp ground of 219 acres west of Traverse City that was presented to the Seaside Trails Council, Boy Scouts of America, by the late Judge Parin C. Gilbert for use of the Boy Scouts has been announced by the Council officials.

Judge Gilbert, a great advocate of youth activities, left the property which is located on Little Cedar Lake and has a great deal of wooded territory, to the Scouts for their continual use.

The contest is open to all Boy Scouts and Explorers of the Council. The prize will be a free week at Camp Grelick this summer. The Gilbert property is now being used as a tree farm on which some 26,000 trees have been planted in the last four years. An additional 6,000 were planted last week.

Later in the season it is anticipated that a ceremony will be held at the camp to dedicate the name and, following that, a well will be dug so Scout troops may use it as an over-night camping ground.

Further information regarding the contest and the deadline for submitting a name may be obtained from Scout leaders.

Farmers Who Lost Seeding May Get Aid From A. S. C.

The Charlevoix county agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee has been notified of a special ACP practice approved for use in this county.

Under the directive, any county farmer who lost his seeding in 1953, either permanent or rotation seeding, as a result of the severe drought conditions is eligible to receive 100 per cent assistance on the cost of seed and fertilizer and 50 percent of the line where reseeding has to be made on land this year. Seeding is to be made according to recommendations under the special practice No. 23.

Even if the farmer has signed up for seeding practices under the 1956 ACP program, he may call the ASC office in Boyne City or visit the office to see how this new practice will effect him.

Farmers are urged not to delay as the allocation fund for this county is being rapidly spent on conservation practices and the addition of this new program will quickly deplete the funds on hand.

History Repeating, Styles Of Twenties Appeal To Milady

History is repeating itself in midlady's fashions. The straight-line styles of the "roaring twenties" are very much back in the picture today.

Fashion magazines are sporting the straight dress line with almost no waist which is loosely fitting and the hip length boxy jackets. Also reminiscent of the twenties, points out Mrs. Margaret Hearn, Professor of textiles and clothing at Michigan State University, is the idea of the ensemble such as a dress with a "coat" or jacket.

The trend is also making popular the wrap-around coat which in the 1920's was often fastened with one large loop at the hip level. Along with the straight, slim style are the short hair cuts and the posture referred to in the twenties as the debutante slouch. This posture is today seen largely only in the high fashion magazines.

Helmet-looking hats and cloches, which were also popular thirty years ago have been good style for the past couple years, says Mrs. Hearn.

One difference in the two eras is the type of materials used. Today we are very conscious of textures and the vast variety of new fabrics in the twenties, dresses were mostly silk and wool crepe, chiffon, georgette and broadcloth.

Why this trend back to the styles of 30 years ago? Mrs. Hearn explains that this trend is really quite unusual. Most fashions have gone in cycles, she points out; that is, until the late 1930's. Then, fashions were dictated by war. But, it is not time for styles to go back to the twenties. She tells that designers have been trying for about 10 years to get this straight line back in fashion. But why it has caught on so universally right now really cannot be explained.

Limited quantities of virus-free plants of Robinson, Catskill and Marshall strawberries will be available from Michigan nurseries in 1957.

Award Presented 4-H Members At Annual Achievement Day

More than 300 boys and girls from throughout the county made their annual achievement displays at the annual Charlevoix county symposium.

Six hundred persons attended the formal program Friday evening which climaxed the all-day event during which all exhibits, which ran from dresses to crafts, were judged and ribboned. Judges were Mrs. William Walker of Albion, Mrs. Minnie Hall of Kalkaska, and Ben Porter, Kalkaska county agent.

Highlights of the evening program was a dress revue in which 136 girls modeled their garments before a beautiful background depicting the grand opening of a milk dairy bar. Serving treats to the style revue delegates were William Parsons and Clayton Healey of East Jordan. Mrs. Emma Reinhold was the commentator. She was assisted by Mrs. Albert Smith, Mrs. Ole Nielsen and Mrs. Albert Elliott.

Miss Molly Vasold of Michigan State University assisted by local leaders selected an honor roll of nine girls. From these Nancy Erber of Boyne City was named as the winner and will model her suit in the state dress revue at Club Week at Michigan State University July 10. Other members of the honor roll are Lois Sowers and Judy Gerrie of Boyne City; Katherine Boss, Marilyn Richardson, Janice Statman and Ruth Ann Smith of Charlevoix.

A trio of clothing members, Marilou VerWys, Ruth Ann and Carla Riley sang "Water Wonderland" and "The Rubel." Ed Rehnman Charlevoix county agricultural agent welcomed the crowd. K. C. Festerling, district 4-H club agent, presented the boy's honor roll and Mrs. Reinhold presented the girls' honor roll.

It's as simple as this:

Only two cars in all creation outsell Buick. And they are two of the well-known smaller cars.

Well, one answer is the beautiful and brawny Buick Special you see pictured here — and the low price it carries.

It's the biggest bundle of high-powered performance and high-fashion luxury ever offered in Buick's lowest-priced Series.

And that means more people want it and can afford it, because it's priced only a few dollars more than its two smaller-car rivals—even less than some models of those very same cars.

But the big answer comes from a sure fact more folks have discovered: you get more pure automobile for your money in Buick than you get elsewhere.

Here, you get the extra wallop of big new Buick power

Archer - Drost Marriage Vows Are Spoken In Double Ring Ceremony

Baskets of white gladioli and pink daisies and lighted taper in candelabra graced the altar of the First Presbyterian church in the wedding of Margaret H. Archer and Eugene Drost.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Archer Sr. of East Jordan. Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Drost are the parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. Edward O. DeHaven officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Claire Brown sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the organ by Fred DeHaven who also played the traditional wedding marches.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a waltz length gown of white net over satin for her wedding. It was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice, half sleeves and a bouffant skirt of tiered net. A Juliet cap embroidered with seed pearls secured her fingertip veil and she carried a white bible topped with a white orchid.

Naomi Drost of Charlevoix, sister of the bridegroom, was her only attendant. She wore a waltz length gown of powder blue crystal styled with a round neckline and full skirt and a matching Juliet cap. Her bouquet was of freenied pink carnations.

Bruce Stevens of Grand Rapids assisted the bridegroom as best man. Frank F. Archer, brother of the bride, and James Mori of Charlevoix were ushers.

Mrs. Archer chose a navy dress and white accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Drost, mother of the bridegroom, wore a light blue suit dress and white accessories. Both mothers had corsages of white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Porter were master and mistress of ceremonies.

Immediately following the service, a reception was given at the church parlors. The bride's table was centered with a tiered wedding cake and decorated with arrangements of spring flowers.

After a wedding trip to Muskegon, the couple will make their home at 1718 Detroit ave. in Flint. For traveling the bride wore a brown suit and white accessories complimented with a white orchid.

Wedding guests were present from Charlevoix, Mancelona, Grand Rapids, Muskegon, Mt. Rose, Boyne City, Walloon Lake and Petoskey.

Mrs. Frank Oleksy Hostess At Shower

Mrs. Frank Oleksy entertained at a stork shower recently honoring Mrs. Nicholas Hamilton.

Eighteen guests gathered for games, cards and a social hour followed by refreshments. The honoree was presented with a variety of gifts displayed in a decorated baby basket.

Henry Polderdyk and Carl Engels visited here with Mr. and Mrs. Leo Allard enroute from Beaver Island to their homes in Grand Rapids.

Annual J-Hop To Be Presented On Saturday Night

A golden moon rising over the Miami skyline with palm trees in the foreground will provide the setting for the annual J-Hop to be presented at the Charlevoix high school gymnasium Saturday night.

The members of the 1956 graduating class and their guests will be the guests of honor at the formal dance which is one of the highlights of the spring social season.

Dancing will be from 9 p. m. until midnight to the music of the Johnny Kay Trio.

Joyce Nielsen, president of the Junior class and her guest, Norman Helms, will lead the grand march. Also joining in this march will be the junior class officers, Terry Davis and his guest, Judy Cunningham, Carol Duerr and her guest, James Hootman and Daniel Farmer and his date, Janice Cunningham.

Chaperones at the party will be Mr. and Mrs. Max Novak, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. John Schroeder, Mr. and Mrs. Fay Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gerolt and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nielsen.

Bids to the J-Hop may be obtained by calling the high school. An invitation is extended to all alumni of the high school and parents of students to attend the dance.

Mother, Daughter Banquet Held At Friendship Hall

Miniature May baskets marked each of the 150 places set at banquet tables for the annual Mother and Daughter banquet held Thursday evening at Friendship hall under the sponsorship of the Women's Fellowship of the Congregational church.

Arrangements of spring flowers decorated the tables for the event at which Mrs. Jeff Novotny was toastmistress.

Mrs. Carl F. Kohler gave the toast to the daughters; her daughter, Mrs. Robert Lieberman responded with a toast to the mothers and little Kristin Lieberman added a toast to grandmothers.

A very amusing "Table Top" skit was presented by Mrs. Harry Stewart, Mrs. Ted Bergmann, Nancy Juilleret and Lois Bergmann with Ellen Miller in charge of properties. A trio composed of Cythia Curits, Carol Belfy and Eileen Arnold sang two selections. The program was concluded with group singing led by Mrs. E. D. Hawley with Mrs. Leonard Burns at the piano.

Houck-Bunnell Vows Spoken In Quiet Ceremony

Mrs. Eunice Houck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Scott, and Carlton D. Bunnell of Boyne City exchanged their marriage vows in a quiet ceremony solemnized at the First Congregational church Saturday afternoon.

The Rev. Harold E. Kohn officiated at the service in the presence of their immediate families.

For her wedding the bride selected a steel blue satin afternoon dress, powder blue accessories and a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Robert E. Goss, cousin of the bride and her only attendant, wore a grey print dress, black accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations.

Mr. Goss assisted the bridegroom as best man. Mrs. Scott chose a brown silk jersey dress, brown and white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the Goss home. After a brief wedding trip the couple will make their home at 1465 Lake Shore Drive in Boyne City.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Link Thomson of Lansing.

The LOW COST of PRICELESS MEDICINE

Many illnesses which formerly required extended periods of convalescence and long absence from work, with resulting loss of income, now yield quickly to treatment with the miracle drugs of modern medicine. Measured in terms of faster relief from pain... quicker recovery from illness... and a speedier return to work—the benefits of prescribed medicine are indeed priceless—the cost is indeed low. And when you have your prescription filled here, you pay only for the cost of the ingredients plus a nominal fee for professional service.

BIG-CAR RIDE? Don't think you have to pay a big-car price to get it. Come in and...

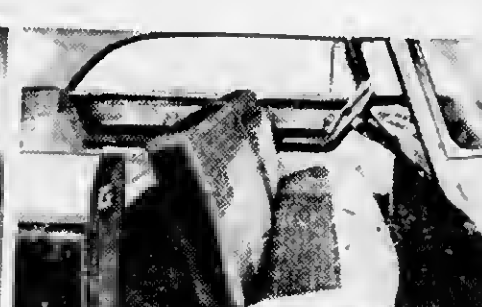

DISCOVER THE DIFFERENCE IN DODGE!

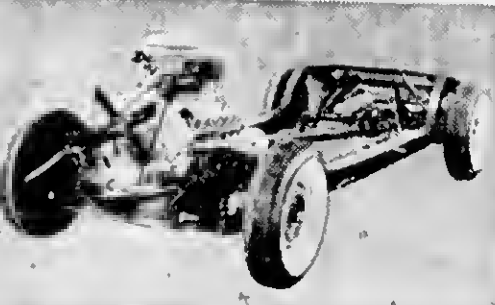

A smoother ride with Oriflow! Dodge fluid-activated shock absorbers give more precise control than spring-loaded valves in other cars.

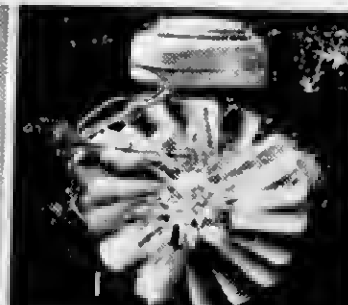

It took "big-car" ride to go 31,000 miles in 14 days! No car that just talked "big" could have withstood the tremendous punishment Dodge did at Bonneville. Dodge went 14 days and nights (31,000 miles) at an average speed of 92.36 mph without a single breakdown!

Only a big car can give you big-car ride! And Dodge is bigger all around—inside and out. More legroom front and rear. More hiproom front and rear. More steering wheel clearance.

The backbone of the Dodge ride is a better chassis! It starts with a rugged frame with sturdy box-section side rail construction far superior to common U-channel and I-beam types. Cross members are extra heavy.

The V-8 engine is special, too! The 260-hp. V-8 engine is built on advanced aircraft-design principles to give you real break-away power.

Kroger Store To Hold Official Opening This Tuesday Morning

At 9 a. m. Tuesday Mayor James Miller will cut the ribbon at the door of the new Kroger Co. building and hand the key to the store manager, Max Moore to mark the opening of the supermarket located midway between Bridge and State sts. on West Hurlbut.

Wayne A. Smith of Petoskey, owner of the building, will participate in the ceremony by giving the keys to the structure to Mayor Miller. This simple ceremony will officially open one of the most modern supermarkets in the north.

Constructed of concrete, steel and brick, the one-story building is 60x115 ft. with the majority of the floor space utilized in the merchandising department with a comparatively small space used for storage.

With the exception of windows near the main entrance the entire wall space is used for shelf or refrigeration space with 10-inch letters marking the various departments. Wide aisles separate other shelves on which merchandise is attractively displayed.

The cool green walls are broken only by a wallpaper depicting a colorful farm scene at the back of the store over the meat department. Fluorescent lights hug the block ceiling and the floor is covered with black asphalt tile.

In the summer the building will be air-conditioned and in the colder weather it will be heated by a gas furnace.

The store will feature many innovations including the new display of produce, dairy products and pre-packaged meats. The meat department will continue to be in charge of Don Sonborn who has been in the local store for three months.

There will be three conveyor check lanes in charge of head checker, Mrs. Eileen Ernst, vegetable checker.

Other innovations are the "magic eye" doors which open automatically when the customer steps on either of the mats inside the two main doors.

Other department heads in the new store will be James Luginbuhl, produce; James Gibbons of Petoskey who has joined the staff here for the first time, who will be in charge of groceries and Mrs. Edward Swanson, dairy clerk.

Regular clerks are Robert Oudekirk, Mrs. Audrey Heise, Bonnie Lureley and Mrs. Calvin Metz.

Coast Guard To Hold Open House Saturday

The Charlevoix Lifeboat Station, located on Lake Michigan near the mouth of Pine River, will hold open house Saturday afternoon in observance of Armed Forces Day.

The Coast Guard facility will be open to the public from 1 to 5 p. m. so visitors may tour the premises.

Robert E. Ashley, BMC, who is in charge of the station has issued an invitation to the public to visit the station during the afternoon. Coast Guardsmen will be on hand to conduct tours and answer questions.

The Charlevoix Lifeboat station is one of 43 in the Great Lakes area which during 1955 alone saved property valued at three times the cost of operating the Coast Guard on the Great Lakes.

In doing this the Coast Guard utilized approximately 2,000 men who man the 43 lifeboat stations, 16 ships, 74 lighthouses and one air base station.

During 1955 the Coast Guard in the Great Lakes area assisted in over 3,000 instances which saved or rescued 931 persons from danger. Property saved alone, accounted for slightly more than 36 millions dollars or three times the operating costs of the Coast Guard on the lakes for the year.

During the open house at the local lifeboat station Saturday, the public will have an opportunity to see this branch of the service in action and to view the equipment with which they accomplish their mission of saving lives and protecting property.

Bingham, high school principal, were conducted through the diesel plant on Ferry ave., where they were shown two diesel engines that generate power, the switch board which records the amount generated, the base and foundation for the new 1136 kw diesel which will be installed shortly, the transformers for the 22 kv line from Bellaire, the new engine and its generator, fuel oil storage tanks. Mr. Hill, Edward Swanson, plant superintendent and John Geer conducted the tour.

At the sewage disposal plant they were shown the operation of this utility by J. C. Marshall, plant manager.

At the water pumping station on Lake Michigan they saw the three pumps which pump 400 gal., 650 gal., and 1200 gal. per minute respectively to supply the city with water. They also saw the photo-electric eye which automatically controlled street lights.

At the sewage disposal plant they were shown the operation of this utility by J. C. Marshall, plant manager.

Evening College Program To Be Continued In Petoskey Next Year

The evening college program, a joint project of the Petoskey board of education and Central Michigan college, will be continued next year. H. C. Spittler, superintendent of the Petoskey public schools, has announced.

A meeting for all persons interested in attending college classes who are unable to attend college on campus will be held at the Petoskey high school at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

A. D. Shankland, director of the program, said that 30 courses will be available next year and the meeting called for Monday is to decide which of these classes will be offered. "Therefore it is important that every person interested in enrolling in these courses should be present."

"It will not be necessary to make definite commitments at this time," he added, "But students should be prepared to indicate what classes they would like to take if they enroll in the fall."

High school students graduating this year whose college plans are not definite are urged to attend this meeting along with parents and other interested persons.

A representative of Central Michigan college will be present to counsel students and conduct the meeting.

There are a few scholarships available to needy students for this program. Applications for the scholarships should be made to Mr. Shankland at the Petoskey high school.

The program was initiated in Sept. 1955 and proved to be highly popular with the residents of the area. Two classes were conducted each semester during the school year and students are anxious to continue the program. The classes were taught by regular college instructors and the students came from every community in Emmet and Antrim counties and from as far away as Cheboygan.

The Camporee will open Friday afternoon with each patrol setting up camp, preparing his own meals and participating in a number of special events during the three-day period.

A Scoutcraft survival demonstration will open the activities at 9 p. m. Saturday followed by a parade through the Mancelona business district at 2 p. m. Saturday and pageant around the campfire Saturday evening.

On Sunday morning the Boys will attend church services of their choice. The afternoon will be devoted to Scout games and contests.

The camporee will break up between 3 and 4 p. m.

Charlevoix Club To Meet Saturday Night In Detroit

The Charlevoix Club of Detroit will hold its annual get-together at room 701 of the Downtown Y. W. C. A. from 7:30 p. m. to midnight Saturday, Clayton Saunders, president of the organization has announced.

The party is for anyone who has lived in Charlevoix and who would like an opportunity to renew acquaintances with former local residents.

An entertaining program including square dancing has been planned and refreshments will be served.

High School Music Department To Present Concert Wednesday

The Charlevoix high school music department, under the direction of C. A. Odmark, will present its annual Spring concert at the high school auditorium at 8 p. m. next Wednesday.

A total of 169 students make up the four different groups who will be making their final concert appearance of the current school year in the complimentary concert to which the public is invited. Children, however, must be accompanied by an adult.

The group featured in the program will be the 26-piece seventh grade band, the 37-piece variety or Reserve band, the 50-voice high school girls' glee club and the 50-piece senior band.

Each participating group will perform several numbers to demonstrate its work for the year but the program is planned to last no more than 90 minutes.

The girls' glee club, accompanied by Mrs. Leonard W. Burns will open the concert singing such selections as "Deep in My Heart," "My Reverie," "This Is My Country," and others. This will be the glee club's first appearance since participating in the Northern Area State Vocal Festival at Grayling May 5.

The seventh grade band will perform several short selections displaying their progress from a beginning band last year. This band will be promoted into the Reserve band next fall.

The Varsity band, consisting of eighth and ninth grade students, will play a group of marches and Leroy Anderson's "Syncopated Clock." This band, while a training organization for the Senior band, has performed at several events this year and is a performing group in its own right. Nineteen of its members will become Senior band members next fall.

The Senior band, winner of a first division rating in both district and state festivals this spring will close the concert with several selections guaranteed to please everyone, according to Mr. Odmark. Marches, a sea chanty number, novelties and the concert march, "The World is waiting for the Sunrise" will conclude the final formal concert of the school year.

Mrs. Glenn Ingalls heads the host Temple.

More than 85 members and delegates are expected for the one-day meeting which will be held at the Knights of Pythias hall. The noon luncheon will be served at Harmony hall of the Methodist church.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

This is the season of the year when everything is happening—Tomorrow night it's the ninth grade dress revue—Sunday night it's the baccalaureate for the class of '56 which also boasts 56 members—Tuesday the conference track meet, Wednesday the music department Spring Concert—Then we jump to Sunday when the seniors will take off on their trip—a cruise aboard the South American from Detroit to Chicago and home by bus—May 30 is Memorial Day. Thursday there's graduation—and on June 1 school is out—And if you aren't all tired out just reading this, you're a brave soul—

Oh yes, one thing we forgot—next Monday is Mayor's Exchange day and we'll be entertaining officials from the community of Camden in southern Michigan—We know that our city officials will roll out the red carpet and treat them royally while they're here—We just hope they'll like our city and think it's as beautiful as we do although at the moment, it's not at its best—after all, it hasn't acquired its spring finery yet—seeing as how we haven't had any cooperation from the weather man—But if our weather of the last few days holds out, maybe we'll have a few leaves and blossoms to pretty up the place—

And speaking of weather, it sure got warm in a hurry—gee, the kids were running around in short sleeves complaining of the heat, everyone, it seems, had a case of spring fever and just wanted to stop and enjoy the sun and the warmth—after all, we've been without this kind of stuff for some six months—And then came the rains—which are needed badly and then Saturday night the tornado warnings—We sure hope they don't get this far north—But with hot and cold air currents colliding at break-neck speed they're apt to happen just about any place—We'll take a pair of old wind storm any day to tornado which has no rhyme or reason to it.

The local committee that's been planning the reunion of the classes of 1914 through '18 who graduated from good old CHS are still banging their heads on stone walls, trying to get the deal organized for June 2.—If you were a member of those classes and are truly interested in having a get-together, please please, get in touch with Mrs. Earl Shapton or Mrs. Lesslie Everts.

And if you're interested in reunions, how's about turning out for the Charlevoix-Detroit party scheduled for this Saturday at the Downtown Y. W. C. A.—We haven't had any info on it but we assume it will start at 8 p. m. as usual—Everyone has such a good time, according to reports, that we're sure you will too if you—All you need is an interest

In Charlevoix to attend—

Mrs. Amos O'Neill has shared with us one of the first books of publicity on Charlevoix that we've ever seen—It's like a regular little book, full of pictures of Charlevoix in the early days—and as early as that was publishing Charlevoix as a summer resort—It's full of pictures of the harbor lined with old sailing vessels, their sails flapping in the wind—She's lucky to have it for there are few of them remaining—

Mother's Day brought lots of wonderful things to lots of mothers from their loved ones—maybe it was a corsage or a gift of flowers—But we know that no matter how great or small the remembrance it was appreciated—Mrs. Bertha Sanford boasts a corsage of lovely orchids which probably came the greatest distance—they were airmailed from Hawaii—sent by her grandson, Ray who is enroute to Japan—

Got an education the other day—We made the rounds of the city utilities with the senior class—The City Supt. Hal Hill hosted the entire group which was accompanied by Harry Bingham. We're willing to bet that everyone of us will have a far better understanding of how our city operates and what makes it tick than we ever had before—We saw how the current is generated on the big diesels, how it's sent out through the lines, how the amount being generated is recorded—We saw the base that will be home to the big new diesel and we saw the big engine itself—And then to the sewage disposal plant where J. C. Marshall gave us a quick trip through the plant before we traipsed off to the water works on Lake Michigan—There we saw the pumps that give us our city water; and the little machine which pumps in the flourine to make our teeth strong—Oh yes, and don't forget the 'magic eye' which turns on our street lights when it gets so dark—An old wall telephone that you ring yourself was found on the wall there and everyone had to have a turn at ringing it—Gee, those kids are young—it seemed only yesterday that those were the kind of telephones everyone had—Anyway, thanks to Hal, we had ourselves a grand time—But we'd hate to have to keep up with that crew all the time—

Congratulations to our track team—Our Rayders came in with a second at Traverse City Saturday where the afternoon events were run off in the rain—And now Coach Irish Coleman and seven of his lads will take off for Ann Arbor this weekend for the State Class C meet—We sure wish 'em lots of luck—

And the next Tuesday the whole team will travel to Grayling to participate in the conference meet—The Rayders are the defending champions, a position they've held for all but one year since the league was started way back when—So you guys better be on the ball 'cause there's going to be lots of good competition and everyone's out for your scalp—

at the track during the past week and we're convinced of one thing—Track is a labor of love—It's an individual accomplishment—either you stay with it, practice 'til you drop and then go back for more or you haven't got a chance—We have a great deal of respect for trackmen for in that sport you haven't got a team to give you a boost when the going is tough—You do it alone and there's no substitute for you—To us it is the sport that prepares you for all others—And we can't understand why more people aren't interested in it—

French-Hilton Marriage Vows Are Spoken In Single Ring Ceremony

The Pilgrim Holiness church in Ellsworth was the scene of the recent wedding of Phyllis A. French and Bobby Hilton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George French and Mr. and Mrs. Myron Hilton are the parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. W. L. Silvers officiated at the single ring service in the presence of their immediate families and a few close friends. The pianist, Miss Golda Mae Sherk, played a program of traditional music and the wedding marches. Baskets of pink and white gladioli and mums decorated the altar for the occasion.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a ballerina length gown of white embroidered nylon for her wedding. It was styled with a fitted bodice which buttoned to the waist with self-covered buttons, a Peter Pan collar, cap sleeves and a bouffant skirt. A short veil was secured by a floral headdress trimmed with rhinestones. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and red roses.

Beverly Kelley, as her only attendant, wore a gown of pink embroidered nylon similar to the bride's, a matching white head-dress and short veil and carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

Clare Gibelyou assisted the bridegroom as best man.

Mrs. French chose a navy dress with white accents and white accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Hilton, mother of the groom, wore a beige suit and white accessories. Both mothers had corsages of red roses.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception for relatives and friends was held at the home of the bride's parents. The refreshment table was centered with a tiered wedding cake flanked by lighted tapers.

After a wedding trip to southern Michigan, the couple has returned here to make their home.

Venetian Night Will Be Held On Last July Sunday

The annual Venetian Night boat parade will again be held the last Sunday in July. It was decided recently following a meeting called by Clare Staley, chairman of the Recreation and Resort Development Committee of the City Council.

Earlier representatives of the Charlevoix Ministerial Association had appeared before the council with a request that the parade be staged on a weekday night rather than on Sunday.

Because the event has already been advertised for July 29 and because the appropriation had already been made, the committee and the board of commerce decided to continue with the plans.

Attending the special meeting at the City Hall were representatives of the board of commerce and the ministerial association as well as Mr. Staley's committee.

Joe Louis To Be Featured In Match At Traverse City

Joe Louis, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, will be featured in a wrestling match at St. Francis gymnasium in Traverse City at 8:30 p. m. Saturday, May 25.

Also on the card will be two other matches including the famous "Buddy" Rogers.

Louis will come to Traverse City directly from the Olympia in Detroit. The Brown Bomber of the boxing ring is now making a name for himself in the wrestling ring.

The card on which Joe Louis is featured is one of the finest promoted by the St. Francis Athletic Association and a full house is expected for the event. Reserved seats are now on sale.

The Charlevoix Rayders captured their nineteenth Northern Michigan Class C track and field title in 20 years by racking up 67 points in the conference meet at Grayling to successfully defend the title they have lost only once in the 20-year history of the event.

Boys City finished in second with 52 points followed by Grayling with 36½; Pellston with 18; Mancelona, nine; Harbor Springs, five; Gaylord, four and East Jordan, 3½. In winning the meet, the Rayders collected only three of 13 first places but came through to make up in quantity for what the team lacked in top winners to tally the needed points.

Supt. Bennett Lists Problems Of Tax Millage

What will happen to the Charlevoix public schools if the school district does not receive the nine mills it has asked from the Charlevoix county tax allocation board?

Supt. R. G. Bennett, speaking for the Charlevoix board of education, said that a number of cut-backs would be necessary if the school was to operate on the seven mills tentatively allocated to the system.

Following a meeting of the board of education Monday night, Mr. Bennett said that the board had a choice of doing any one or a combination of the following things in order to curtail expenses:

1. Reduce the teaching staff by four including two in the high school and two in the elementary school.
2. Increase the size of classes.
3. Close the public library which is now financed by the school.
4. Eliminate or reduce the physical education program.
5. Not replace furniture which is worn out.
6. Cut teaching supplies which are already at a minimum.
7. Eliminate the ice skating rink, the cost of which the school shares with the city.
8. Close the schools to all outside activities.

Mr. Bennett said that in addition to meeting current needs the board is faced with the problem of paying off a deficit acquired three years ago when it was necessary to purchase a new heating plant at a cost of more than $25,000.00.

Only other alternative, he added, would be to vote an additional two mills for the school at a special election.

Last year the Charlevoix school district attempted eight mills on the district's state equalized valuation.

Tax Allocation Board To Hold Final Hearing

A final hearing on the 1955 allocation of tax millage will be held at the courthouse at 9:30 a. m. Monday, Miss Lillis M. Flanders, chairman of the Charlevoix county allocation board has announced.

This will be the last opportunity for representatives of the units involved to present their requests.

The final tax rate will be set before the meeting is adjourned.

The tentative rates set at an earlier meeting allocated 6.5 mills to the county for operational expenses; one mill to the court-house sinking fund; one-half mill to all townships with the exception of Hayes whose budget did not require the allocation and seven mills to all school districts with the exception of Bay Shore No. 5 (fractional) and Murray No. 1 who were allocated 7½; Ironton No. 4 whose budget showed a need for only 6¼ and Union No. 3 which does not operate a school and which was given only five mills.

The schools must now receive 6.5 mills in order to be eligible for state aid.

All millage allocated was based on the 1956 state equalized valuation figure of $30,754,700. The new figure released last week by the State Tax Commission is an increase of 154,700 over the 1955 state valuation of $30,600,000.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

Memorial Day, 1956—In Charlevoix it will be like Memorial Days gone by—There'll be the annual parade, a brief stop at Memorial Park and then on to the cemetery where everyone will listen to an address—there'll be the Gettysburg Address, a salute and taps—all in memory of those servicemen who have given their lives in the defense of our country—Through the years there have been many wars—some of them only date to some of us—Some have left scars that will never be erased—Memorial Day should prove to everyone what a great country we have—that these men should leave their homes and go across the seas to protect it—When you look about our cemeteries next Wednesday and see the tiny flags fluttering over the graves of the veterans be grateful for such brave souls—and the millions of men in our armed forces today who stand ready to protect you again—And be grateful, too, that there is peace of a sort in the world today—Instead of the world-wide rumble of heavy artillery, we hear only a single sharp rifle shot now and then in scattered spots.

We've heard of many mean people in our day but this guy heads the list—He's the meanie who went to all the trouble of taking down a big martin house on the Belvedere club, covering it with a poisonous paste and shaking a poisonous powder in each of the little apartments and then trying to put the house back on its post—Luckily he was unsuccessful in this and his atrocious crime was discovered before any birds were poisoned—It was taken to our good friend, Roy

Ranger, who with a great deal of assistance, took the house apart, cleaned it thoroughly and re-assembled it preparatory to returning it to its post—The little birds never hurt anyone and certainly the little martins repay any kindness to them by hours of good entertainment during the summer months—We think this fellow should see a doctor but fast—he's walking around without a heart—

You've all been seeing the damage done to both the Wisconsin and the Eaton in their recent collision while on maneuvers—A certain guy from Charlevoix had, not long ago made the remark that nothing ever happens aboard the big battleship—He found out differently when the "Wisky" was stopped cold when a gouge out of her bow as the "giant" had taken a bite—and her plated, broken back to the numbers on her proud bow—Dave Glassford has just gone off watch when the accident happened—and he's ready to withdraw his former statement—And the poor little Eaton—She'll never be the same—

Hailstones as big as golf balls—You don't believe it?—Ask Frank Novotny Jr. and he's prepared to show you the dents in the top of his car made by the flying missiles during the storm in the Ithaca area last weekend—He and his two sisters, Lili and Mrs. Gerald Hardy were en route to Ann Arbor to see their dad when they got caught in the tornado belt—Luckily, they missed the tornadoes, but they were pelted by the hailstones and were forced to stop until the worst of the storm passed—

During the next week we'll be seeing and hearing a lot about the class of 1956—made up of some 56 youngsters who will be graduating come next Thursday—They're quite a crew, to say the least—Many have gained renown for themselves on the athletic fields and floor—in various activities at school or in the classroom—Many are real students—with practically all 'A' averages and more were these who were glad of a passing mark—But this we know, in some way or other everyone of the '56 has left his and her mark in good ole C. H. S.—perhaps it's on a desk, in the hearts of the teachers and fellow students, maybe it's just someone glad he's leaving—but a mark, nevertheless—But all kiddin' aside—we'll miss you all—come next fall, and wish you were around—but in our hearts we'll wish you all kinds of success in your chosen fields—May you always know every happiness—

In during the next week—while on your trip and in the few days remaining—fill up the files with memories—In other words, have yourselves a ball—Even tho' you don't realize it yet, you're living some of the best days of your lives—Make them good ones—the kind that you can haul out and show with pride in the years to come—

Homemaking Students Present '56 Revue 'Turning Fashion's Pages'

With a large, opened fashion magazine as a setting, the freshmen homemaking students presented their annual style revue "Turning Fashion's Pages" at the Charlevoix high school auditorium Friday evening.

One page of the giant-size magazine carried the names of the 35 models surrounded by clever drawings of accessories used in the class, including a spool of thread, a pattern, scissors and others. The other pages featured an oval-shaped opening through which the models stepped as the spotlight picked them up, modelled their garments on the stage and then walked the length of the auditorium, in the glow of the spotlight, so everyone in the large audience could see the dresses made in the homemaking class. Arrangements of forsythia added to the attractiveness of the scene.

All garments were made of cotton fabrics in a variety of colors and companion fabrics and featured both the pencil skirt and the bouffant skirts worn with crinolines or hoops.

A skit featuring Janice Stutzman and Kaye Ward as high school freshmen and JoAnn Geer as Jane's mother opened the style revue. The setting was in Jane's home.

Cynthia Curtis was commentator for the revue. Incidental music was played by a Senior high school band group directed by C. A. Osmark.

The show was presented under the direction of Mrs. Louis O'Neill, homemaking teacher, who was presented with a corsage of roses and white carnations by the class.

The staging committee was composed of Carol Belfy, Eileen Arnold and Carolyn Kohn. The Manual Arts Department assisted in the construction of the stage setting.

Women's Guild Plans Events To Raise Funds

Tentative plans for two fundraising events, a bake sale and a luncheon and style show, early in July, were made at the May meeting of the Women's Guild of the Charlevoix hospital held recently.

The Guild is also selling vacuum-packed cans of candy to raise funds for the Guild, which purchases equipment for the hospital. The candy may be purchased from Guild members.

Mrs. Don Gilbert of the sewing committee reported that most of the layettes are completed and ready to be packed. The layettes are given to indigent families on the recommendation of the attending physician.

The library cart is now operated three days a week supplying reading material for the patients and also small items for their convenience. Mrs. Gordon Freedman, chairman of the library committee reported.

On Friday the hospital committee headed by Mrs. G. B. Saltenshall, and assisted by Mrs. L. E. Grate, Mrs. Isaac Torr and Mrs. James Gallagher presented a tea in cooperation with the Charlevoix hospital in observance of National Hospital week.

May 15 was the deadline for applications for a nursing scholarship the Guild is offering to a girl in the area served by the hospital. The scholarship committee reported that application blanks have been distributed and that some have been returned.

Charlevoix Telephone Lines

LES JOHNSON
 Michigan Bell Manager

WE CERTAINLY get a kick out of teen-agers. It's a fascinating time of life for them and for parents, too. Take the matter of telephone conversations. Is anything more earnest, more confidential, more important? That's probably why telephones right in teen-agers' rooms have proved so popular. The youngster is able to speak in relaxed privacy. And the rest of the family isn't distracted from what it's doing. An extension phone in your teen-ager's room will cost about $10 a month. And by the way, they make very welcome graduation gifts.

EVER BEEN CAUGHT

when you wanted to make a phone call but couldn't because all the places with public phones were closed for the night? You'll usually find the answer now in new outdoor phone booths, lighted and open 24 hours a day, every day of the year. You'll find them handy wherever you are. About 2,800 of them are now located in Michigan towns and on main highways, and many more are on the way to make a telephone available for you—any time—in the most convenient places.

WHAT DO YOU DO with the workshop tools that get badly damaged or worn? Toss them in the trash can? Here at the telephone company we send work-worn tools to the Detroit repair shops of Western Electric, manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System. They are returned to our telephone installers, repairmen and construction people as good as new. Is this better than buying new tools? You bet. Tool repairs save us thousands of dollars a year. That's the kind of economy that helps keep down the cost of telephone service.

Rural Mail Box Improvement Week Is Being Observed Here

The 18th annual Rural Mail Box Improvement week is being observed this week.

In making the announcement Postmaster Peter H. Timmer added "It's spring and the time of year we paint our house, plant our flowers and fix up our lawns so please don't neglect your Rural Mail Box".

The post office department has asked rural carriers and rural patrons to cooperate in having rural mail boxes erected according to regulations and made attractive by painting and other improvements.

Mail boxes should be properly supported with strong posts and should be easily accessible to the carrier.

days recently with the Robert Myers family.

Louis Baker of Alanson and Mrs. Mary Bader of Petoskey were Sunday callers at the N. D. McDonald home.

carrier with the name of the owner inscribed in black letters on the side visible to the carrier as he approaches the box. The boxes may be painted either white or silver.

Where neighbors live close together, the boxes should be grouped, preferably a shelf-like board attached atop two or more strong posts, 3 1/2 to four feet above the ground. Mail boxes should be erected on the right side of the road as traveled by the carrier.

In urging all patrons to cooperate in improving their mail boxes, Mr. Timmer said "Patrons who go to their boxes every day fail to see how shabby and unkempt they look. It would take only a little effort on the part of the patrons to make the boxes on Charlevoix's rural routes the most attractive in the north."

During the week, Mr. Timmer plans to make route inspection.

Reflected Glory

These spring nights, while the chill air throbs with calls of migrating birds, I have been watching the moon shine over Lake Charlevoix. Hanging low in the sky, this near neighbor to our earth seems for a time to be impaled upon a tall, lonely pine. Then it pulls free and rises in the wide freedom of the sky, silhouetting a flight of birds bound northward toward summer nesting grounds. A silent silver rain of moonlight ripples the lake's broad expanse, giving waves a monster look than is their wont.

This ball of gentle light climbing about the night sky, honored by poets and theme of love songs, is neither so big nor so inebriated as it appears to be. Although the full moon, because of its nearness to us, appears to be as large as the sun, actually it would take about four hundred moons, side by side, to make a heavenly body the diameter of the sun. We would not notice the moon at all if the light of the sun did not strike it, because, say the astronomers, the moon has no light of its own, but simply reflects the radiance of the hidden sun.

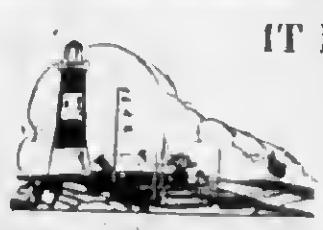

People who feel inferior, who have no genius and who generate no inner light of their own, often despair of being of any account in the world. But even those who have the least inner splendor can give to the world such a light as the moon offers, a reflected glory. Not everyone can be great, but we all know of some shining person whose life has illuminated his time. Through biography we can bask in his courage and faith, sense the glow of his integrity, allow our dark minds to be illumined by his thoughts, and catch the blaze of his brightness of heart. Having caught another's effulgence, we can mirror it as the moon does the sun.

Christlikeness does not mean duplicating Christ's life. It consists rather in exposing heart and mind to Him and then reflecting His splendid spirit upon the world. Godliness is the gentle light a person lets fall upon his time after first receiving it from fellowship with the Eternal.

We are not suns, but moons. We cannot generate goodness, but all can send forth a reflected glory.

Many Attend USCG Open House Here

More than 225 residents of northern Michigan visited the Charlevoix Lifeguard station which was opened to the public Saturday in observance of Armed Forces Day.

Robert E. Ashley, BMC, officer in charge of the station said that many Charlevoix residents as well as people from other communities in the area toured the station under the guidance of Coast Guardsmen stationed at the local facility.

The Lifeguard station here is one of several included in U. S. Coast Guard Group Charlevoix under the command of Joseph E. Rine.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Doc Nurses a Daydream

It's a treat when I get to... Doc with Doc Sherman. The Charlevoix keeps me much too busy—and Doc, well I think he puts in sixteen hours a day at the hospital.

But Tuesday—a beautiful day—he and I slipped away for a ride around Turtle Lake. Doc's driving a 1956 humdinger—it's like riding on a cloud.

Anyway, at one point Doc slowed almost to a halt. "Used to fish there as a boy, Joe," he said. "Used to sit and imagine myself up on the highway driving a high-powered car. Nowadays, I just sit here and wish I were down there again."

From where I sit, few of us are ever content with the way things are at any given moment. It's human nature. On the other hand, I've been rooting for years that someday everybody will show enough good American tolerance to respect his neighbor's right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer. When that day comes I assure you that I'll never want to change back.

YOU'RE A MAINLINER!

Whether you live in a tiny village in the northern part of Michigan or on a heavily traveled street in one of our major cities or right out on the farm, you're a mainliner so far as your convenience of living and doing business is concerned.

That's because the highly-developed, fast, flexible trucking industry which serves the concentrated population centers of this great state of ours provides equally thorough and complete service for sparsely-settled, out-of-the-way places.

Yes, trucks provide the only freight transportation which reaches all of Michigan—bringing merchandise and materials to every Wolverine household, farm, and business concern, no matter how far off the beaten path it may be.

Thanks to trucks, you can live or do business anywhere in Michigan you please and still be on the main line!

Hiller was also presented with a key to the city.

Later they gathered at the Methodist church for a dinner followed by a tour of the community.

Among the places they visited was the pride of the community, a new consolidated school located 4½ miles from Camden where more than 740 students are enrolled and a basket factory, the only industry in the community which not only manufactures but imports baskets from all over the world.

Since Camden is only three miles from the Ohio and 2½ miles from the Indiana state lines, they were taken to a spot where all three states join.

Tax Allocation Board Adopts County Rate

The Charlevoix county tax allocation board met Monday at the court house here to adopt the final tax rate for 1956.

The board made only three changes in the tentative rate set earlier by the board. In the final allocation two townships on Beaver Island, St. James and Peaine, were allocated one mill and the Beaver Island school district was given 6 1-4 mills.

Other schools in the county were allocated seven mills or one mill less than the majority of the schools received last year. Exception to this are Murray No. 1 and Bay Shore No. 5 (fractional) both located in Hayes township, which were given 7 1-2 mills each. Ironton No. 4 which was allocated 6 1-2 mills and Undine No. 3 which was given five mills. The latter does not operate a school in its district.

All townships, other than Peaine and St. James, will receive one-half mill with the exception of Hayes township whose budget did not show a need.

The remaining millage was allocated to the county and the courthouse sinking fund with the former receiving 6 1/2 mills for operating expenses and the latter sinking fund one mill.

The millage will be levied on the 1956 rate equalized valuation figure of $30,754,700.

The Charlevoix school district received two mills less than the district requested to meet its budget for next year. In presenting the budget for the Charlevoix district, Supt. R. G. Bennett had said nine mills would be necessary to meet the school's needs. Last year the district was allocated eight mills.

The public affairs committee composed of A. L. Livingston, Ralph V. Hess, Richard Edwards and Barney Englehart was appointed to plan the dedication of the new postoffice building.

Frank Bird reported on the campaign to acquire White Elephants for the sale next fall. Persons who have items they wish to donate to the sale are asked to call Mr. Bird.

Guests at the meeting were the Reverends Lloyd M. Schlopp, O. B. Ansted and George L. Majors and Andy Bloetscher, of Detroit Northwestern club.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

From Luxern a card last week from one of our traveling friends, Dr. Claire Cartier, who with his wife and another couple, has been touring Europe. He wrote that Italy, France and Germany were beautiful but Luxern was the beauty spot of them all. "If I ever retire I'm coming back here and start a motel or just sit. Italy was so loaded with statues we could hardly see the scenery. My neck is still sore from looking up at church domes. Incidentally, they should be returning home shortly."

And from Mrs. Jack (Sue Webster) Starnes the news that she'll soon be moving from Rantoul, Ill., where her husband has been stationed with the Air Force to O'Hara International Airport outside Chicago. She also sends word that they hope to visit Charlevoix early in July and that she'd love a reunion of the class of '49.

Tomorrow's the first of June and it should be bustin' out all over, like in the song. But unless we get some real spring weather sans the cold northwest winds it's going to be summer and we're not going to know it. That is, unless we look at the calendar. The leaves are just now getting a start. A few flowers are out. Let's face it, just ain't spring yet in Charlevoix. It's hard to believe that the next few weeks will find our summer people with us.

In fact, if you didn't know it was still May you might think they were here already. The Bob Newman's are here for the week from Detroit. The Alfred Strussens and the Eugene Westons and several guests of Cincinnati are also here plus the Julius Gilberts of Detroit who have come and gone all spring. The Leonard Lewises and Teddies were here over the weekend from Birmingham and the Dick Lowens of Chicago are here to see their new house being constructed at the end of Michigan ave. It's the sight of these people and others like them who give us hope that summer will eventually come.

Don't know if you were one of those lucky people who found morel mushrooms this spring. George McWatres of Norwood sure was. Allen Pease was in the Courier office the other day with some of the biggest ones we'd seen. One 9-14 inches in diameter and most of the others were nearly as big. Now take us. We never could find mushrooms—much less whoppers like that.

As you no doubt have noticed prospective kindergartners who will be enrolled in school next fall have been visiting school during these past few weeks. Our wonderful kindergarten teacher, Mrs. McRae, does everything to make their visit a pleasant one so they'll want to come back in the fall. One little guy we know visited school, thoroughly enjoyed it and told his mother, when she asked, that it was all very nice. But added "But let's not make a habit of school."—Hmmm

For the first time in local history, Charlevoix has three young men in the Michigan State Police—the latest to be accepted as a "probationer" is Bill Denemy who'll be stationed at Houghton Lake. Earlier Al Fox was assigned to the Cadillac post and Jack Paul to Paw Paw. We should all feel very proud of all three.

We had occasion recently to visit the new St. Mary's school, which is nearing completion—and to say that it is beautiful is putting it mildly. You'll have to see it for yourself later on when it's opened for inspection. The classrooms will make everyone wish he could go back to school—the all-purpose room is lovely with lots of natural light. And the kitchen, well it's something to bring out the best in all the good cooks St. Mary's boasts of. It isn't completed yet but just to give you an idea how nice it is—even the dish-washer will complain when they work in it. Of course it has an office and library plus all the other essentials plus a beautiful corridor with a small shrine where there will be a small statue of Our Lady of Fatima—and under it a planter to be filled with growing things. Wait til you see it—you'll think it's as lovely as we do. And a big thank you to Bill Bradine for acting as guide.

Went to a Civil Defense meeting last week. We were like just about everyone else—Civil Defense was something that was going to be needed by everyone else but surely not Charlevoix. We certainly weren't target for enemy fire—and in those days there wasn't much chance of a natural disaster but that was B. T. before tornadoes—which have come all too close to us for comfort. W. C. Powell, of the Michigan office of Civil Defense who was here for the meeting said that Civil Defense is first, taking care of your own people; secondly, caring for evacuees and last, loaning your trained personnel and equipment to areas in need of assistance. You haven't heard the last of Civil Defense for there's a group, headed by our local director, Hal Hill, which is laying the ground work for the first of these requirements—getting up a plan to take care of the people of the Charlevoix area in the event of a natural disaster. We hope that need will never arise—but Hal and all those working with him to make the initial plans want to make sure that the community is prepared. So, in the coming weeks, when you see something in our paper about Civil Defense, read it—it may apply to you or be instrumental in saving your life.

Charlevoix's Cub Scouts are among the more than 1,000 from 22 communities in the Seonle Trail's Council who are planning to participate in the annual Cub Scout picnic at Camp Grielick for all Cub Scouts packs in northern Michigan.

The Cub Day picnic program, which originated in 1950, is already over-subscribed 100 per cent more than last year, camp officials have announced.

Cub Day begins June 18 and runs through June 23. The picnics begin at 9 a. m. and last until 5 p. m. under the leadership of the individual packs.

Scout Troops Are Given Awards At Camporee Event

Charlevoix's three Boy Scout troops who attended the recent Camporee at Manelona have received awards for Scouting activities while attending the three-day event.

Awards were given for the following categories: patrol and attendance, demonstration, the Tree Dance at the camp fire, parade on Saturday, camp set-up, attendance at religious services, registration, patrol flag display, commissary, organization and administration, sanitation, morale and discipline.

The three patrols of Troop 138, Lobo, Wolf and Owl, received the standard red award; the four patrols of Troop 134, Cobra, Hawk, Flaming Arrow and Beaver, and the two patrols of Troop 11, Eagle, and Wolf, all received the yellow participation award.

Forty-six troop and Explorer units composed of 135 patrols and crews or a total of 943 Scouts and leaders attended the Camporee. The figure was nine more than last year.

Besides being sold by members of the hospital Guild, the vacuum-packed cans of "golden nugget," candies that everyone in town is raving about, are now available at the main nurses station at the hospital. It makes an excellent gift for patients and is being sold like "hotcakes" for this purpose. Try some yourself . . . you'll love it!

Thanks, Lillian Brow and Elsie Bennett for substituting with cart pushing recently.

And don't forget to remember to attend the regular Guild meeting and election of officers to be held Tuesday evening June 12, 8 p. m. at the school . . . we'll be seeing you . . . and wishing all you out-of-town members could be present. We'll be seeing you again too, before long.

Re-Facing Of Crib At White Shoals To Begin In June

The re-facing of the concrete crib at White Shoals Light Station located 40 miles north of here in Northern Lake Michigan will begin about June 1, Joseph Etienne, Ch. Bos'n commanding officer of U. S. C. G. Group Charlevoix, has announced.

The contract for the job has been awarded to the Lee Turzillo Co. of Cleveland. The U.S.C.G. Cutter, Sundew, will furnish transportation for equipment and workmen which will be routed to the light station through Charlevoix.

Work on the job of re-painting the light tower on south Fox Island has been started by A. M. Allard of Charlevoix who has the contract for the work, Mr. Etienne added.

Both facilities are under U.S.C. G. Group Charlevoix.

State Brucellosis Program Includes Varied Methods

Michigan brucellosis program included two methods of rehabilitating dairy herds with reactors. Farmers may choose either of the two plans according to Ed Reisman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent.

Plan A demands immediate slaughter of all reactor cattle. Then a dairyman must rest at 30-day intervals until all animal test negatively at least twice.

Plan B provides for indemnity payments of up to $25.00 on grade cattle and $50.00 on registered stock if the animals are sold to an approved slaughterer within 15 days after branding.

Under plan B, a farmer must dispose of reactors within three years. Retest will be conducted as soon as the reactors are disposed of.

A farmer should retain reactors only if obligations force him to do so, says Reisman. To avoid contracting undulant fever, or human brucellosis, he should wear gloves when working in the stable or handling infected animals.

Calfhood vaccination with Strain 19 is optional to all herds having reactors. The state program encourages its use on all farms through only herds with reactors are vaccinated free of charge.

Lye Solution Can Save Cows From Mastitis

Michigan dairymen could save themselves some mastitis trouble by storing milker infusions in a weak lye solution between milkings, recommends a Michigan State University extension dairyman.

Donald L. Murray cites University of Wisconsin tests which showed that the weak lye solution eliminates some mastitis germs. It reduced the outbreak of mastitis in cows.

Murray says the storage between milkings in a half of one per cent lye solution should be in addition to the weekly storage in a 5 to 10 per cent lye solution.

Serve Pinto Cheese Salad

You'll want to serve pimiento-cheese salad for your next luncheon or company dinner. It's just that fancy.

This salad will keep well in the refrigerator for several days. So, if any is left over, treat your family. Serve it as dinner salad garnished with curly endive.

PIMIENTO-CHEESE SALAD

- 12 servings
- 1½ qt. mold or 12 individual molds
- 1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
- 1 (1 lb., 4 oz.) can crushed pineapple
- 2 (3 oz.) pkgs. cream cheese
- 1 (4 oz.) can pimientos, diced
- ½ cup celery, chopped
- 2 cup walnuts, chopped fine
- ½ pint whipping cream, whipped
- ½ teaspoon salt

Drain pineapple, saving juice. Heat pineapple juice; when hot, dissolve lemon gelatin. Cool. When mixture begins to thicken, add crushed pineapple and cream cheese. Beat until cheese is in very small lumps. Add remaining ingredients in order given, folding in whipped cream. Pour into oiled metal mold or 9-inch square glass dish. Chill until firm.

Why not try waffled French toast for breakfast? Butter both sides of slices of slightly dry bread. Dip the bread in regular French toast batter, and bake the slices in your hot waffle iron until they are brown and crisp. Serve with usual accompaniments syrup, jelly or honey.

Local Students Prepared For '56 Summer Vacation

School youngsters in the Charlevoix school district will soon be enjoying their annual summer vacation.

The more than 850 students who attend the Charlevoix public schools will be dismissed at 2 p. m. Friday for the school year.

All high school students will register beginning at 10 a. m. Friday for the 1956-57 school year. Students will adopt tentative class schedules tomorrow morning and will receive their report cards at 1:45 p. m. Buses will leave the school at 2 p. m. for the last trip of the school year.

St. Mary's parochial school, where more than 75 students are enrolled, will conclude the school year on Friday, June 8.

All students who will attend St. Mary's school in the fall are asked to register for the fall term during the next week.

When the students return in September they will go to the new school building at the corner of Bridge st. and Robinson ave.

Classes will be resumed on September 10.

Boy Scouts Will Participate In Getting Out Vote

Scouts and Explorers of the Secare Trails Council, Boy Scouts of America, will participate in the Federal Get-out-the-vote campaign this year, it was announced this week.

A total of 3,000 Get-out-the-vote posters will be distributed throughout all 18 counties and towns in the Council during the month of June. The posters will urge everyone to vote in the regular election to be held this fall.

At a subsequent time, 50,000 door knob hangers will be hung on all door knobs in Northern Michigan again urging people to vote in the general election in November.

This makes the second occasion that Boy Scouts have aided in

More Than She "Bargained" For

Dad Baker retired from active dairying—seven or eight years ago—but still keeps a half-dozen purebreds more or less as a hobby.

Dad goes all-out for these six. Temperature-controlled barn, expensive feed... the works. As a result his milk has a low bacteria count, a high butterfat content. And as a favor to neighbors, he sells it just two cents above the ordinary price.

sent her a bill for exactly what the milk cost: 75c a quart.

From where I sit, it's easy to misunderstand if you don't get all the facts. That's why we ought to consider the other fellow's viewpoint before we talk out. For example, you have your reasons for liking particular beverages. I have mine. And whether we're talking about buttermilk or beer...let's try to respect each other's point of view.

Two Scenic Trails Council Boy Scouts have tied in competition to name the new 219-acre Scout Camp in Benzie and Grand Traverse counties given to the Council by the late Judge Farm C. Gilbert for the Boy Scouts.

During the past few years the Boy Scouts have been engaged in a tree-planting conservation program on these grounds under the direction of the Conservation Department.

Keep Pesticides Away From Reach Of Your Children

The life you save this summer may be that of your own children. Pesticides are out of their reach.

During a nationwide survey, County Agricultural Agent Ed Rehman pointed out that more than 75 per cent of the deaths caused by accidental pesticides poisoning were among children under 10 years of age.

And, 90 per cent of those deaths occurred among children under five years old.

All of the accidental deaths could have been prevented if the chemicals had been stored where children could not come into contact with them.

As for adult accidents with pesticide chemicals, he said, the large majority could have been prevented if the person had taken time to read and follow directions on the label.

Remember, Rehman cautioned, a person that has been affected by a pesticide chemical needs medical attention immediately.

Suggests Ways To Lick Sparse Grass Problem

Here's the way to lick the sparse grass problem under that spreading shade tree.

Use a shade-tolerant species of grass like red fescue for light soils and pen trifolials for heavy soils to overcome the shading effect, suggests Ed Rehman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent.

And since the tree roots compete for moisture and plant food, it's best to supply both in heavier-than-usual amounts.

James Tyson, Michigan State University turf specialist, advises one pound of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of shade-tawn area once a month. One pound of actual nitrogen means five pounds of ammonium sulfate, or three and a half pounds of ammonium nitrate, or two and a half pounds of urea.

The usual recommendations for an open lawn is one pound of actual nitrogen three times a year, according to Tyson.

To make sure the shaded lawn has enough water, the area should be soaked to a depth of several inches during dry periods.

And be sure to rake up fallen leaves to keep the grass from smothering, he cautions. Also, set your lawn mower to cut at a length of two to two and a half inches.

Farmers Should Spray Grain For Annual Weeds

Farmers can spray small grain for annual weeds, even though there is a coating of alfalfa or red clover with the grain, points out Ed Rehman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent.

And it doesn't take much chemical to do the job. A quarter pound acid equivalent of 2, 4-D will control mustard and the cost is as little as 25 cents per acre for the chemical, Rehman says.

Where the nurse crop is oats, MCP amine could be used instead at the same rate.

Timing of the spray is important, though, insists Boyd Churchill, farm crop specialist at Michigan State University.

There's less injury to the crop when the grain is sprayed when it's fully tillered but before jointing. That's usually when the grain is six to ten inches high.

To make sure the sprayer is applying the right amount of chemical, advises Churchill, calibrate the machine along the driveway at the barn before using it in the field. The county extension office has details on recommendations for the best tractor speed and pressure for spraying, Rehman indicates.

Although perennial weeds like Canadian thistle and sow thistle will not be killed with the safe rate of 2, 4-D spray, it will many times prevent annual blooming grasses.

Small, isolated areas of perennial weeds can often be spot sprayed with higher rates even though the treatment will also kill the small grain and legume seedling in that area. A knap-sack sprayer will do the job here, Churchill advises.

Although goldfish prefer live food, such as flies, earthworms, and mosquito larvae, they also will eat scrambled egg, chopped lettuce, boiled spinach and even ground dog biscuit.

The Arabs of Kuwait believe that evil spirits proceed only straight ahead, and cannot turn corners.

It's no crime to mix period furniture when you are furnishing a house. It is necessary, though, to make sure that the design and line of the pieces harmonize.

More Than She "Bargained" For

Dad Baker retired from active dairying—seven or eight years ago—but still keeps a half-dozen pure-breeds more or less as a hobby.

Dad goes all-out for these six. Temperature-controlled barn, expensive feed... the works. As a result his milk has a low bacteria count, a high butterfat content. And as a favor to neighbors, he sells it just two cents above the ordinary price.

Recently, a neighbor complained—asked if she couldn't get the milk "at cost." Dad agreed, sent her a barrel for exactly what the milk cost: 75¢ a quart.

From where I sit, it's easy to misunderstand if you don't get all the facts. That's why we ought to consider the other fellow's viewpoint before we talk out. For example, you have your reasons for liking particular beverages. I have mine. And whether we're talking about buttermilk or beer... let's try to respect each other's point of view.

This tempting gelatin salad combines two dairy products, creamed cottage cheese and double-rich evaporated milk. The evaporated milk is chilled and whipped to make the salad high and fluffy. Chopped celery and pecans add contrasting crunchiness.

Rolls of cold sliced ham and an assortment of hot dinner rolls with plenty of butter will complete your luncheon menu nicely.

APRICOT LIME SALAD
8 servings
8-inch ring mold
1 No. 203 can peeled whole apricots
1 package lime flavored gelatin
Apricot syrup plus water to make 1 cup
1 cup creamed cottage cheese
1/2 cup dried celery
1/4 cup chopped pecans
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 cup evaporated milk, chilled 10y cold

Drain apricots and save syrup. Remove pits from apricots and cut in half. Place apricot halves in the bottom of an 8-inch ring mold. If there are a few halves left, cut into small pieces and add to gelatin when other ingredients are added. Place gelatin in a medium size mixing bowl. Heat apricot syrup and water to boiling. Pour the hot liquid over gelatin and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Chill gelatin until it is the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Add the cottage cheese, celery, pecans and lemon juice. Whip milk in a chilled bowl until it is stiff and will hold a peak. Fold into chilled gelatin mixture. Spoon into mold. Chill until firm, about 3 hours.

City Council To Buy Cedar Poles For Utilities Use

The Charlevoix city council, meeting Monday, authorized city superintendent Hal M. Hill to purchase 40 pieces of Western red cedar poles for use by the electrical distribution system. The poles are to be purchased from the R. G. Haley Co. of Toledo at the cost of $1,668.50.

Approval was also given Mr. Hill to apply to Civil Defense for a Motorola Mobile unit to be used in the city electrical system. The unit will cost $740 on a matching fund basis with 50 percent of the cost being paid by the Civil Defense program.

The transfer of $1,830.33 from the electrical to the general fund was approved with the money to be repaid on receipt of city taxes.

Mr. Hill announced that the city's flower baskets were to be placed on the lamp posts in the business district by Memorial Day. The 50 baskets have been filled with geraniums, Petunias and vines.

Bills totaling $12,390.04 were approved and ordered paid.

St. Mary's School Children Observe May Procession

The children of St. Mary's school participated in the annual May procession and the crowning of the Blessed Virgin at the church Sunday evening.

Louis Clark was named to crown the Blessed Virgin.

The children of the school sang "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother" and "T's the Month of Mother" prior to the ceremony which was followed by the Litany of the Blessed Virgin and the Act of Consecration.

The Rev. E. Francis Denay, pastor of St. Mary's church spoke briefly and then officiated at the Benediction which concluded the impressive service.

The ceremony marked the first time the children had gathered in the new school where the procession started.

Extension Office Has Gas Refund Blanks

Charlevoix County farmers may obtain their internal revenue form for refund of federal gasoline tax from the County Extension Office at Boyne City, Ed Reberman, county agricultural agent, stated today. These forms arrived in the office last week and there is an ample supply for every farmer in the county.

Reberman states that these forms are self-explanatory and are easy to fill out. Just call at the office and either ask for the federal gasoline tax form or form number 2240. Complete instructions are included with each form.

At the present time farmers may apply for the refund of federal tax of gasoline on that supply purchased from January 1, 1956 through June 30, 1956. This form must be filed before October 1, 1956.

During their eight months of open navigation, the Great Lakes carry nearly two-thirds as much shipping tonnage as the total annual off-shore trade through all United States salt-water seaports.

School Board Proposes Vote On Tax Millage

Following the decision of the Charlevoix county tax allocation board to allocate seven of the county's allotted 15 mills to the schools of the county, the Charlevoix school board of education has discussed the action it must take to meet its 1956-57 budget which is based on nine mills, or two mills less than was allocated to the schools.

In announcing the board's decision, Supt. R. G. Bennett said that there are two courses left to the board—either to curtail the program it has built through the years or ask for additional millage.

Since the board does not feel that this is the time to curtail the program, it has adopted a resolution to bring the issue of additional millage before the people in the forthcoming annual election.

The board proposes to submit to the people of the Charlevoix district, at the annual election July 9, a proposal to increase the tax limitation by two mills and a second proposal to authorize the Board of Education to levy the two mills or any part of the amount necessary for operation of the school during the 1956-57 school year.

In 1955 schools in the county were allocated eight mills based on the state equalized valuation. This year the schools received one mill less, or seven mills, on a valuation which was increased very little over the 1955 figure.

Local Stores To Remain Open On Friday Evenings

Effective this week most Charlevoix stores and other business places will be open until 9 p. m. every Friday throughout the summer months.

Striking bargains will introduce the new policy. Many bargains are shown on page five. And others may be found in regular advertisements. Some are Friday night specials and others will be offered throughout the weekend.

The new evening hours were introduced by the local merchants to give area shoppers an opportunity to visit local stores before the weekend instead of Saturday evening thus giving many families a full evening together, unbroken by a shopping trip.

Post Office Moves Into New Building; Dedication June 23

The Charlevoix postoffice opened today at its new location at 109 Mason st. after 21 years at 413 Bridge st.

It marks the first time in the history of the Charlevoix postoffice that a new building has been constructed for use as a postoffice.

Located next to the city hall on Mason st., the new building is a 40 by 60 foot structure of concrete block with an Onaway stone and plate glass front. The interior walls are painted in two shades of green, the ceiling is of acoustical tile and the floor is covered with asphalt tile. The exterior will be light mulberry when completed with the Onaway stone in its natural color.

Flowers in shades of red, white and blue fill the planters across the front of the building.

Dr. D. B. Varner Gives Address At High School Commencement

Dr. D. B. Varner, vice president of Michigan State University, spoke on the subject "The Forward Look" in his commencement address before the 56 graduates of the 1956 graduating class of the Charlevoix high school Thursday evening.

In his remarks addressed to the class he said that the "tried virtues of integrity and honesty were two things on which a sound career must be built.

Speaking in an optimistic vein, he said that today's graduates of high schools in the United States are born with several strikes in their favor. There are no thatched roofs for most children in this country, and no malnutrition and other problems that face children in other lands, he continued.

"They talk about the good old days," he said, "but the future holds the best ones with the vast improvements in technological developments being added to constantly."

Michigan Press Association Will Meet June 15-16

The Michigan Press Association will meet at the Charlevoix Beach Hotel June 15 and 16 for its annual summer outing.

The meeting which is expected to bring more than 250 Michigan editors, publishers and guests to the city will officially open the popular resort hotel for the 1956 season.

Charlevoix's own William Rattigan, author of the historical novel, "Soo Canal," and foremost historian of the Soo Locks, will be the guest speaker at the dinner meeting Saturday evening.

On Friday evening, Clyde Cairn, a mental marvel with a million tricks of the mind, will furnish the entertainment following the Swedish smorgasbord.

A golf tournament for both men and women will be held at the Belvedere golf course. In addition there will be a fashion show Friday afternoon and a card party Saturday afternoon for the wives.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Clark Dolliver will be the convention hosts.

School Census For '56 Shows Increase Over Last Year

The school census in the Charlevoix school district which was completed recently reveals an increase in the number of both pre-school and school age youngsters over the 1955 figures, Supt. R. G. Bennett has announced.

The number of pre-school age children, 1 to 4, youngsters under five years of age, increased from 306 last year to 327 this year.

In the 5-14 year age group the number increased from 1,021 in 1955 to 1,042 in 1956.

New Demonstration Agent Named For Charlevoix County

The State Board of Agriculture, governing body of Michigan State University, approved the appointment of Mrs. Clara Wade Brown as home demonstration agent for Charlevoix county. This appointment was made May 25 by the state board. Mrs. Brown will begin her new duties on July 1.

Clara Wade Brown

Mrs. Brown received her Bachelor of Science degree from Michigan State University in 1942 and her Masters Degree in Home Economics in 1954. She taught high school in East Jordan, Iowa and Gila Bend, Arizona. She has also taught at Central Michigan college at Mt. Pleasant.

Mrs. Brown, as home demonstration agent, will have charge of the home economics work in Charlevoix county. She will also assist with the girls 4-H club work. Ed Robman, county agricultural agent will have charge of the agricultural work, but will also be responsible for the boys 4-H club work.

June 18 Deadline To File For Post On School Board

Deadline for filing petitions for the annual school election July 9 has been set for Monday, June 18.

Two trustees will be elected to the board of education of the Charlevoix school district at that time.

The terms of incumbents Fred W. Willis and Bonnie Nickerson expire this year.

Air-Conditioning Unit Is Installed At Local Hospital

A 7 1/2 ton air-conditioning unit has been installed at the Charlevoix hospital, Fred W. Willis, president of the board of directors, has announced.

The unit will air-condition the two major operating rooms and the delivery room.

Installed by the Ware and Son Co., of Traverse City, the installation cost $1,500. It will be partially financed by a contribution from a summer resident, Mr. Willis said.

More Candidates File For County Voting In August

Four more candidates for county offices have filed nominating petitions seeking the Republican nomination for their respective offices in the August 7 primary election, Fenton R. Bulow county clerk has announced.

Harvey C. Varman, Boyne City attorney, filed for the office of county prosecutor opposing C. M. Eise, incumbent office holder who will also be a candidate for the nomination.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

How'd you like that double-header Detroit took from New York Sunday to move into fourth place tie with Boston... In the first division... we never would have believed it... But speak softly and tread lightly... you might break the spell... And how about those Milwaukee Braves? ... From where we're sitting it looks like a good year for baseball... But of course this is only June...

From halfway around the world a note from the George Wolfs with the news that they'll be on then way shortly... In fact, they're supposed to sail June 18 and arrive home in Charlevoix early in July... But after all the false starts when they went over there, one's reluctant to say anything's for sure... It's been quite a year for them but we think they'll be mighty happy to be back...

Commencement was quite an affair the other night for some 50 seniors who got their passport into a great big beautiful world in the form of high school diplomas... It's a wonderful feeling... one of accomplishment but it's touched with a sadness... because, for the first time since you braved the world alone, on the day you went to kindergarten for the first time, you're all alone again... For the next 13 years you had the comforting knowledge that now you were a member of a group... But now you're on your own again... to decide what you're going to do with your future... and then, too, you're faced with the problems of fulfilling the plans you've made for yourself... Quite a job... but we know that this class... just like all the other classes... have seen, come and go will do alright by themselves... And of course, they go with our blessing...

It was quite a night, too, for the members of the board of education who doled out the diplomas this year... Vernon Mathews... for in the graduating class were two of his sons... Bob and Vernon Jr... Also in the audience Thursday was a proud grandmother, Mrs. Beal Torgerson who had come from San Lorenzo, Calif., to see the oldest of her 29 grand children, Bruce Torgerson, graduate from high school... Quite an event in her life... quite a remarkable one, we'd say...

If we may mention the 1956 graduating class once more, we'd like to mention their class trip... a cruise from Detroit to Chicago aboard the S. S. North American... We hear it was a huge success with everyone having a grand time... Even the Four Coons, reduced to three for the occasion because Terry Davis is only a junior, walked off with one of the prizes in the talent show aboard ship... Despite the fact that the weather here was so foggy and everyone was feeling sorry for them, it was grand on the lake until Tuesday morning when the ship approached Chicago... Everyone had visions of not even seeing Chicago but shortly before noon the fog lifted like a mighty stage curtain and there was the Chicago skyline... a thrilling sight as the ship edged its way to Navy pier... And guess what?... Although everyone agreed that this was probably going to be the class to end all class trips, everyone wore his wings and halo and no one... we repeat no one had to be sent home... What wonders never cease!!!

From Phoenix, Ariz., a clipping sent by Bonita Ilgman regarding a former teacher, Miss Ione Cotton... Many of you had her as an English teacher... 'way back when... but now she's national program secretary for Missionary education for the Congregational church... She stopped off in Phoenix enroute home from a church tour to Hawaii... We believe her headquarters are in Boston...

A number of other teachers in our schools were in town over the weekend to attend the class reunion held Saturday at the Charlevoix high school... There were Harry Craig who lives here, Glenn Loomis, Dr. Loomis to you, who was once the coach here, Mrs. Cora Coulter, the music teacher... remember the songs she used to teach you?... and Mrs. Lena Horst Stevenson who, we understand, taught, among other things, German... From what we hear you never heard so much reminiscing in all your life as that gang did... The group had from 37 to 42 years to account for depending on what class they were in so you can imagine what it was like... And from what we hear, a good part of the reminiscing went right on into the wee small hours in a good many cases... But what's more fun than recalling incidents of one's youth... when all one remembers are the good times... We're looking forward to a reunion of our class... Say next year... we like nice round numbers... Reunions are great fun and we're all for 'em... especially after hearing about the one this weekend...

Can you believe it?... The North American will be stopping off in Charlevoix twice during the

Made Out of Left-overs

A good cook and old Mother Nature are much alike in one respect. Both can make something good out of left-overs. When more beef roast has been prepared for Sunday dinner than is needed, Mother makes a palate-tingling hash from the left-overs. When a turkey dinner has been consumed, the dishes are done and the guests have departed, a knowing male around the house is aware that the best is yet to come—a lunch of gold turkey sandwiches, left-overs. Left-overs in the hands of a resourceful cook appear in hashes, sandwiches, stews and numberless other dishes more appetizing than the original preparations.

Dame Nature is an imaginative cook, constantly preparing some tasty concoction from mere left-overs. Birches, which are second-growth trees, flourish best where axe and fire have ravished the north woods. They are left-overs of forests long gone. The dark, rich humus upon which I saw blunt-leaved hepaticas growing yesterday during a woodland saunter, is composed of the decayed remains of vegetation and animals long since gone the way of flesh. The menu for forest plants from the smallest grasses and flowers to the graceful birches and the towering, wide-skirted spruces and hemlocks, is provided by humus, decayed organic matter, left-overs of furry, feathery and leafy creatures sometime ago departed.

In a sense, nature's realm is a vast eating house specializing in cleverly contrived fare, thrifflily made of the remains of the past. A brook is apt to consist of run-off waters. When rain pours down upon the earth the porous soil soaks up the water like a sponge. After a time the spongy earth can absorb no more and the excess left-over water trickles down hills into valleys. Trickles merge with other trickles to form brooklets, and brooklets join to form larger streams, and streams combine to make rivers, while rivers head toward the sea. Most streams are left-over waters.

Our brook has a sandy bottom, abundantly sprinkled with rocks. Sand is rock reduced to fine particles by all sorts of weathering and by the grinding action of the stream. Rocks, are geological left-overs, not yet disintegrated.

And what about the deer whose tracks I see at the stream's out of left-overs. When our most cherished plans go awry and we are left with dashed hopes and irritation, what do we make of them? Saint Paul made one of the most momentous of all missionary journeys out of a failed desire. He desperately wanted to go to Bithynia, one of the most prosperous provinces in all Asia Minor. If he could convert some of those wealthy, wealthy Bithynians what an impact that would give to the growth of the infant Church. He was all set for the trip and then something happened. We keyed up for the adventure, don't know what it was, but some obstacle arose, and Paul and his companions were not allowed to travel to Bithynia. Filled with bitter disappointment, they veered southwestward and visited Troas, directly across from European Macedonia. There in Troas, Paul became aware of the nearness of Europe and of Europe's need of the gospel. With that need in mind he went to sleep one night. While sleeping he had a vision come to him of a Macedonian calling for help.

True to his redemptive mission in life he heeded the vision and went to Macedonia. There he preached and won converts, thus starting European Christianity. See what Paul made of his frustrations. He had his heart set on a mission in Asiatic Bithynia. His dream went to smash and Troas was what he had left. But Troas became the place of inspiration for a mission to Europe. European Christianity was made, in part, from the left-overs of Paul's broken hopes.

One of the loveliest, happiest personalities I know is a woman whose troubles have been legion. She had nine children. Five of them died in childhood. Of the four remaining, two had critical illnesses when nearly all hope for their survival was abandoned. Her own health for years has been uncertain and often precarious. A year ago her husband died. One might expect bitterness and cynicism to be the issue of such a life. Not so. She has made compassion, sympathy and understanding out of the left-overs. Because she has suffered, she knows what suffering means to another. No one within the reach of her wide acquaintance can have trouble without her doing what she can to assuage it. She has made helpfulness out of left-overs.

There is no remedy for grief more effective than this: find another sorrowing soul (at least one will be discovered not far away) and ease his hurt. It will help your own. Carrying a load of grief is like lifting a heavy suitcase. It makes you lopsided, throwing you off balance. Picking up another's load is like balancing the heavy luggage in your right hand with someone else's in your left. You regain your balance. Or, to return to our metaphor, when all you have left is sorrow, make something out of it, a service to another, for instance.

Have you seen Rodin's statue, "The Thinker" or Thorwaldsen's statue of the compassionate Christ or Michelangelo's "Moses" or any other examples of the sculptor's art? After the mind and muscle of the sculptor have done their work with mallet and chisel and the block of marble has offered a stupendous loss of weight, the statue was what was left-over. A masterful sculptor is one whose left-overs are great art.

Great souls are the kind of artist good cooks. Mother Nature and skillful sculptors are. They make masterpieces out of left-overs.

Coast Guard Rescues Two Men Adrift 17 Hours In Open Launch

Two men enroute on High Island five miles west of Beaver Island were rescued early Friday morning by the U. S. C. G. cutter Sundew after 17 hours adrift in a 25-ft. open launch on wind-whipped Lake Michigan.

The pair, Ray Bills, 20 of Howard City, and John Drum, 65, of Daggett, were treated for exposure by Dr. Harry Vail at the Beaver Island medical center before returning to their charges, cattle on the small island, one of several in the Beaver group.

They told Coast Guard officials that the motor on their launch failed while they were enroute from St. James harbor to High Island after picking up supplies. They drifted about in winds up to 30 miles an hour until sighted by Al Phillips of Harbor Springs, operator of a plane service, who was enroute by air to the Emmet county airport after picking up a party at Beaver Island.

Upon landing, Phillips notified the Coast Guard Lifeboat stations at Beaver Island and Charlevoix. A lifeboat was dispatched from Beaver Island at once and the Sundew, which had arrived here from Sturgeon Bay at 6 p. m. Friday was sent from Charlevoix after the windshield in the 40-ft. utility boat from the local lifeboat station was broken in the heavy sea 35 minutes out of here.

The Coast Guard plane from Traverse City air station also joined the search. The plane and the Beaver Island lifeboat returned to their respective stations about 1:30 a. m. while the Sundew continued the search throughout the night.

At 6 a. m. the ship sighted the pair about 100 yds. from shore where their boat had gone aground on a reef on the west side of Beaver Island about eight miles from the head of the island.

At 6:50 a. m. a small boat from the cutter picked up the two men who were suffering from exposure and took them to St. James harbor.

Later they were taken to High Island where they serve as caretakers of cattle on the island.

Open House To Be Held Friday At Children's Center

The Charlevoix Association to Aid Retarded Children will sponsor an open house at the Retarded Children's Center at 305 Portage ave. at 3:30 p. m. Friday.

The work the students have done during the year will be displayed and the teacher, Mrs. Arthur Steel, will be present to consult with parents and friends of the school.

Special invitations have been issued to parents of retarded children in northern Michigan as well as to organizations which have aided the school.

The public is invited to attend the open house and view the work being accomplished in the school.

Mrs. Robert Taylor Is Given Award By Y.M.C.A. Hotel

Mrs. Robert Taylor, former local resident who has resided at the Y.M.C.A. Hotel in Chicago since 1953, was awarded a Service Oscar at the 15th annual Recognition dinner at the hotel recently.

The award, an attractive bronze figure, was presented by Victor Rompel, manager of the hotel, at a dinner attended by 100 guests. In making the presentation Mr. Rompel said: "The many social functions and teas held on New Year's Day and on other occasions were successful, to a great degree, due to the planning of Mrs. Taylor."

She has always been interested in music, serving its secretary at the Concert Miniature Orchestra, as well as in those to whom it is a source of pleasure. In addition she has made history and new records for women in the World Service League.

All Motorboats Must Be Numbered By Coast Guard

All inboard motorboats, regardless of size, and outboard motorboats exceeding 16 feet in length, must be numbered by the U. S. Coast Guard.

The only exception to this law are public vessels, motor lifeboats carried as life-saving equipment on inspected vessels, and other vessels documented by the U. S. Customs Dept.

The Numbering Act is for the purpose of identification only and is not a license, or permit, for any such boat to engage in trade.

To obtain a Certificate of Award of Number, the boat owner may contact either the Coast Guard district commander in Cleveland or any office of Marine Inspection, located in all major cities along the Great Lakes. In this area St. Ignace is the nearest office of Marine Inspection.

There also are similar offices located at Detroit and Ludington. Once a number has been issued the boat owner must display that number upon both bows of his boat in letters at least three inches high and in contrasting colors to the background.

Failure to comply with the Numbering Act is punishable by a fine and causes undue delay. If you buy a motorboat, register it with the U. S. Coast Guard.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Merlin

Charlevoix will roll out the red carpet this weekend for the first of the season's conventions... the members of the Michigan Press Association, who, we hope will have themselves a whale of a time while they're here... They'll be the first of a lot of two and three day visitors who will attend conventions here during the next three months... Next there'll be the Michigan postmasters... and with all the plans we've been hearing about from our own P.M. Hete Timmer, they're assured of a good time... And in addition, they'll help us dedicate our new postoffice... By the way, does one break a champagne over a building when you dedicate it?

Sure hope this weather that we've waited so long for continues... Makes one feel like turning again... The trees have finally acquired a wardrobe in the form of lovely green leaves and the flowers are blooming all over the place... which is quite a change after so many drab months... An apple tree outside our window is in full bloom and a bit of sight you'll never see... It's out fun watching the birds... everything from humming birds to a dozen other kinds most of which we don't even know... but why, oh why, do they have to sit around at the crack of dawn?... Incidentally, if you like to see the biggest furthest-looking bumble bees, we

Many yards are lovely with spring flowers and flowering shrubs but the most colorful by far is that of the R. E. Wrights on Wood st. where there's more color than an artist's palette... There's a peach tree in bloom plus flowering almond and crab trees, tulips by the dozens in a myriad of color and dozens of other flowers... You'll have to see it to believe... It's a treasure trove of color for colored slide addicts and if you haven't seen it, drive past... you won't be sorry...

We're just poppin' with pride... after looking over the lists of Charlevoix boys and girls who are being awarded sheepskins from our schools of higher learning... We think it speaks pretty well for our community that we have among others, four graduating from the U. of M., two from Western Central and Northern Michigan Colleges, Ferris Institute, plus two from schools of... Ford's and Passavant... And don't forget that earlier this year two finished at Michigan last time from State... Not bad at all for a town this size... Added to that there's a large percentage of our fine boys who are going on to school...

And who says there's no spirit of adventure left in this land of ours... We saw a good example of it just the other day, in the persons of the Kenneth Kings of Temperance just north of Ohio border from Toledo... They decided they wanted to go west so they're on their way... via horseback... seems they planned on crossing Lake Michigan via car-ferry but someone had a rule so they were forced to come this way and cross over at the Straits of Mackinac... They spent the night here Thursday and Friday were on their way, hoping to make it to the Straits by night... They're aiming to make Pendleton, Ore., by September... It's a long trip but everyone's wishing 'em luck... and down-deep wishing they were making the trip with the couple, their horses, King and Ringo and a big pooch...

If you happened to be one of those people who were out early to watch the North American come in Friday morning you were treated to a sight you'll long remember... There was a fog bank out a mile or so... You could hear the ship blowing its fog signal and it seemed as tho' it would never get here when all of a sudden like a phantom ship, it emerged from the fog into the bright sunlight as tho' making its entrance on a blue velvet stage... And with the white curtain as a backdrop, the ship glided to...

Dinner And Reception Honors Local Officers Of Grand Chapter

A dinner and reception honoring Mrs. Charles J. Pontius, Grand soloist, and Mrs. James Hilley, Grand Committeewoman of the Youth Committee of the Grand Chapter of the O. E. S., was held at the Methodist church and Masonic Temple Monday Grand Matron, Mrs. Glenna P. evening.

Following the theme of the flag of Pontius, the dinner table was decorated with sweet peas and ivy and each guest was presented with a corsage of sweet peas made by the decorating committee composed of Mrs. J. C. Marshall, Mrs. Herbert Fox, Mrs. Glenn Ingalls, Mrs. Earl Miller, Mrs. Fred deCastro and Mrs. Wayne Bolding. At the reception which preceded exemplification of degrees by the visiting Grand officers, refreshments were served at tables which featured doll dressed officers in white formal gowns or the colors of the star points and the male dolls in tuxedos.

Mrs. James McNeal of Boyne City gave the invocation at the banquet which was attended by 111 Grand officers, guests and members of the sponsoring chapter, Charlevoix chapter No. 72. Mrs. LaVerne Heise, worthy matron of the host chapter welcomed the guests and Mrs. Hagle responded.

Grand officers who participated in the exemplification of degrees on Mrs. Oliver DeYoung, Mrs. Don Carey, Mrs. Rupert Reinhardt and Betty Burnett were Mrs. Hagle, Mrs. Elta B. Burgooyne of Detroit, associate grand matron, Mrs. Margaret Matthew of Bell-Aire associate grand conductress; Mrs. Ruth Traver of Williamston, grand chaplain; Mrs. Ethel P. Lupton, grand marshal; Mrs. Dorothy McCoy of Albion, grand organist; Mrs. Una M. Tassie of St. Clair, grand Adah; Mrs. Edna CanSickle of Shelby, grand Ruth; Mrs. Margaret E. Had quite a chat the other day with Mrs. James... who returned only recently from a winter in New Mexico... a part of the state not too many people get to know too well... Her daughter, Mary, a registered nurse is with a clinic at El Rito, in the heart of the Indian country... where all one sees are low, hard, shrubs and trees and red clay... It sounded like a wonderful experience... and some, thing a bit different... In case you haven't noticed the bass season opens this week... But you'll hardly have to look at the calendar to know that, for one of the great bass fishermen, Bill Jenkins of Bedford, Ind., was in town recently with seeds of equipment for his cruiser... He's due to return this week in time for the opening... He assured me that Sol Marcus will be along shortly too... If the fishing's good we may not see them 'til July 1 but we know they'll be here... And speaking of bass fishing... with the water level way down... lots of fishermen who travel to Hog island in Lake Michigan to do their fishing are wondering if it will be affected by the low water level... We'll soon find out... Do you have your flag displayed today?... If not, better get it out, unless it's raining, 'cause today is Flag Day...

Orchids to our Girl Scout Council and Brownie leaders and their assistants for one of the most successful Brownie Day camp to date... 55 little Brownies enjoyed every minute of it... and so did all the adults who assisted... Janet Krulik did a grand job as camp director and Mrs. Robert Pearl and Mrs. Ray Wood did an equally good job as co-chairmen of the camping committee... There's even one guy who was a good scout and cut 220 pieces of plywood to specifications (set by his wife) and hored four holes in each block so little girls could lace them with leather thongs after pasting colorful decals on them to make darling belts... all under the supervision of Mrs. William Lusk... We think they're going to make Bill an honorary Brownie or something... This week the bigger girls are at troop camp at Camp Sea-Gull and having just as good a time... only on a bigger sea... after all, they're bigger girls...

Plans Announced For Cooperative Church School

Plans for the second annual cooperative church school sponsored by Christ Episcopal, the First Methodist and the First Congregational churches have been announced.

The school, which proved very successful last summer, will open Monday, June 18 and continue Monday through Friday for two weeks, ending June 29.

The school will be held daily from 9 to 11:30 a. m. and will be open to youngsters from four years of age to those who have completed the sixth grade in school.

All those planning to attend are asked to report at the First Congregational church to register. They will then be assigned to classes to be held at the three participating churches.

In announcing the plans for the church school, the Rev. Kenneth Mitchell, associate pastor of the First Congregational church said that all youngsters in the above mentioned age groups are encouraged to enroll in the church school if possible. Last year 65 youngsters were registered and it was hoped that this year the number will be increased.

Annual Summer Instrumental Music Program Will Get Underway Monday

The tenth annual summer instrumental music program will get underway Monday at the local school. Under the direction of C. A. Cronk, director of local bands, the program consists of individual instruction for a seven-week period. The program is sponsored annually by the Charlevoix board of education.

The program has become an integral part of the band program in Charlevoix and affords Mr. Cronk an opportunity to work individually with the students. Because of the rapidly growing enrollment in the instrumental music program, such instruction is not possible during the school year and the summer season is the best time that individual students can be helped.

Students, especially for the summer, are enrolled in a program including instruction in the eighth grade band, 23 from the seventh grade band, 32 from the Varsity band and 14 members of the senior band.

Lessons will be given at the local band room from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Monday through Friday for the next seven weeks. Students have been assigned the hours they are to meet for lessons.

Charlevoix Telephone Lines

LES JOHNSON
Michigan Bell Manager

A POT NEVER BOILS over when the housewife is nearby. That's one of the best reasons for having a kitchen telephone. When the phone rings you can keep on eye on who's cooking in the kitchen, and you can keep the children in sight, too. A phone within reach saves countless steps and precious time. The housewife needn't run when the phone rings; she can just reach. An extension telephone in your kitchen will cost you about $1 a month. Call our business office to order yours.

EVER SINCE "barn raising" days, one of the best things about rural life is that you can always count on the neighbors to pitch in and help in an emergency. In the same spirit, your Michigan Bell "neighbors" showed up when tornadoes hit Michigan recently. The winds had barely died down when telephone people from nearby towns started arriving, bringing trucks loaded with material, to help local telephone folks get the phones working again. From other parts of the state, telephone people started new poles, wire and cable rolling toward the stricken area. In times of emergency—and in everyday things, too—telephone people hope you can count on them to be good neighbors.

HAVE YOU been watching the new Bell System TV show, "Telephone Time"? John Nesbitt, the famous storyteller, who won so many awards for his well-known "Passing Parade" films, is the host. His stories on "Telephone Time" are all true. They're fascinating accounts of everyday people, past and present, who for a brief moment rise to great heights. Your whole family will enjoy watching "Telephone Time." It's on CBS-TV every Sunday at 5 P.M.

June Proclaimed As Dairy Month Throughout State

June has been proclaimed Dairy Month by Gov. G. Mennen Williams in recognition of the state's leading agricultural industry.

Dairy farming is the state's largest agricultural enterprise and Michigan is one of the six leading dairy states of the country. It is second only to Wisconsin in the sale of fluid milk used for bottling purposes, a factor influenced by the large industrial and urban areas in the southeastern and central parts of the state.

More than 17,000 dairy farmers in 69 of the state's 83 counties, nearly 12,000 of them serving the Detroit market, are members of the Michigan Milk Producers Association, the state's largest farmer cooperative.

Not many decades ago the family cow, or a dairy farmer on the outskirts of town, was the direct source of urban milk supply. Today the arrival of milk route men or a visit to the grocer's dairy counter marks the last of an elaborate series of steps by which the modern dairy farmer and his manufacturing and distributing associates in the industry carry out this responsibility.

Newer in the history of the industry has the purity and the quality of milk been so high.

Plan Intensified Boarding Program By Coast Guard

An intensified Coast Guard boarding program with orders to all units throughout the Ninth Coast Guard district to increase the boarding of all small motorboats is being initiated according to Rear Admiral F. A. Leamy.

This action has been made necessary by the tremendous upsurge in boating in the Great Lakes area.

The boarding parties which will inspect both commercial and pleasure craft under 65 foot will be watchful for lifesaving and firefighting equipment, proper lights, and other equipment required by laws and regulations pertaining to safety in federal waters.

Throughout the whole country, it is estimated that there will be over five million motorboats in use this season with more than 110,000 on the Great Lakes alone. With this great increase in the use of motorboats, the Coast Guard wishes to stress the need for sound knowledge and courtesy toward others using the waterways, in addition to having the proper equipment required by federal regulations.

Boat owners and operators are reminded that violators of the safety laws and regulations are subject to penalties and heavy fines.

How Deep?

We never outgrow an interest in the dimension of things. From childhood to old age we are curious about sizes and distances. "How tall are you?" "How far is it?" "What size dress do you wear?" "Man alive! What big feet he has! What size shoes does he wear?" "How far are we above sea-level?" Many of our commonest questions are centered around measurements.

In his old age, Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes loved to take long walks from his home in Cambridge, Massachusetts. In his pocket he invariably carried a measuring tape. He was a lover of trees, and the tape was for gauging their girth. Dr. Holmes' inquiring mind never outgrew a wholesome childhood interest in the size of things. He always asked, "How big is it?"

When youngsters like Nephew Leroy or Friend Paul visit Hidden Brook, and chance upon Sunlit Pool, or any other of the small swirling cousins of the sea that lie along the brook's wandering course, they crouch down, peer wonderingly, and inevitably ask, "How deep is it?" We find a stick and plumb the amber waters and announce our findings. "More than three feet!" and hear once more, as we have heard from other childish lips, "Gee! I bet there are lots of fish in here!"

Sometimes I wonder if there are any questions much more important than the one eager children ask, "How deep is it?" Concerning a person's religion, can any more probing inquiry be made than this: "How deep does he believe?" Our faith and hope are spiritual answers. "Do you believe in God?" we ask, and if the answer is, "Of course!" we mark a person as being a man of faith. But one can easily be devout on the surface and atheistic in the depths, and still feel he is a person of faith because he gives intellectual assent to religious creeds.

There is more than one way of acting like an atheist. One may be loudly, aggressively atheistic, blatantly announcing to all who will listen that religion is silly and a Supreme Being is but a figment of an overworked imagination. One can preach atheism on the street corners and circulate atheistic pamphlets and periodicals, trying to convert others to unbelief in God. But few are atheistic to that degree.

Again one can be a brooding atheist, looking wistfully upon the life of faith as desirable and enviable, but alas, unreasonable. The brooding atheist covets the benefits of having a religious faith, but his training or his reason, or his bitterness deny him what he wants. He cannot reconcile the facts of life, like suffering, with a loving God, nor unexpected and unpredictable tragedies with a dependable God. He hates his own atheistic inclinations and broods over them. But he remains an unbeliever. This kind of atheism is more common.

But the more widespread atheism, found in churchmen as well as among outsiders, is a functional atheism. Its adherents recite creeds, say prayers, venerate sacred objects, and attend religious duties. But when you ask for their faith, "How deep does it go?" the honest answer is "Not very." It doesn't go "action deep." Theoretically they are Christians. Functionally they are atheists, for they act as if there were no God. Excessive worry and anxiety are atheistic. They are ways of behaving as if there were no Power to which we can appeal for help. Persistent anxiety indicates that down deep there is no faith. In spite of what you say about God, you are acting as if you had only your own resources to depend upon, and when they are expended there is no God to turn to for help.

A shoulder-shrugging, gloomy, hopeless outlook upon your own future or the world's destiny, as if there were no victorious Power working for good in you and in the world, is functional atheism. The gloom spreads; you can scarcely talk religion, sing it, pray, and be quite unaware that it doesn't go very deep, not "action deep." They are vocally people of faith, but functionally they are unbelievers.

The real test of the validity of a belief is, does it go "action deep?" If you want to know whether any belief is true, ask yourself, "Can I successfully make a way of life out of it?"

Here is where many philosophers of life fall down—no one can live by them successfully. Take skepticism, for instance. We are skeptics, doubters, for a few minutes at a time. Now and then we doubt the beliefs we cherish most. But no one can develop a successful way of life out of skepticism, living as if he cannot have faith in anything. One couldn't drive a car if he constantly doubted whether it was properly put together. He would be petrified with fear that the wheels would drop off any moment. No one could eat or drink if he were persistently skeptical of the morals of the cook. Every mouthful

DEPENDABILITY? Let's face it! No car at any price can match the solid ruggedness you'll find when you...

DISCOVER THE DIFFERENCE IN DODGE!

Dodge gave the most amazing proof of dependability ever recorded! In a grueling test of endurance at Bonneville, the '56 Dodge was driven at top speed night and day for 14 full days. It went over 31,000 miles at an average speed of 92.86 mph without a single breakdown!

The Dodge frame is built to take it! Massive box-section side rails extend the full length of the frame, are stronger than U-channel or I-beam types used in other cars. Short, rigid brackets anchor the body securely to the frame.

Dependable power on demand! 260 hp. aircraft-type V-8 whipped all cars in NASCAR acceleration tests.

Mechanically perfect! Dodge push-button driving with its fool-proof, mechanical design is the most dependable of any on the road.

Dependable in little things, too!

- Electric Windshield Wipers Never slow down when you speed up!
- Weather-Proof Ignition System For fast, sure starts always!
- Independent Parking Brake Like having a second set of brakes!
- Safety-Rim Wheels For added blow-out protection!
- Safe-Guard Brakes Have two cylinders for sure stop!

Just the Facts, Ma'am!

Having a red-hot crime wave in town. Specs McGuire and Buck Hanson were caught taking money out of parking meters—again. I was at Police Headquarters when a nice old lady rushed in to report them.

"It was dark but I saw their faces in the flashlight beam," she said breathlessly. "You can't trust anybody these days!"

She got flustered when Chief Benson explained that Specs and Buck are authorized collectors—working nights after their regular jobs. "Have to get 'em uniforms," said Benson. "Third time they've been turned in!"

From where I sit, we ought to guard against accusing anyone of being "wrong" just because that's the way it looks to us. For instance, I've heard people talk against a neighbor because they didn't approve of his choice of beverage! (They liked tea, or something, while he preferred a glass of beer.) Be sure you have a case before you lay down the law.

Charlevoix Post Office To Be Dedicated Saturday

Hospital Given $6,300 By Ford Foundation

A check for $6,300.00 has been mailed to the Charlevoix hospital by the Ford Foundation, according to a news release.

The check is 50 per cent of an appropriation made by the Ford Foundation which gave funds to 959 voluntary non-profit hospitals in the United States, Alaska, Puerto Rico and Hawaii last December.

Fred W. Willis, president of the Charlevoix hospital board of directors, announced Tuesday night at the annual meeting of the Women's Guild of the Charlevoix hospital that the board had decided to build a solarium on the north wing of the new hospital and would use the funds from the Ford Foundation to finance the project.

He said that the board had not been notified that its plans for the addition had been approved but that he assumed that they had if the Foundation had released the information that the check had been mailed.

He said that the addition would be 27 by 40 feet and would be constructed off the north wing toward the lake.

Since the plans made by Gordon Cornwell of Traverse City, the architect for the hospital, were only preliminary ones, more information regarding the addition will be made available as more complete drawings are made, he concluded.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

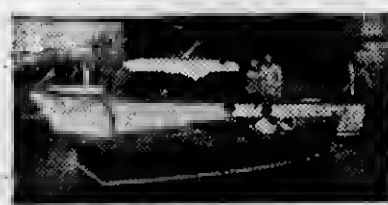

By Fran Martin

Summer has arrived... perhaps not officially for Thursday will be the official opening of the wonderful season of the year that's all too short in Charlevoix... but summer has arrived... "cause the lilacs are finally in bloom, to kids are in swimming most every day and quite a few of our summer residents are much in evidence... And today will be the longest day of the year... Does it seem possible?

If you're clever with your hands and are looking for something to do, get some suji wire and get going! We've been hearing lots about it and didn't have the vaguest idea what it was all about but Sunday night we found out... Mrs. Lloyd Arnold, Girl Scout camping chairman, stopped by with a batch of vari-colored wires that looked like nothing and ended up with the cutest darned cowboy swinging a lariat... It's amazing the things you can make and it's more fun... We understand it was a big hit at Girl Scout camp.

We understand, too, that this year's camp was the bestest we've had... No homesick girls and everyone begging for another week of it... The youngsters had a choice of activities and if they weren't moved to do anything they did do that too... But most of the time there weren't enough hours in the day to pack in everything everyone wanted to do... Just like we mentioned before when we spoke of the Brownies, Charlevoix's blessed with not only wonderful kids but a lot of wonderful, generous, unselfish super adults who make the Girl Scout organization tick.

thing to do, just destroyed it. For no reason at all... And that's what's been happening to a lot of things like that and like urns that are placed on lawns and other things equally as malicious... We hope the law will catch up to these violators and throw the book at them.

In the June issue of a Lake Carriers publication is a picture story entitled "Thanks to the Coast Guard Lights are Bright Again". The series of pictures, which begins with a beautiful one taken from the Bridge of the Woodbine going through the highway bridge here, tells the story of the lighthouse keepers along the lake... In this case it shows the White Shoals barber-pole lighthouse, the brightest in the Great Lakes... A story that pays great tribute to these guardians of the shipping channels... We're indebted to Mrs. Gerald Left for calling it to our attention.

A belated birthday greeting to our friend, John Krehak, who was some 78 years old last week... Despite a serious illness last winter, he's around enjoying the warm weather again... Our best wishes to him and his wonderful wife.

When one retires, he usually plans on taking things easy... After all, that's pretty much the idea of retiring... But a neighbor of ours did anything but that last week... It all started with a mysterious hammering sound at the corner of Michigan ave. and Ainslee st... Not only the owner of the house, the Edgar Osborns, but everyone in the neighborhood joined in trying to solve the mystery... But came Tuesday morning and Mrs. O. decided the noise was coming from their house... not only their house but a stove pipe attached to the top of the chimney on top of the house which is three-stories high... With the assistance of every thing but the fire department Mr. O. made his way to the roof and by holding a mirror over the pipe discovered the culprit was a bird... But how to coax him out... The poor thing was trying its best... but it's bill was no match for the metal pipe... But the ingenious Mr. O. was not to be stymied and by perching precariously on the peak of the house cut a hole in the pipe with a can opener... and out flew a big old red-headed woodpecker... perhaps a little wiser for his experience... And poor Mr. Osborn was definitely 'done in' by the experience of crawling around on the top of his house... Retired?... We understand he thinks life was a lot simpler when he was putting in eight hours a day in his lab...

'Walking Wonder' Wins Women

It seems that as far as women are concerned, another wonder has appeared on the scene to be added to the traditional "7 wonders of the world." Figures testifying to its feminine following have reached astronomical heights.

Strangely enough this "wonder" has to do with such basic things as walking and the feet. It's a comfort shoe... carrying the trade name of Glov-Ett... and to remove any doubts about the astronomical figures, a Minneapolis department store recently celebrated the selling of more than a million pairs of Glov-Etts.

Comes vacation time, as now, Glov-Etts are "putting their best foot forward," we might say. They are as popular at this time of year as are conditioning in a laundry. Vacation to most women means activity in the great outdoors... hiking, fishing, exploring lakeshores or woodland paths, playing tennis, or just plain strolling around. To put it in a nutshell, it is on such occasions that Glov-Ett shoes are "walking wonder."

They are made with closed toes and heels to keep out sand and dirt. They have sturdy counters and steel shanks for extra support. The uppers are of glove-soft leather and are in popular colors... an important item when it comes to matching sports outfits.

The Glov-Ett full wedge heel and sole are of bubble-soft cushion crumpe which contains hundreds of closed air cells, making them water-proof and insulated from heat and cold. Women say walking in Glov-Etts is like walking on bubbles of air.

Call them what you will... eighth wonder or merely super-comfortable shoes, Glov-Etts mean happier feet at vacation time, or any other time. They are available locally at Campbell's Boot Shop.

Five From Area Graduated From U. Of M. Saturday

Four Charlevoix residents and one from Ironton will be among the candidates for degrees at the annual commencement exercises at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor Saturday.

They are Alvin Ranger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ranger, Dale Suomela, son of Mr. and Mrs. Uno Suomela, Rebecca Badger, daughter of Mrs. Dorthea Badger and Thomas Bleha, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bleha, all of Charlevoix and Mary Carlson, daughter of Albert Carlson of Ironton.

The degrees they will receive have not been made available to the Charlevoix Courier by the University public relations department.

Commencement exercises were held in the U. of M. Fieldhouse after an unexpected storm forced the program indoors. It was previously scheduled to be held in the stadium.

Narbor Carrillo, rector of the national University of Mexico delivered the commencement address, "A New Responsibility of Universities." U. of M. president Harlan Hatcher awarded the diplomas.

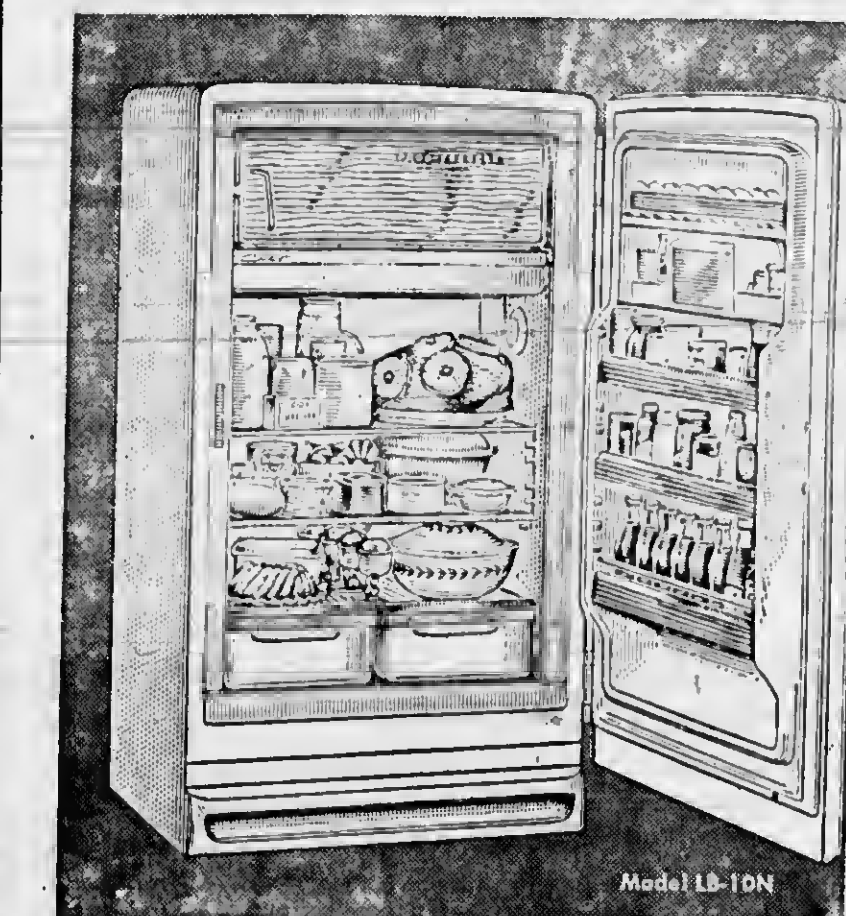

This marks the first time a Charlevoix entry in the state contest has received recognition.

Any good farmland will produce from two to three times as much in the first cutting season as in the second cutting. That's caused by the difference in moisture supply for the two seasons, point out M. S. U. farm crops specialists.

Sharing costs in the same proportion that income is shared will encourage soil and water conservation practices on a tenant-lord set-up, according to a recent midwest study.

Charlevoix Girl Scouts Return From 5-Day Stay At Camp Sea-Gull

Eighty-one Girl Scouts returned home Wednesday after five and a half glorious days at the annual Girl Scout troop camp held this year at Camp Sea-Gull on the north side of Lake Charlevoix.

The entire program from registration day on Friday until the last meal Wednesday was declared most successful by Scouts and leaders alike.

The craft program was very popular with the making of Suji wire figures heading the list for popularity with lanyards a close second. Several interesting driftwood pieces were assembled, glass etching was popular again this year and a new craft, the covering of coffee cans with Deltex rug scraps to make trays attracted many.

Eight girls were in the First Aid class and completed the badge requirements for First Aid and Health and Safety badges.

The boating and canoeing activities were popular and all campers received good training in boating safety practices and instructions in rowing a boat and paddling a canoe.

Several girls passed swimming tests, ranging from beginning to advanced swimmers. Janice Burns received the Advanced Swimmer's card. Red Cross requirements usually not received until after having passed the Senior Red Cross Life Saving requirements. She is only 16.

The check book system as applied to the purchase of snacks and supplies was an innovation this year and proved a success.

The evening programs consisted of impromptu skits by the campers and leaders which were presented with a great deal of ingenuity and resourcefulness and provided many happy hours of entertainment.

Assisting with the various troops were Troop 7, the oldest troop of Scouts who served as junior counsellors; Troop 6, Mrs.

Five '56 Graduates Enter Armed Forces

Five members of the 1956 graduating class of the Charlevoix high school have sought enlistment in the armed forces since receiving their diplomas May 31.

Last week Richard Sanford, William Kelker and Thomas R. Galko were sworn into the U. S. Navy at Detroit.

Last week Michael Gibbons left for Detroit and on Thursday Harold McGinnis was scheduled to leave for final physical examination. If they are accepted they will be sworn into the army for two year hitches.

Robert Bergmann and Bennie Kipke. Members of the troop also helped with younger troops on the water front, with crafts, in the store and by conducting nature class; Troop 9, Mrs. Kenneth Forest and Mrs. Robert Reed; Troop 10-A, Mrs. Robert Martin, Mrs. Clifford Riley and Susie Miller.

Troop 10-B, Mrs. Arthur Krulik and Mrs. Joseph Williams; Troop 11, Mrs. James Gallagher, Mrs. Mark Cross and Soreen Cross; Troop 12, Mrs. Arnold Wadgas, Mrs. Wayne Belding, Connie Maxfield, Mrs. Lloyd Arnold, Mrs. Arthur Steel, Mrs. S. E. Coleman and Mrs. Ray Wood.

Mothers who assisted in the kitchen were Mrs. Doris Pierce who spent three days at camp, Mrs. Robert Miller, Mrs. Gordon Baettett, Mrs. Steel, Walter Jarvis, Mrs. Gerald Greene, Mrs. Kenneth C. Miller, Mrs. C. M. Bice, Mrs. Fred DeCastro, Mrs. Chester Belfy and Mrs. Wilson Ward.

Assisting on the water front were Susie Miller, Bennie Kipke, Cynthia Curtis, Katherine Oleksy, Nancy Cook, Carol Belfy, Barbara Jarvis and Janice Burns. The resident camp council was composed of Mrs. Lester Smith, council president; Mrs. Robert Bergmann, program chairman; Mrs. Lloyd Arnold, camp chairman and Joan Nelson, water front director. Mrs. Bud Fisher and Mrs. Harry Stewart composed the menu planning and food committee.

For safety when you use a washing machine, connect or disconnect the washer cord only when standing on a dry floor and with dry hands. If the floor is damp, stand on a dry rubber floor mat. And, grasp the plug, not the cord, when you make or break connections.

Rev. Robt. Moore Given Farewell Party At Norwood

The Rev. Robert Moore, pastor of the Norwood and Barnard Methodist churches for the past six years, and his family were honored at a farewell party at the Norwood town hall Monday evening. The Rev. Mr. Moore, who was also pastor of the East Jordan Methodist church, has been transferred to Bronson in southern Michigan.

An entertaining program which included games, group singing, recitations by Helen Mason and Carol Moore and a vocal solo by Mrs. George Light Jr., who sang "God Be With You Till We Meet Again" was enjoyed by the assembled group. A social hour and refreshments concluded the evening. The hall and refreshment tables were decorated with garden flowers.

The Rev. and Mrs. Moore were presented with a gift from the members of the Norwood church, as well as their Norwood property where Mrs. Moore and the children will reside for the present.

Edwards Announce Winner Of Car

Expect June To Be Record Month For Production Of Milk

The greatest production of milk for any month in Michigan's history is expected to come this June, according to F. M. Skivers, chief of the Michigan Department of Agriculture's dairy division.

The milk yield is expected to reach 580 million pounds this month which is a dairy month all over the nation. Production is expected to be five percent more than last June. Better cows and better feeding practices account for rising production.

The last farm inventory revealed that Michigan has approximately 822,000 milking cows.

Michigan has some dairying in every one of its 83 counties. Dairying accounts for as much as 70 percent of its total cash farm income. The $182 million farmers received from dairying last year was about 24 percent of total cash farm income. This year is the best yet for the state's dairymen.

Michigan's milk production is about 1.4 billion pounds or 1.4 million tons annually. The state's milk production is about 5 1/2 billion pounds a year.

Coast Guard To Step Up Safety Boat Regulations

During the 1955 boating season, the U. S. Coast Guard boarded over 46,000 motorboats on federal waters in the Great Lakes area and this year the figure is expected to pass the 50,000 mark.

Of this number last year, one out of every 10 boats boarded was cited for a violation of the Motorboat Act—failure to have sufficient safety equipment to meet the legal minimum requirements of the law.

In 75 percent of the violations, failure to have a sufficient number of life-saving devices aboard accounted for the citing. All motorboats regardless of their size, must have a life-saving device approved by the Coast Guard for each person on board.

Motorboats of less than 40 feet in length must have one Coast Guard approved life preserver, buoyant vest, ring buoy, or buoyant cushion, in good condition, for each person on board. Motorboats from 40 to 65 feet must have one Coast Guard approved preserver, or ring buoy for each person on board. Buoyant cushions or buoyant vests will not meet the requirements of the law on this class motorboat.

Motorboats which carry passengers for hire must have an approved jacket-type life preserver for each person on board, and an additional number of approved life preservers suitable for children equal to at least 10 percent of the total persons aboard. Operators of such craft must also be licensed by the Coast Guard.

It was styled with a fitted bodice, Queen Anne collar, long pointed sleeves and a full skirt. Her fingertip veil fell from a cap of lace and net embroidered with seedpearls and she carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and white carnations.

Her sister, Beverly, was her only attendant. She wore a gown of yellow lace and tulle over satin styled with a strapless bodice of lace and satin and a full skirt of tulle over satin. Her yellow net stole matched her net headband which was embroidered with yellow seedpearls and she carried a bouquet of yellow and blue flowers.

Linda Schwartz of Dearborn, as flower girl, wore a pink nylon dress and carried a bouquet of blue flowers.

David Brown of Dearborn, cousin of the bride, assisted the bridegroom as best man.

Virginia Smith - Karl Scharschmidt Speak Vows In Church Ceremony Here

Virginia Carol Smith, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Hubert E. Uadock, became the bride of Rudolf Karl Scharschmidt of Battle Creek, Mich., at a ceremony solemnized at the First Congregational church here Saturday afternoon.

The Rev. Harold E. Kohn officiated at the single ring service in the presence of more than 75 guests before an altar decorated with white poinsettias and flanked by baskets of white gladioli and pink peonies and lighted tapers in candelabra.

During the service, Mrs. Stewart Houser played a program of traditional music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Lee Moenand. She also played the traditional wedding march and the recessional.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white pure silk for her wedding. From the elongated torso with its scooped neckline edged with Venice lace and sprinkled with iridescent paillettes and long, tapering wrist-point sleeves, fell the full tiers of silk cascading to the floor and sweeping back to a brush train. Her French silk illusion veil floated from a lace tiara edged with seedpearls and trimmed with iridescent paillettes. Her white Bible held an arrangement of sweetheart roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

Cynthia Louise Smith was her sister's maid of honor and Phyllis Hood of Pontiac and Alberta Hubek of Detroit and Charlevoix were bridesmaids. They wore identical ballerina length gowns of pink crystaletta styled on princess lines with square necklines and brief sleeves. Small bows accented the full circular skirts. Small nose veils fell from matching pink head bands and they carried bouquets of pink sweetheart roses and carnations.

John Scharschmidt of Markesan assisted his brother as best man and ushers were Lee William of DeSoto, Wis., Douglas Smith and Vane Smith, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Paddock selected a navy silk shantung suit and white accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Scharschmidt, mother of the bridegroom, wore a light

Dale Mathews Is Killed In Plane Accident

W. Dale Mathews, 25, of Almont, former resident and son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon L. Mathews, was one of three men killed in a midair crash of two small private planes near the Pontiac Municipal Airport late Saturday.

Others who lost their lives in the crash were Jess Trott, 60, co-owner of Trott Airport at Almont and passenger in the Mathews plane and Arnold Pickett, 42, Drayton Plains, pilot of the second plane who was flying out of the Pontiac airport.

The two planes collided about a quarter of a mile from the airport and plummeted more than 1,000 feet to the ground, landing in a housing subdivision near the airport. Neither plane exploded or burned.

Mr. Mathews was flying the lead plane in a three-plane formation over the airport enroute from Defiance, Ohio, to the Almont airport owned by Mr. Trott at the time of the accident. His father and William Ascelin of Capac piloted the other planes in the formation and witnessed the accident. Both pilots landed their planes safely at the Pontiac airport immediately following the accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Mathews Sr. had flown to southern Michigan earlier Saturday. Mrs. Mathews had remained at Almont with her daughter-in-law, the former Kay Cunningham, while Mr. Mathews had continued on to Ohio to join his son and the others who had departed earlier. All three planes were returning to Almont at the time of the crash.

The body of Mr. Mathews was returned to the Pontiac Chapel here for funeral services Tuesday afternoon. The Rev. George L. Majors officiated at the service. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Born at White Lake August 26, 1930, Winston Dale Mathews later lived at Howell before coming to Charlevoix in 1944. He was (Continued on Page 12)

Lifeguards Are Assigned To City Beaches For 1956

Lifeguards were assigned this week to three Charlevoix beaches, Hal M. Hill, city superintendent, has announced.

Gordon Mol will be at the north side or depot beach and John Connolly has been assigned to the Ferry ave. beach, both on Lake Charlevoix. Larry Burns, who was at the south side beach last year, will be at the Lake Michigan beach south of the piers.

The guards will be at the beaches daily from 1 to 8 p. m. As in the past, swimming classes will be given at the two Lake Charlevoix beaches.

There will be classes for beginners from five years on as well as for intermediates and more advanced swimmers. All youngsters wishing to register for swimming lessons are asked to report at one of the above mentioned beaches between 10 and 11:30 a. m. Friday. At that time they will be told when to return for lessons.

Gordon Mol will teach classes at the depot beach and Larry Burns will take over the morning classes at the Ferry ave. beach.

Last season more than 100 youngsters registered for swimming classes. Both Mr. Mol and Mr. Burns said this week that they hoped the number would be increased this season. They urged youngsters who had had lessons last year to return for more advanced training.

City Soft Ball Leagues Start Program For Summer Season

The city softball league are in their first week of play with games scheduled tonight and Friday night, Dean Davenport, softball director, has announced.

Games will be played at Kipke field nightly Monday through Friday with the first games scheduled for 6:45 p. m. and the nightcap at 8:15 p. m.

Preceding the opening game Wednesday night, weather permitting, team captains, managers and sponsors were to be introduced and Mayor James Hiller was to throw out the first ball before the umpire gave the familiar "Play ball" which officially opened the season.

The Tuesday night game between the U. S. Coast Guard and Freedman's was rained out.

On Wednesday night the City Merchants were scheduled to play American Mold in the class A league game and Dutchers and Edwards met in a class B league game. Carson-Klooster is the fifth class A team.

Tonight the Peanut league composed of youngsters in the 8 to 12 year age group will make their first appearance on the diamond as the Pirates meet the Dodgers at 6:45 p. m. and the Tigers go against the Red Sox in the nightcap.

Other games for the week follow: Friday, Class B, Zephyr vs. Uhrick and Class A, Carson-Klooster vs. Freedman's; Monday, Class C, Rogers vs. White Sox and Class C, Dodgers vs. U. S. Coast Guard vs. City Merchants; Tuesday, Class B, Edwards vs. Uhrick and Class A, Carson-Klooster vs. American Mold.

Thursday, Class C, Tigers vs. Pirates and Class B, Zephyr vs. Uhrick.

There will be no Wednesday game next week because of the July 4 holiday. Rained out games will be played later.

Teams in the five-squad Class A league are fairly well balanced to make the season an interesting one. A sixth team may be organized for the second round if a sponsor can be found.

In Class B the battle for the title is wide open with the defending champion, Dutchers' finding plenty of opposition in Zephyr, Uhrick, Pontiac-Cadillac, and Edwards.

The Peanut league promises to provide plenty of first-rate entertainment for ball fans of all ages.

If enough interest is shown, a girls' league may be organized. Those interested may call Dean Davenport.

Gratitude and appreciation should be extended to those who have sponsored teams this season, Mr. Davenport said. It is through the various sponsors that the present softball program in Charlevoix is possible.

The Rev. Don Miller of the Boyne City Baptist church will be the speaker.

Youth groups from several northern Michigan churches will be present and will bring special numbers in music and song.

The public is invited to attend.

Mixed Two-Ball Foursome Play To Be Sunday

Plans for a mixed two-ball foursome tournament at the Municipal golf course on Sunday and the deadline for registering for the second annual city championship tournament for the Frank Poole trophy were announced this week by Keith Carey, course manager.

The mixed two-ball foursome tournament will begin at 2 p. m. Sunday. Each player must bring a partner in order to play in the tournament. A small entry fee will be charged and prizes given. The deadline for registering for the second annual city championship tournament has been set for Friday, July 6, with the tournament scheduled to start the following day. The pairings will be made Friday night.

A consolation bracket for first-round losers has been planned for this year in order to give every entry an opportunity to play at least two rounds. Entries may register at the clubhouse and pay their $2.00 entry fee at the same time.

Chuck Bennett is the defending champion. Bob Wallace was the runner-up in last year's tournament.

Additional information regarding the tournament may be obtained at the clubhouse.

Hal Hill and Dal Henry posted a score of 66 to win the best ball tournament at the course Sunday. Authorize Contract For South Wing Of New County Building

The Charlevoix county board of supervisors, meeting in a special session Friday, authorized its public grounds and building committee to enter into an additional contract with the Lake Construction Co. for the construction of Part 2 or the south wing of the new county building under construction.

The committee advised that the board enter into the contract at this time so the contractor could purchase all materials for the entire building now.

The bid for the second or one-story section of the new building was for $77,724.13 plus an additional $1,092.00 for terrazzo floors. Lake Construction Co.'s bid on the two-story section now under construction was $162,710.60. Total bids amount to $241,526.73.

Following action taken by the board of supervisors at its April meeting, the one mill designated for the sinking fund for the remaining three-year period will be levied on the state equalized valuation which this year is $30,754,700.00.

At the Friday meeting the board also approved a Civil Defense program for the county presented by Gen. George Ely in behalf of the county Civil Defense committee.

The special meeting was called by Russell Curtis, chairman of the board.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

And a happy Fourth of July 1956 to you . . . It doesn't seem possible since we haven't had an opportunity to get used to the idea of spring yet . . . but here the big holiday is upon us . . . And for heaven's sake, be careful . . . Despite the fact that the holiday is in the middle of a week, there'll be plenty of traffic, now that our population in northern Michigan is growing by plane, train and car, and we'd like to see you around for a while . . .

Another real sign of summer . . . If you haven't noticed all the others that are much in evidence, is the weekly band concert in East Park which will begin this week . . . In fact, tonight's the night . . . The band's prepared a wonderful series for your enjoyment so how's about coming around and hearing them play . . . Charlevoix is one of the few communities in the state that still features weekly band concerts so let's relay the word to the guys and gals that we appreciate them by putting in an appearance tonight and every Thursday night . . .

If you don't see us around after Monday you'll know that we've decided to fulfill a dream . . . of joining the circus . . . Of course at the moment we haven't contacted the circus management but just in case we make it, we'd like to have our friends know where we are . . . The circus is being brought to town, incidentally, by the American Legion and it looks like a good one from what we've heard . . . We hope every youngster we know gets to go . . . And we know of quite a few adults who can't resist the big top so no doubt we'll be seeing them at the circus too . . .

A welcome back to our many summer residents who are already arriving to take up residence during the next couple of months . . . As far as we're concerned, this is one of the happy times of the year when we greet all our old friends, hear all about their families and what they've done since we saw them last . . . All this combined with the fact that the weather's fine, makes us happy to be alive . . .

By the way, did any of you people who aren't above making a bet now and then, lose anything on a horse named Charlevoix in the recent Belmont stakes? We understand that the horse led for the seven-eighths of a mile before losing ground but fast and coming in last . . . No one seems to know who the horse belongs to or how it got its name but we'd sure be interested if you happen to know . . .

The orchid of the week should go to a small group of people who have done a terrific job . . . They make up the congregation of the Christian Science Society . . . Last week we visited their new church home a couple of times and each time found something new to admire in the new building . . . Much of the finishing has been done by its members . . . who certainly did a fine job not only in this but in planning the entire building . . . They are to be complimented for their fine job . . .

Another bouquet to those who planned the dedication of our new postoffice Saturday . . . The entire program went off without a hitch and was timed perfectly . . . No one talked too long, everyone said just the right thing and everything, just everything was perfect . . . Scads of people turned out for the event and everyone we talked with agreed that it was the nicest dedication ceremony they'd attended . . . Afterwards everyone toured the new building and enjoyed refreshments served by the postoffice staff . . .

After meeting quite a few of the visiting postmasters who were here for the convention last week, we developed a new respect for postoffice dispatchers . . . We met people and saw more from places we'd never heard of in our state . . . We know that the
P. O. dispatchers are not only expected to know where they are but how to route the mail . . . So from now on, we shall bow low from the waist to our own Gordon
Dennis and his first assistant,
Perry Smith, and also Bill Seese
 . . . In fact, after this convention,
I've learned that postoffice people, regardless of their positions, are looked upon as mighty important people . . . We think most people take them pretty much for granted
 . . . just as we have . . . but after seeing what V. I. P.s the meeting attracted, we've decided that they're all more important than we ever imagined . . . You know the old proverb about a prophet being without glory or whatever in his own town . . .
Well, that applies to our postal employees . . . for whom we usually have nothing but gripes . . .

IT HAPPENED ON . . . BEAVER ISLAND

By Loy Malloy

Lyons Construction Co. of Whitehall, Michigan arrived in part Sunday evening with its tugs and towing equipment. Mr. Lyons is the successful bidder in obtaining the contract to deepen Beaver harbor for the Corps of Engineers. This is the first step toward making the harbor a harbor of refuge for pleasure craft. The Michigan Waterways Commission met here Friday with members of our local governing board and discussed plans for more docking facilities.

Mrs. Carl Nelson spent the past week visiting her mother, Mrs. Mary Martin.

County Wheat Growers To Vote On Quota Regulations July 20

Friday, July 20, is the deadline for wheat growers in Charlevoix county to determine how they want to market their 1957 wheat crop. LeRoy Hardy, chairman of the Charlevoix county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, reminded farmers today.

Farmers who will harvest more than 15 acres of wheat as grain on a farm in 1957 are eligible to cast ballots in the wheat quota referendum. Polling places will be the same as last year and wheat growers will be notified where they may vote.

In Charlevoix county last year 219 wheat growers raised approximately 1900 acres of wheat. The figure is expected to be more this year.

A two-thirds favorable vote will mean that marketing quotas and penalties on excess wheat will be in effect for the 1957 wheat crop. Under quotas, too, price support to growers in the commercial area who apply with their wheat acreage allotments will be at the full level available between 75 and 90 per cent of parity.

If more than two-thirds of the growers voting disapprove quotas, the quotas will not be in effect, and the available price support on the 1957 wheat crop to those who comply with the farm wheat acreage allotments will be at a level of 50 per cent parity.

When a marketing quota is in effect, the excess wheat of growers who does not comply with his farm wheat acreage allotment and who has more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain on the farm will be subject to a marketing quota penalty. This penalty will be equal to 45 per cent of the May 1, 1957 parity price for wheat.

Chairman Hardy emphasized that the vote is on wheat marketing quotas and not wheat allotments. Whether or not the vote is favorable on the quotas, acreage allotments will be in effect for the 1957 crop of wheat.

Marketing quotas have been approved by growers voting in referendums for the past three wheat crops. Last year 77.3 per cent of the growers voting favored quotas for the 1956 wheat crop.

Little Things

Ordinarily we think we owe America's greatness to explorers and pioneers and settlers. In part we do. They performed prodigious feats of heroism to discover these shores, settle this land, push back our frontiers, and pioneer an American way of life. When we consider America's beginnings, we reflect upon red men and their primitive civilization, the clash of muskets and the silent flight of arrows, the thud of the woodsman's axe, and the groans of men and women lifting timbers into place, building lonely log cabins deep in the emerald wilderness. We visualize canoes manned by sun-bronzed hunters returning from the kill with provender for another week, and hard-muscled plowmen wrestling wooden plows around white-pine stumps and shouting orders to unhurried oxen.

But besides the valiant performances of early American pioneers, we owe credit for life here and everywhere to a ridiculously small, commonly misunderstood form of life—bacteria. Sounds foolish, doesn't it? But it's true. Those who have studied the nature of our world most thoroughly insist that bacteria are the foundations of life here and everywhere. They have established the base upon which all other forms of life rest.

Say "bacteria" to the average person and he thinks at once of microscopic, disease causing creatures that are his worst enemies. To be sure, there are pathogenic forms of bacteria against which medical science is fighting. But the harmful bacteria form about as high a proportion of the entire bacteria population as convicted murderers do among the human population of the United States.

Most bacteria are helpful servants in the natural world. They break down vegetable and animal tissue to make rich soil without which food crops would be impossible. They are nature's scavengers and janitors, removing the dead and keeping the good earth clean. They break up rock and incorporate it into soil. Bacteria live amidst the roots of plants and help them make use of the nutrients in the soil. They exist in the digestive tracts of animals, including man, softening the hard cellulose of plant food so that it can be digested. There would be no life-supporting soil in America, no sanitation, no human beings, if it were not for bacteria which most of us have never seen. While we sing the praises of our founding fathers, we might remember too these infinitesimally small, commonly overlooked and usually abhorred pioneers of life, the bacteria. The biggest things in America depend, directly or indirectly, on these little things.

In fact, wherever you go in nature or in life, the biggest things depend upon the littlest things. The vitality of a seed lies not in the largest, most obvious part, the meat, but rather in the small, almost imperceptible embryo. In the seed of the coconut palm this center of vitality weighs only one two-thousandths of the entire weight of the coconut, minus its husk. It is the tiniest part of a seed, the embryo, that contains the life of future plants.

One of nature's most powerful levers is a little thing—an ice crystal. A drop of water rolling into a narrow crevice of a rock freezes. The drop becomes a crystal of ice, irresistibly expanding until the rock is split in two. What man does with dynamite and gigantic hammers, nature accomplishes with the smallest wisp of moisture left over from a late fall rain.

Lowly little earthworms benefit the soil, dragging into their burrows dead leaves and other organic material. There they leisurely feed upon it, carelessly leaving scraps of their dinner in their underground dens. These neglected left-overs become mixed with the soil, enriching it. Earthworm tunnels open the soil, allowing water and air to enter freely. Worm castings comprise much of nature's fertilizer.

As we mature in mind and spirit, we lose our proneness to be impressed by mere size. A small child may prefer a nickel to a dime because the nickel is larger. But as the child matures, he learns that largeness is not a sound basis for judging all values. When the youngster at last becomes a parent, he will love his new-born child as much if it weighs but six pounds as if it weighed ten. Love is not a matter of ounces and pounds or measurement from the bottom of

'Seven Year Itch' First Playhouse Offering For '56

The curtain goes up Saturday, June 30 for the first production of the season by the professional Actor's Equity Company at the Petoskey Playhouse.

The opening production, "The Seven Year Itch", will be presented for one week and gives promise of the real genuine article, namely, the play as it was successfully presented on Broadway for close to three years, with no cuts in delighted dialogue and sophisticated sequence.

The humorous freshness of this carbonated comedy that made it a great hit on Broadway, in Chicago and other cities, derives from extravagant quibbles and imaginings of a rather naive young married fellow who "believes" he is having a fling with an exotic neighbor while his wife is on vacation. All the hilarity stems from his taking the gorgeous scatterbrained neighborhood siren for a walk down his garden path... and being comically overwhelmed by his guilty conscience and fears of his wife's retribution.

Innocent retribution deflates the presumably Don Juan and the audience feels that he has experienced a permanent cure for his romantic itch, that may have threatened his marriage.

As the curtain falls, he will never again give extra-curricular romance another thought... or will he?

Use shade-tolerant species of grass like red fescue for light soils and pea trifolium for heavy soils to overcome the sparse grass problems under shade trees, advise M. S. U. turf specialists.

It, "If you do a small thing as if it were a great thing, God will let you do the great thing as if it were a small thing."

Sometimes when I ponder the big consequences of little things, like a ten-word telegram or a casual word of encouragement or a "thank you" note or an encouraging hand clasp or a thoughtful unexpected and inexpensive gift, or a moment's fun and companionship with a little child, I wonder if there is anything more worth-while than doing little things.

Social Welfare Board Reports On Cost Of Operating Grandvue

The Charlevoix county board of Social Welfare has made a report on the cost of operating Grandvue hospital located near East Jordan during the past two years. The report has been made in an effort to acquaint the public with the services offered by the county-owned hospital and the need for improved and increased facilities.

Operating expenses increased from $54,102.96 for the year 1954 to $74,650.79 for the year 1955. Major increases in expenses were shown which jumped $4,269.37 over 1954 to $36,085.64 for 1955; building $5,898.70 in 1955, an increase of $5,678.60; equipment $3,635.77, up $2,744.44 from the previous year; septic tank cost increased from $466.45 to $7,144.82. Other operating cost showed slight variation in the two comparative years.

During 1954 a total of 14,673 patients days care was given at a total cost (including capital outlay of $1,377.81) of $54,102.96 or an average of $3.69 per patient day.

Last year a total of 13,932 patient days care was given at a total cost (including capital outlay of $17,267.24) of $74,650.79 or an average of $5.36 per patient day.

If it had been necessary for the county to care for the patients in a general hospital where the cost would have been approximately $10.00 per day plus the necessary doctor, drug and special services charges the cost would have been much higher.

The above figures include 513 hospital days at a cost of $1,348.87 for patients entirely dependent on the county for hospitalization during 1954 and 481 hospital days last year at a cost of $1,883.50. Again, the cost of hospitalizing these patients in a general hospital would have been prohibitive.

At the present time the county also has 14 patients at four convalescent homes in the area who could be cared for at Grandvue hospital if there was room. Thirteen other applications for admittance are on file.

Grandvue hospital, operated by the Department of Social Welfare, has served such a great need that now all requests for its services cannot be satisfied. The hospital has been operating to full capacity most of the time during the past year.

The capital outlay to meet state requirements is increasing. However, if something is not done in the near future to improve the present facilities, the building may be condemned, according to a spokesman for the commission. Many familiar with the work of the department believe that a new unit to increase the facilities of the hospital should be constructed now. Such a facility would make it possible to give care to a greater number of patients and relieve many existing problems.

The number of sick and aged people requiring care is steadily increasing. If the welfare department is to care for these people at a minimum cost, additional facilities must be made available.

Women's Hospital Guild Will Hold Annual Bake Sale

Plans for the annual bake sale sponsored by the Women's Guild of the Charlevoix Hospital Tuesday to raise funds for equipment for the Charlevoix hospital have been announced by Mrs. Gordon L. Freedman, president of the Guild.

The event will be held at 209 Bridge st., the former Kroger Store beginning at 10 a. m. Tuesday.

The sale has been arranged by the ways and means committee composed of Fran Martin, Mrs. James Coleman, Mrs. Richard Wood, Mrs. William Butters, Mrs. Alfred Brow and Mrs. Edward Lemke who will call all members late this week to remind them of the sale. Posters announcing the sale will be made by Mrs. Lemke.

Anyone wishing to contribute to the sale may do so by calling any member of the committee. Persons wishing to contribute baked goods but who do not have a means of delivering them to the sale may call committee members who will have someone call for the contribution.

club for planning the program and commended his postal staff for their fine efforts in making Charlevoix's post office a true servant of the public.

S. E. Coleman, secretary of the Charlevoix board of commerce, welcomed the guests to Charlevoix. C. B. Meggison and Joseph M. Foster, past postmaster of the local post office were introduced. Edward L. Baker, now past president of the Michigan Chapter, spoke briefly and introduced other postal department officials who were present for the dedication.

Music for the program was played by the Charlevoix high school band directed by C. A. Odmark. Mrs. Lee Moerland, Soloist, led the audience in singing the National Anthem to conclude the program.

The Rev. O. B. Ansted gave the invocation and the Rev. E. F. Denay the benediction.

A parade led by the V. F. W. color bearers and guards, the 310th Ordinance Co. in command of Capt. John Barkdoll and the Charlevoix high school band preceded the program. Visiting officials as well as local officials rode in the parade.

The dedication program was one of the highlights of the annual Michigan Postmasters Association convention held Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week at the Charlevoix Hotel.

Mr. Robertson was the guest speaker at the banquet Saturday night. Rep. Knox also addressed the group. Mary Ripley postmistress of Sault Ste. Marie, was toastmistress.

William Bonek of Suttons Bay was installed as president of the organization at the conclusion of the banquet Saturday night. He succeeds Edward L. Baker of Detroit. Mrs. Adeline Phillips is the secretary-treasurer of the Association which also had eight vice presidents.

Among the speakers at the business session was Gov. G. Mennen Williams who attended a luncheon meeting Thursday.

Annual Barbecue Homecoming To Be Held Wednesday

Ellsworth—This village is looking forward to celebrating the thirtieth annual Roast Beef Fourth of July Wednesday, by staging the thirtieth annual Roast Beef barbecue and Ellsworth homecoming at Ellsworth Park.

Joseph F. Bugai, program chairman, reports that plans have been completed to entertain the 2,000 people expected to attend.

At noon serving of sandwiches, coffee and other foods will begin until all are served.

At 1:30 the High school band

Also in the program are numbers featuring "The Sisters" composed of Martha Lord, Judy Dressell, Deanna Doremy and Lonnie Thompson, under the direction of Miss Lord, who has previously co-starred with the famous "Cynnets" on radio and in many public appearances in Michigan.

Races for young and old will be held at 3 p. m.

Two softball games are scheduled for the evening. At 6:30 Charlevoix will play Empire Airforce base team and at 8:15 Charlevoix will send a team to play the Ellsworth Chamber of commerce team.

Farmers Warned Of Poison Gases When Filling Silos

Don't take chances with those dangerous gases when you are filling silos this summer, Ed Rehman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent, has warned.

Carbon dioxide gas often replaces the oxygen in the silo pit before it is full and this gas can cause suffocation quickly, he added.

In partially filled silos where the silage has set over eight hours, it is a good idea to let the blower run for a few minutes with the lower silage doors removed before going inside the silo, Rehman recommends. This will circulate the air at the base of the silage level and remove possible carbon dioxide gas.

To check for the presence of the dangerous gas, Mr. Rehman advises lowering a lantern into the pit. If the light goes out, better ventilate the place before entering.

Another safety tip from Mr. Rehman: Make sure the silo ladder is in good condition. Take away the broken rungs so children won't be tempted to climb. And check the silo platform.

140 Bob Cats Reported Killed In Past Season

An estimated 140 bobcats were taken by hunters during the lower peninsula's first hunting season on the species, December 15 to March 15.

During early December, 148 known bobcat hunters were asked to keep records of their hunting success. About 76 percent of these hunters cooperated and kill estimates were made from their records. The kill figure closely agreed with estimates by Conservation Department district game supervisors.

Hunters had better success in the first half of the season bagging 77 percent of the total kill by January 31. The kill in the latter half of the season probably was down because most surplus cats already had been taken and weather conditions were less favorable for hunting. Hunters said at least 25 breed cats were allowed to escape in order to save breeding stock for future years.

Women's Guild Of Hospital Outlines Tentative Plans For Coming Year

A resume' of the year's activities was given and tentative plans for the coming year were made at the annual meeting of the Women's Guild of the Charlevoix hospital held recently at the high school band room.

In the absence of the outgoing president, Mrs. Alan Macdonell who had served for the past two years, Mrs. Kit Carson presided at the meeting.

Miss Ann Baumgartner, superintendent of the hospital, addressed the group briefly, thanking the Guild for what it had done for the hospital, outlining the aims of the hospital and recently a suggested list of equipment needed by the hospital. The Guild will select several items as its project for the summer.

Fred Willis, president of the Charlevoix hospital board of directors, commended the Guild on its efforts in behalf of the hospital and outlined plans for the proposed solarium which will be partially financed by the $12,600 allocated the hospital by the Ford Foundation. He said that the addition will cost an estimated $15 to $20,000 and added that in an emergency, the solarium could be converted into a ward.

Other members of the board including Max Novak, Gordon Freedman, Mrs. E. K. Shanahan and Mrs. Carson, the latter two members of the Guild, were present and were introduced.

From where I sit... by Joe Martin

Junior Gets "Pinned" Doc.

Junior Baker and friends are all set for their circus. Look for their advertisements on neighborhood trees.

The kids have had problems in staging the event. The biggest was the admission fee. Junior wanted to charge five cents. Mrs. Baker thought it would be much nicer if they charged five pins.

No Junior held a meeting with his Directors—then told his mother they'd taken her advice. The ads now read: Giant Circus in Baker's Backyard. ADMISSION: FIVE PINS PLUS FIVE CENTS TAX.

From where I sit, that's a cute example of a mighty important point—if you want things to turn out your way, then you had better let the other fellow have his choice, too. For instance, if our taste should happen to run to say, iced tea... then you owe it to yourself to see that those who prefer beer, buttermilk or whatever you get to enjoy their favorite beverages, too.

Rural Leadership School At M. S. U. To Be Held July 9-20

The 10th annual Rural Leadership school will be held at Michigan State University July 9 to 20 when many professors will help rural ministers develop ways to strengthen rural church and community programs.

About 100 rural clergymen from Michigan and many other states will enroll for the two-week course.

'Hotrod' Mariners Create Hazards In Some Localities

Rckless or negligent operation of a motorboat is punishable by fines as high as $2,000.00 or by imprisonment for as long as one year, or by both fine and imprisonment, Rear Admiral F. A. Lemmy, Commander of the Ninth Coast Guard district stressed this week.

"Waterborne hotrods" are fast becoming a major problem along with their landlubber colleague, the "crazy driver", he emphasized.

Reckless or negligent operation of zessels is not limited to operation at excessive speeds, but may include overloading small boats, creating a wave capable of causing damage, operating in areas frequented by swimmers, pulling a water skier through an area in which other boats are operating, or where there are swimmers, or operating in such a manner as to cause a collision.

In addition to the U. S. Coast Guard citing offenders, any private citizens who witnesses a violation on the waters of the Great Lakes may report it also to the nearest U. S. Commissioner or U. S. Attorney. Information needed would be the name and or boat number of the vessel involved, the time and place, and most important, names and addresses of witnesses to the incident.

Most motorboat operators obey the rules of good seamanship and courtesy. This law is intended to apply to those who do not. Practice the golden rule and enjoy one of America's fastest growing pleasures.

Grain Bins Should Be Sprayed Before Storing New Crop

Charlevoix county farmers would be wise to start getting their grain bins ready soon for the coming harvest.

That's because new grain should not be placed in bins until at least two weeks after spraying with an insecticide, points out Ed Rebmam, Charlevoix county agricultural agent.

Even after the grain bin is cleaned thoroughly, weevils hide in the cracks and crevices or in the waste grain left behind.

So if the floors, walls and ceiling are sprayed with the 50 percent wettable powder of methoxyvelon, the insects walk into a death trap when they come out of hiding. And more pests join their comrades nightly. They keep dying for days as the newly born insects replace those killed.

At the end of a couple of weeks, or more, the dead pests can be swept out from the walls and floors along with all traces of the insecticide.

Rebmam stresses that the old wheat taken from the cleaned bin should not be replaced or be stored near the new grain.

to spend the day bass fishing in the Garden-Hog island area.

A boat from the Beaver Island lifeboat station and the plane from the Traverse City air station were dispatched to the area late Monday when the tug failed to return.

Earlier it was believed that the tug would remain in the area until the fog lifted. However, when they did not return late Monday the Beaver Island and Traverse City units were asked to investigate. The Beaver Island lifeboat went to the scene and found the tug aground about 100 feet from shore. The men on the tug requested provisions which were dropped on the island. The men went ashore on the small skiff to retrieve them.

Early Tuesday Beaver Island lifeboat returned to the scene with pumps in an effort to pump out the tug which had taken water when it went on the shoal. Later they requested assistance and the 40 ft. patrol boat from Charlevoix was dispatched to the scene taking with it additional pumps and other equipment.

The Coast Guard floated the tug Tuesday afternoon and proceeded to tow it into port at Charlevoix.

On board the boat with Mr. White were his son, Mark, Leroy Plum, Clarence Goldstick, Peter Kanoff, Norman Empey, Guy Smith, Claire Martin and Robert Reed.

'The Big Sing' To Open On Thursday At The Argonne

The Big Sing featuring Broadway's 10-years-BA show in himself man, Ted Meyn, organist extraordinaire and style-soloist, will open up at the Argonne Thursday, Bill Matzinger has announced.

Acclaimed by Broadway critics as the greatest audience participation, community-sing man in show business, Ted Meyn comes to the Argonne directly from the Elsmark Hotel in Chicago where his show, The Big Sing, was a huge success for over a year, and to where he will return this fall for another season's engagement.

Before going to the Bismarck Meyn performed for over 10 years at the famous Capitol theater on Broadway in New York—the longest stand of any showman in the business.

At the Argonne, Meyn is the lone entertainer—a one man show deal, produced, staged and lighted by himself, in which the song is glorified, words flashed, superimposed upon a huge scenic screen, an ever-changing background of colorful shots of garden spots at the world over.

Summer Season To Swing Into High Gear Starting This Week

The summer resort season in Charlevoix is expected to swing into high gear this week as hotel motels, restaurants, cabins and rooming houses roll out the welcome mat for the anticipated summer visitors.

Hoping for warm weather and sunny skies the majority of the area resorts are now open.

The Charlevoix Beach Hotel was the first of the area hotels to open. The hotel has already been host to three major conventions as well as to many other guests.

The Belvedere club, owned and operated by the Belvedere Association, opened Friday under the management of E. J. Edwards who is beginning his sixth year in the position. Mrs. Queenie Wood has returned for her thirteenth season as office manager.

In addition to the hotel, the facility includes more than 85 cottages and the Belvedere golf club.

The Chicago club also opened last week under the management of T. W. Van Houten, who is well known in Chicago club circles and who comes here from the Prairie Dunes Country club in Hutchinson, Kans. In addition to the private club, there are 25 cottages on the grounds.

On Belvedere ave., the Grey Gables Inn has been open some time under the management of Mrs. Russell Dundas. The Hallett House located at 312 has also been open under the management of John Hallett.

The popular summer hotel, the Lakeview, located downtown is open for its eighteenth season under the management of James Flynn.

Nearby is the Charlevoix hotel, a year-around, hotel operated by the John Connollys.

The Tower Hotel at 209 Park with its annex and guest houses is open for its sixteenth season under the management of Mrs. Eva Smith. Next door is the Park Lane lodge operated by Mrs. Arthur Mitchell.

On the west end of Dixon ave., on the north side overlooking Lake Michigan are several lodges, all catering to the comfort of the summer visitors. The Alclere Terrace at 110 W. Dixon is open for the sixth season under the management of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Phuhrik. Next is Rainbow lodge at 109 W. Dixon operated by Mrs. Marie Marshall who is spending her thirteenth summer as manager of the lodge.

The Crestview lodge is next at 106 W. Dixon. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson are operating the lodge for the ninth season.

The Flynn cottages at 102 and 104 W. Dixon are open under the School Vote Monday Will Elect Trustees, Decide Two Proposals

Interest in the annual school election is mounting as qualified electors of the Charlevoix school district prepare to go to the polls Monday to elect two trustees to the Board of Education and to vote on proposals which would increase the tax limitations by two mills and authorize the Board of Education to levy an additional two mills or any part thereof for operating expenses for one year.

The largest vote in recent years is expected, the voters plan to visit the polls at the Charlevoix high school between 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. Monday.

A meeting in the high school band room will follow at 8 p. m. At that time the financial report will be given and other business discussed.

Tri-County School Officials Hold Meet At Petoskey

A Tri-county meeting of school and county superintendents from Charlevoix, Antrim and Emmet counties was held at Petoskey Friday.

Harold Wagner of the Finance division of the Department of Public Instruction was present to discuss the special education provision of the 1956-57 State Aid Act. Under the provision of this year's legislation the education of the mentally and physically handicapped children of the state will be increased and broadened wherever it is possible to qualify for reimbursement on a state level. In some cases, counties may wish to combine or delegate certain areas of service where lack of population and finance would otherwise make special education programs prohibitive.

The Tri-County superintendents plan to organize professional and lay citizens in each school district to make surveys and recommendations for action. The county superintendents will act as coordinators with Charles A. Robinson, Charlevoix county superintendent of schools, as secretary-chairman to act as a clearing center for information and a report of progress. Bruce T. Blanchard and H. B. Fisher are county superintendents in Emmet and Antrim counties respectively.

The Charlevoix Board of Education asked for the two additional mills to cover its 1956-57 budget after the Charlevoix county tax allocation board found it necessary to cut the school's allocation to seven mills from eight mills in 1955 despite the fact the school's budget called for nine mills.

If the present program offered by the Charlevoix schools is to be continued and not curtailed this year, the Board of Education will need the extra mills they are asking for in the forthcoming election, a spokesman for the board said this week.

Why is the additional two-mills tax levy necessary?

1. There are more children. Each year there is an increase of approximately 20 pupils.

2. Teachers salaries have been improved and there is an increased number of teachers. For instance, teachers salaries in the Charlevoix schools during the past year totaled $158,400.00.

3. There have been continuous requests for a more complete program.

4. Why does our increased valuations and increased State Aid not meet the increased costs? Because the State Aid program is planned so that the wealthier districts, the less State Aid. For example, Charlevoix's share of State Aid is $190.00 per pupil less 2 1/2 mills deduction because the school district is one of the wealthier ones in the county. Based on an enrollment of 900 students, Charlevoix receives $171,000 minus 2 1/2 mills on the district's assessed valuation of $10,000,000 or $25,000 which leaves the district only $146,000.00 in State Aid.

Five candidates, including two incumbents, are seeking the election to fill the two vacancies on the Board of Education. They are Fred W. Willis and Bonnie Norcross, present members of the board who are seeking re-election, Jasper Warner, Marion township farmer, Robert Lieberman, local businessman and Dr. Robert G. Martin, local physician.

Two proposals will be offered for the approval of the electors of the school district.

The first to increase the existing tax limitations of 15 mills by two mills, is necessary before the second proposal, to authorize the Board of Education to levy a maximum of two mills for operational expenses for one year, can become effective.

Any qualified elector in the school district may cast his vote for the trustees and to increase the tax limitation by two mills. However, only a qualified elector who is also a tax payer, i.e., pays taxes on either real or personal property or both, may vote on the second proposal to authorize the Board of Education to levy two additional mills or any part thereof.

The Charlevoix Board of Education asked for the two additional mills to cover its 1956-57 budget after the Charlevoix county tax allocation board found it necessary to cut the school's allocation to seven mills from eight mills in 1955 despite the fact the school's budget called for nine mills.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

The bass are biting again... for those of you who are interested in bass fishing... We've even had proof in the form of a wonderful catch of the tasty fish brought to us by our fisherman friend, Bill Jenkins... Don't know where he finds 'em... but find and catches them he does...

For two weeks in a row now plane crashes have happened that have struck home in Charlevoix... First it was the tragic one over the airport in Pontiac which snuffed out the life of Dale Matthews and now it's the one over Grand Canyon on Colorado which has taken the life of another former Charlevoixian, Al Widdfield of Chicago... Who has returned here often tho' he had been gone most of the time since graduating in the mid-'20s... The sympathy of the entire community goes out to their families.

Do you know what a 'Jeff' is? We understand that if you don't, you just haven't lived... It's a concoction of ice cream, bitersweet, marshmallow and heaven knows what else, that's made at both our local drug stores... and no place else... By that, we hear it's peculiar to Charlevoix... We always hear people ordering them and see the soda fountain girls mixing 'em up but we didn't realize until last week that you just can't get 'em elsewhere... Try one sometime... they look good but they're a meal in themselves, we think...

Here's an assignment that's going to be hard to take... We happened to be passing the time of day recently with Norm Allen who happened to mention that he and several others from here would join the crew of the I. T. Quonstrom schooner, My Dream, for the Port Huron to Mackinaw race later this month... Joining Mr. Q. and his skipper, George Plumm, will be Norm, Karl Erber and Lyle Miles... We can't think of anything that would be more thrilling... We sure hope that they clock the best time... or what ever it is that you have to do to win...

If you're one of those people who likes to do his Christmas shopping early don't forget that you have less than six months to do it in... In fact, this year of 1956 is half gone right now... So don't say, come Dec. 24 that we didn't warn you to get at the job... Don't know what your sentiments are about centennials but as far as we're concerned they're something we could easily live without... Especially when the guys in the community start raising beards... There are those people who figure it's cheaper to grow one than to buy a license permitting them to shave daily... A friend of ours, is among these... After this week, it'll be nice to see him as we once knew him... sans mutton chops... Yes, we mean you, Ralph Hamilton... If beards, mustaches and whiskers are part of the good old days we're always hearing about, you can have 'em...

Because spring was so late arriving everyone is enjoying the flowers this year... That's why we appreciated the lovely bouquet of peonies in an array of colors the Gibbons family brought us the other day... They're just about the prettiest flowers we know... along with just about anything else you'd like to mention... We love 'em all...

Back to the recent Postmaster's convention... We always had the idea that postoffices were in charge of our male population... And were we surprised to find that there's probably more postmistresses than postmasters... Just another example of the gals taking over...

We are indebted to our friend, Will Hampton, for this bit of information of interest to early Charlevoixians... It's about a character whose name is Bobby Jarvis... We'd heard of him before but Mr. H. supplied us with a lot of interesting material about him... including the fact that he was born in Charlevoix, that his father, Bert Jarvis, always headed up local bands and musical recitals and that Bobby, as he is still known, started treading the boards at an early age... In fact, he's been in show biz since the turn of the century, first appearing in stage shows, then into vaudeville, then Broadway and more recently, one of the opera world's foremost directors and disciples... He's directed music circuses in Sacramento, Miami Beach and Cape Cod after years as a stage impresario for the Alfreco Light Opera Co. in St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Toledo and Houston... And now he's managing director of the Melody Circus Theatre at Farmington...

So you former residents in the Detroit area can stop by and reminisce... and see a good show in the bargain...

First we don't have it at all and then we have too much of it... If you're any good at riding at all you can easily guess that we're talking about the rain we've been having recently... Since we've had so little in the past year, we find it hard to take... If it gets the good old water back in the ground, we won't complain too much...

Here's a little jingle we happen to see the other day that we assume a few mothers are saying in their hearts these days... Rain, rain, go away, Come again another day, 'cause the neighbors kids have come to play...

And with the rains came the wind storm, south of here... Guess the damage in the Grand Traverse area was very bad... and with the cherry crop just nearing the harvesting time, the storm, practically wiped out this year's crop... We were lucky to have missed it this time... Incidentally if some of our summer visitors should happen to read this... one three-minute blast of the fire gun has been adopted as a tornado warning... We hope you won't hear it, but in case you should, take to the nearest shelter...

It's hard to believe that July 4 has come and gone... and that summer's really here by the calendar... Gee, remember the Fourth of July celebrations they used to have when you were a kid... all sorts of entertainment climaxed by a street dance and fireworks... Another one of the things that are part of the past... Put they were great fun...

St. Mary's church at Lake Leelanau was the scene recently of the wedding of Rosella Bussey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Urban Bussey of Lake Leelanau and Robert Bonner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Bonner of St. James.

of white peau de soie silk for her wedding. It was fashioned with an Empire waist outlined with seedpearls and rhinestones, portrait neckline and long tapering sleeves and a bouffant skirt. A crown of seedpearls and rhinestones secured her fingertip veil. She carried a white prayer book covered with an arrangement of stephanotis.

THOUGHTS AFIELD

by Harold E. Kohn

There's a world of difference between a wild animal and a tame one. As a child I often saw raccoons in the city zoo, sullen, lazy, despondent creatures. But the raccoons that make Hidden Brook a home and raid our garbage can, turning it topsy-turvy with their chattering and clattering soon after darkness falls—these raccoons are removed from their caged and pampered relatives. They are shifty, sharp-witted, nimble, exuberant. Masters of every trick for evading hunting packs of coon dogs, they wade along creeks, walk fallen logs, and dive into lakes to lose their scent and frustrate their pursuers. They are resourceful hunters of food. Rocks, then turned over prove hiding places for snails, mussels, and water insects. Long black dexterous raccoon fingers dart after ore and fishes. White grubs are pulled from rotting logs, pulled apart by strong raccoon claws. One few caught. Turtle eggs are well, it all, dug up and devoured. Corn from farmers' fields and grains and fruits are picked when fall comes. A wild raccoon is an alert, intelligent creature with his wits working wonderfully to keep him alive and fat. A tame raccoon, while an affectionate and mischievous pet, has the keen edges of his senses dulled by man's protection. Unused wits are soon lost.

When any wild animal accustomed to staying alive by constant use of its intelligence is captured and protected by man, it tends to lose some of its mental faculties. Such a change can take place in a single generation as a recent experiment in Germany has demonstrated. A German zoologist caught a pair of wild foxes and confined them to a zoo, where they were sheltered, fed, and protected from hunters and their dogs. The vixen littered and some of the young foxes, when partly grown, were released to run wild again. These too proved caught and killed some members of three generations, weighed their brains and recorded amazing results. The original wild generation had brains weighing fifty grams. The brains of the generation born and reared in the zoo weighed only thirty-five grams. Brains of the second wild generation weighed fifty grams. Concerning creature's wits, nature has decreed, "Use them or lose them."

In nearly all species of animals and birds that man has domesticated, the muzzle and the skull have grown shorter than in their wild relatives. Why does the muzzle shrink? Because man prepares the creature's food for him, reducing the work that jaws and teeth must do. With a decreased work load, these members shrink to fit their task. The skulls grew shorter because the animals and

Clean Eggs' Value Better On Market

Clean eggs are worth more than dirty eggs and clean unwashed eggs are worth more than clean washed eggs, reminds Ed Reberman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent.

To sell clean eggs without having to wash them, Charlevoix county poultrymen must overcome their most serious problem in keeping laying houses clean—that of wet floors, according to Agent Reberman.

A dry laying house floor also helps keep the laying flock healthy besides increasing the production of clean eggs.

Agent Reberman reports that a newly published extension folder offers tips on keeping the poultry house dry. J. M. (Mac) Moore, extension poultryman, and A. J. Bell, former extension agricultural engineer, authored the folder which is number F-210.

Agent Reberman says copies of the folder may be obtained from the Charlevoix county extension office located at Boyne City.

Week-End 'Emerald Isle' Schedule Allows Eight-Hour Island Visit

The new schedule of the Beaver Island ferry, the motorship, "Emerald Isle", which will allow passengers an eight-hour visit on Beaver Island three days of the week until September 1 will become effective this weekend, officials of the Beaver Island Boat Co. have announced.

Under the new schedule, the motorship will make two trips a day on Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week thus allowing visitors to America's Emerald Isle located 34 miles northwest of here in Lake Michigan an eight-hour stop-over from 11:45 a. m. to 7:30 p. m.

The eight-hour visit to the Island will allow visitors an opportunity to tour the historic island, site of King Strang's Mormon kingdom which was dissolved with his assassination just 100 years ago.

On Friday, Saturday and Sunday, the "Emerald Isle", will leave the municipal dock here at 9 a. m. and return at 3:15 p. m. before departing on its second trip at 4 p. m. and returning at 10:15 p. m.

The motorship will continue its regular schedule weekly Monday through Thursday, departing at 9 a. m. and returning at 5:30 p. m. with a three-hour stop-over at the island.

This marks the second year for the motorship, Emerald Isle, which was constructed for the Beaver Island Boat Co. for the route between Beaver Island and the mainland.

The motorship was built and launched at Sturgeon Bay, Wis., and went into operation on the ferry run April 22, 1955.

During the first season which ended Dec. 31, 1955, the motorship transported 12,607 passengers; 1,793 motor vehicles; all freight including gasoline, fuel oil, coal to and from the time navigation opens in the spring until Jan. 1.

News Round-up at Camp Charlevoix

"Once Again We Come Together" was the camp song that sounded loud and clear at Camp Charlevoix on Saturday night after a day of boys arriving from ten different states by the way of car, bus, train and plane. It was a day of renewing friendships made last year, and new boys finding new buddies. The weather was perfect for an opening day, bright and warm, and the camp was ready and waiting for the parents' inspection and the boys' admiration.

Saturday night after our first meal in camp as a complete group, the annual pillow fight took place in the lodge. There was much excitement and several very even matches were arranged much to the delight of the 166 campers and the 60 staff members. It was a great night and boys and staff went to bed tired but happy that the 1956 season was officially underway.

Several familiar faces are back at camp this year. Harry Bingham is back for his twenty-first year, and along with Mrs. Bingham, runs the business office.

Barney and Grace Engelhart, of course, are back to see that the maintenance end of camp runs smoothly. Joe and Helen Shaw, of Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, are the cooks back for their eighth year. Mrs. Harry Elzinga, of Charlevoix, is assisting in the kitchen, while Mr. Elzinga is helping at the stables. Bill Townsend, graduate of both Purdue University and the University of Indiana, is director of activities for his first year. Lee Lenhart, University of Colorado, and Tom Kearney of Flossmoor, Ill., are heading up the riding department. Several of the men are from the Medical School at the University of Michigan, these being Lynn Howell, Bob Jewett, Jack Pierce, John Colwell. Others from the University of Michigan are Carl Haag, Bill Fors, Bob Burns, with Glen Miller and Joe Hilselby of the University of Michigan swimming team. Albion college has three men at the camp. They are Bill Morse for his fourth year on the Waterfront, and John Stafford and Collyer.

Cattle feeders will not be willing to pay as much for feeder stock this fall as they were a year ago, say M. S. U. marketing specialists.

School Vote Monday Will Elect Trustees

By the same token, another district whose assessed valuation is only $6,000.00 with the same number of student will receive $156,000.00 or $10,000 more than Charlevoix district.

5. The Charlevoix public library is maintained as a public service by the school at a cost of $5,930 to $6,000 yearly. Charlevoix is one of the few schools in the state to bear the entire cost of operating a public library.

6. The average teacher load in the Charlevoix schools is 25.7 students per classroom thus allowing more individual help and thus turning out better students.

7. The heating plant which was authorized by the people of the district in 1952 has caused a deficit which must be met. The additional two mills will allow the payment of $6,400 on the deficit for the coming year.

8. Many teachers in the Charlevoix schools are at the maximum in experience and salary.

9. The school shares in the cost of maintaining the winter skating program, thus keeping the children from possible thin ice hazards over deep water.

10. The school shares the summer recreation program which provides many hours of entertainment for youngsters and parents alike.

And what will this proposed additional two mills mean to the taxpayer? If your property is assessed at $1,000.00 it will mean only $2.00 for the year; if the valuation is $2,000.00 it will mean only an additional $4.00 for one year and $6.00 for one year if your property is assessed at $3,000.00.

Think twice before you vote but be sure and cast your ballot in the annual school election Monday.

Second Round Of City Softball Schedule Will Open Next Week

The second round of the summer softball schedule will get underway early next week following the completion of the first half of the schedule during the next few days, Dean Davenport, softball director, has announced.

Ellsworth has joined the Class A league to round out a six-team loop for the second part of the season, he added. The new schedule will be announced as soon as rain-out games are played off.

American Mold will meet Freedman in the Class A league at Kipke field at 8:15 p. m. tonight (Thursday) with a Class B make-up game between Edwards and Zephyr scheduled for 6:15 p. m. At 8:15 p. m. Friday Freedman's will play the Coast Guard in a Class A make-up game. If any other games are rained out this week, they will be scheduled for early next week.

With the possibility of a three-way tie for first place in the Peanut league, a play-off for the first round championship may also be necessary, Mr. Davenport added. If this is necessary, the games will be scheduled before the new schedule becomes effective.

Rain held down the games to a minimum during the past week with only two Class A games being played.

Class A League Standings
Carson-Klooster	2 0
City Merchants	2 1
Freedman's	1 1
U. S. Coast Guard	0 1
American Mold	0 2

Class B League Standings

Tigers	0 3
Pirates	2 0
Dodgers	2 1
Red Sox	1 1

All four teams in the Peanut league now boast managers. They are George LaBlance of the Dodgers, Bill Marme of the Red Sox, Leo Putman and Frank Case of the Tigers and Del Terril of the Pirates.

The daughter of Mrs. Carl Weil and the late Mr. Weil, the former Rita W. Weil spent the summer in Charlevoix as a girl and young woman.

Voters Defeat School Tax Proposals, Elect New Board Trustees

Residents of the Charlevoix school district turned out en masse to defeat a proposal which would have given the district two extra mills for operating costs and elected two new trustees to the Charlevoix board of education in the annual school election Monday.

The election brought out 653 voters as compared with only 81 in 1955.

The proposal to raise the tax limitation by two mills was turned down by a vote of 424 to 204 and the second proposal, which would have authorized the school board to levy up to two mills for a period of one year was defeated by a vote of 413 to 193.

Robert G. Lieberman, local businessman, and Robert G. Martin M. D., local physician, were named to the board of education for terms of three years. Mr. Lieberman polled 390 votes and Dr. Martin 356 ballots to defeat incumbents Fred W. Willis and Bonnie Nickerson who tallied 120 and 107 votes respectively. A fifth candidate, Jasper Warner, polled 311 votes.

The proposals to raise the tax limitation and to levy two mills for operating costs were placed on the ballot after the Charlevoix county tax allocation board, at its annual spring meeting, allocated only seven mills to the schools to cover a budget which called for nine mills. Last year the schools were given eight mills.

More than 100 members of the school district attended the annual meeting following the election Monday night. Mr. Nickerson, president of the board of education, presided.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read by Vernon Matthews and E. D. Hawley.

A number of questions regarding school finance were asked. Among them was how much remained to be paid on the bond issue of $225,000 which was voted in 1952 to finance the cost of constructing the new addition to the elementary building and the building which houses the band and industrial arts departments.

Mr. Hawley said that $165.00 remained to be paid and that, at the present rate of payment, the bond issue would be retired long before the expiration date.

It was also explained that at the time the new building was constructed, it was necessary to purchase and install a heating plant at the cost of $33,234.34 when the state fire marshal failed to approve the heating plant then being used, to heat the new addition. Because this happened after the bond issue had been approved, it was not included and therefore has had to come out of revenue which would otherwise be used for operating costs.

The driver training car, the physical education program and other phases of school finance were also brought up for discussion.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fren Martin

Belated good wishes to several of our oldest residents . . . To the George Meggisons who observed their 63rd wedding anniversary July 2 and the Ben Yettaws who observed their 58th on July 4 our very best wishes for continued happiness together . . . And to our friend, Herman Meesker a belated birthday wish on the occasion of his 80th birthday anniversary which was Sunday . . .

Wanna pooch? . . . We know where there's the cutest batch of little black and white cocker spaniels you've ever seen just looking for homes . . . They're down at the Coast Guard lifeboat station where the nicest brown and white mather dog has these little puppies . . . She's getting all kinds of attention from the crew at the station but it seems four additional mouths to feed are four too many . . . So if you'd like one, speak up now "cause they're takin' orders . . . But don't ask for one if you don't plan to give it a good home . . . Like Dondi in the funny paper who's looking for "deserving children" to give his puppies to, the Coast Guard personnel wants to make sure these pooches go to good homes too . . . Their pedigree? How can you question that? . . . Weren't they born into one of oldest and greatest services? ! ! !

Next time you cross the bridge take a looksee across to the south bank and take note of the lovely anchor-shaped flower bed Dr. Walter Hoffman has planted in his lawn . . . The red and white flowers are making themselves noticed and it's a very attractive sight . . .

To former Charlevoix residents living in the Detroit area . . . plans for a summer picnic of the Charlevoix-Detroit club are shimmering . . . The time and place are listed in a story elsewhere in this issue . . . Sounds like great fun so better plan to attend . . . One day last week two little boys living on the south side were scuffling around for something interesting to do when one said to the other . . . Let's go outdoors and fight . . . Now, said the second little guy, I don't wanna . . . The first little guy, intent on starting a good scrap wanted to know why not . . . He got his answer alright . . . for the second kid had a ready one . . . I don't fight unless my brother's around . . .

Was in the Turkey Wing a while back and got talking to the DeWitt Peterses who own the place about all the antiques they have on the wall . . . We were amazed to hear the history of some of them . . . There's a hand-made corn planter put together with pegs that's years and years old . . . an apple-butter paddle that's a museum piece . . . an old cradle that you harvest grain with . . . plus a beautiful copper kettle and some old brass ship's lanterns that you wouldn't believe unless you saw them . . . There's something so romantic about those old things . . . that have so much hand work in them . . .

Last week we mentioned the soda fountain concoction made only in Charlevoix and known as a "Jeff" . . . George Glados told us that he'd made them in his Sugar Bowl as long ago as 1915 . . . John Schroeder told us this story about them that should interest you old timers . . . The story was told to him about the late F. J. Fessenden who came here in the 1920's . . . He said the concoction was named for the old policeman, Jeff Wikel . . . who represented the law in Charlevoix for so many years . . . Could be . . . And a lot of people agree that it's a super treat . . .

If you had the feeling Saturday that you were hearing the flutter of a large bird's wings . . . It wasn't an illusion . . . The stork express line was having a busy day at the Charlevoix hospital . . . making six trips during the day for one of the busiest days the maternity department has seen for some time . . . The week was also a busy one with a total of guild notes...

Jane Gilbert, chairman of the sewing committee, announces that the fourth layette has been given away at the hospital.

The sale of the vacuum packed "Golden Nugget" candies has proved so successful that a variety of candies is now on sale by members of the Guild. The new candies include cans of cream mint and coconut crunches. These can be purchased from the following list of members: Mrs. Gordon Freedman, Mrs. B. Barker, Mrs. K. Schultz, Mrs. Wm. Butters, Fran Martin, Fran Milner, Mrs. E. Wissel, Mrs. Chas. Pontius, Mrs. W. Wood, Mrs. R. L. Grute, Mrs. C. Bellinger, Mrs. E. D. Hawley, Mrs. R. Greenway, Mrs. S. E. Coleman.

Thank you, Mrs. M. A. Atlas for volunteering for the second summer as a cart pusher. Mrs. Atlas is relieving Mrs. E. D. Hawley, active local Guild worker, for other duties.

Margit Hamilton's tray committee decorated the hospital trays with small flags bolstered in gumdrops for the Fourth of July hospital patients.

The Membership Committee requested that you have your dollars ready to pay Mrs. E. D. Hawley at the next meeting.

Memorial Donations were made recently by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon L. Freedman for Dale Mathews, and Mrs. Harry Newman and Isaac Gilbert for Mrs. Albert Mackenheir.

12 babies in seven days . . . Who's worrying about the population not being what it should? . . .

When Charlie Hamlin stopped by at the Lake Construction Co. on the Petoskey road one day recently he got the surprise of his life for there in the doorway looking as tho' he belonged, was a real live red fox . . . He couldn't believe his eyes and finally attracted the attention of Hal Forjane, who was working near one of the buildings . . . He offered the information that the animal had been hanging around for some time and didn't seem to have any fear of humans . . .

And speaking of wild animals, we know where there's three of the cutest little baby skunks you've ever seen . . . Last Friday night they were spotted going down the road near the municipal golf course . . . One of our brothers, Phil Martin, who lives nearby, caught 'em took 'em home, found homes for two and decided to keep the third and then went about the business of having 'em de-scented . . . They say they make real nice pets so we'll see . . . They're being fed with a medicine dropper and doing very well . . . And before too long two will go to their new homes with Oscar Stroud and Jim Haggard . . . And shortly we should be able to give you all sorts of do's and don'ts on how to raise baby skunks . . . But, first give us a clothespin . . . Maybe it's our imagination but we can still smell 'em . . .

On the Renthrow Valley program over WJR Sunday, who should we hear mentioned but our own George Meggison on the occasion of their 63rd wedding anniversary . . . You can listen to those programs forever, it seems, and never hear a familiar name . . . And all of sudden, there is one . . . Mrs. Meggison told us that the week before the names of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Burns were mentioned . . . on the occasion of their 67th wedding anniversary . . . They are former residents now living in Zephyrhills, Fla . . .

There are a couple stories that we'll have in the Courier shortly that we'd like to advise you to read . . . One is on artificial respiration . . . something that everyone should know about . . . And the second is on tornadoes and what to do in case of one . . . We hope you'll never need the info in either story . . . But they're good things to know . . . just in case . . .

Colburn-Ayrton Marriage Vows Are Spoken In Double Ring Ceremony

Baskets of gladioli and candles decorated the altar of the Assembly of God church recently for the wedding of Marguerite M. Colburn and David Charles Ayrton.

The bride is the foster daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Ryder. Mrs. Aleita Ayrton of Port Huron is the mother of the bridegroom.

The Rev. R. B. Warner of Saginaw officiated at the double ring service assisted by the Rev. T. B. Thodeson, on Saturday afternoon, June 30.

Mrs. Elmer Barber, at the organ, played a program of traditional music and accompanied the soloists, the Rev. Gunnar Kars of Alpena who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" and Lenore Land of Port Huron who sang "A Wedding Prayer".

The bride, given in marriage by her foster father, wore a chapel length gown of white nylon dotted swiss over satin for her wedding. It was fashioned with a princess style bodice which buttoned to the waist, a Peter Pan collar, long sleeves which come to points over the wrists and a full skirt. Her finger-ring veil fell from a half-crown of seed pearls and rhinestones and she carried a cascade bouquet of white feathered carnations and pink sweetheart roses.

Porticia Colburn was her sister's maid of honor and Naomi Drost and Helen Ayrton of Port Huron, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. Miss Colburn wore a yellow gown similar to the bride's and the bridesmaid chose gowns of deep blue. They carried a bouquet of yellow carnations and blue delphinium, florets.

Robert Ayrton of Port Huron assisted his brother as best man. Another brother, Jack Ayrton of Port Huron and James Graham, foster brother of the bride, were ushers.

Mrs. Ryder selected a lavender summer dress, white accessories and a corsage of white carnations for the wedding. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy dress, white accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the couple's home on M. 66. The bride's table, set on the lawn, was centered with a tiered wedding cake flanked by arrangements of garden flowers.

For traveling on their brief wedding trip through western Michigan the bride wore a pink coat dress, white accessories and an orchid corsage. They plan to make their home here for the present.

Power to Face A Change

The slight changes Hidden Brook acres have undergone in the few years we have known the place have made little difference in the habits of creatures who make their home there. Life still goes on much as it did before. Hidden Brook House was built on the banks of the laughing brook. Sky deer and fly fox, wild raccoon and high-strung snowshoe hare take only a casual interest in our invasion of their wild domain. They accept us as neighbors. They call more often when we are out than when we are in, and we find their footprints near our doors and windows. Some audacious "peeping-Tom" whitetail buck snoops about our south windows likely squinting through the narrow opening between the drawn draperies to inspect our housekeeping. Foxes lope up the brook bank and pause not thirty feet from our door. We have not seen them step there, but their tracks tell a story of foxes who run with a purpose, as if on a mission, then hesitate to look in wonder at a human habitation, and then go on again, but more slowly, as if looking back and lost in such thoughts as foxes may have. Ruffed grouse doze in nearby spruces. Squirrels stick twitching, inquisitive noses into every hole and corner, prying into all our affairs. But, save for their casual, off-handed interest in human conduct, the creatures of Hidden Brook live as did their ancestors, fifty or a hundred or a thousand generations ago. They have accepted it with a wholesome flexibility, recovering from the blow, and then going on much as before.

Contrary to much popular opinion, American wildlife has not been utterly doomed by the white man's coming. Some authorities believe that many species have actually increased their population since Columbus' famed voyage. Whitetail deer, foxes, and crows are but a few of nature's children who may have prospered more in the past three centuries than at any other time since their appearance on this continent. They have adjusted to change. When hardship comes, only the flexible, adjustable creatures survive. Blackbirds that gorge themselves on their favorite dish, wild rice, in September will in time of scarcity content themselves with rougher fare, grouse locusts and dragon fly larvae. Cotton-tail rabbits, which prefer such delicacies as parsley and carrots, alfalfa and red clover, will in winter nibble on the less palatable bark of sumac, dogwood and wild cherry. Wild things that have a flexible mind remain healthiest in the face of change. One time I watched a monument-maker as he etched letters and designs on marble. He first covered the stone with a layer of rubber from which he cut out the letters and designs he wanted to engrave. Then he aimed a blast of sand at the monument which ate away the stone, indelibly engraving wording and floral pattern deep into the marble. But whenever the stone was covered with rubber it remained undisturbed. The plant rubber yielded to the blast and then snapped back. The stubborn stone by the same blast was worn away. Some people pride themselves on their unbending nature. They

Announce Voting Place For Wheat Quota Referendum

The Marion township hall has been designated as a polling place in the Charlevoix county wheat marketing quota referendum to be held Friday, July 20, Leroy Hardy, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, has announced.

The polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Growers eligible to vote in the wheat quota referendum include those who will have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest on a farm in 1957. These farmers have been or are being notified of their wheat allotments. Quotas do not affect those farmers who harvest 15 acres or less of wheat for grain on a farm.

If quotas are approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the wheat referendum, the quotas will remain in effect for 1957, and price support will be available to farmers who have complied with their wheat allotments at a level between 75 and 90 percent of parity.

If more than one-third of the growers voting disapprove the quotas, they will not be in effect, and price support will be available to farmers who have complied with their farm wheat allotment at 50 percent of parity.

across the back fence for days. But the children, if allowed, will be playing together again within a matter of minutes.

The great are flexible. John Milton, a poet of rare talent, lost his eyesight. His entire world collapsed about him, and he sat desolate in the shambles.

Then he picked up his pen and went on writing such verse as the world has seldom heard. Beethoven reached fame as a composer of music and then lost his hearing. Could any greater disaster befall a musician? But many of the most majestic productions were composed after the onset of his deafness. Abraham Lincoln, William James, the philosopher, William Allen White, the writer and editor, and countless others among whom are some of America's prominent statesmen, teachers, ministers, philosophers, artists and authors, have suffered "nervous breakdowns," only to return to greater public service.

Perhaps the Psalmist sensed something of the way God had fashioned at the heart of life a heartful flexibility, for he said,

If you now regularly attend another church in our town, this notice is but a neighborly greeting and wish that you and your church may prosper. If you do not already have a church home, it is an invitation to attend Charlevoix's Congregational Church next Sunday.

concerning the Good Shepherd, "He restoreth my soul." It may be necessary to "walk through the valley of the shadow of death," or of frustration, or of bitter disappointment. That is a starkly real fact about our experience. But there is good news, too, — we need not stay where we are in the valley of any disquieting calamity. We were meant to walk through it. It is not our destination, but only a part of the route.

Our animal neighbors at Hidden Brook have a healthy response to intrusion. For a few days after our coming they seemed to resent our trespassing and kept their distance. Then, making friends with the inevitable, they accepted us as part of their pattern of life.

There is no better way to handle the disasters that encroach upon us than to make them our friends.

Safety Methods In Life Saving

With the summer season here and more and more people enjoying lakes that make Michigan the Water Wonderland of the United States, accidents on the water are becoming more and more prevalent.

Persons falling from docks, inexperienced swimmers being thrown into the water in a boating accident are among the leading causes of drowning accidents.

Because Charlevoix is in the heart of the lake country, the Charlevoix Courier is printing the directions for the newest and preferred methods of artificial respiration.

However, if you are not familiar with the Holger-Nielsen method which follows, the Back-pressure, Hip-lift method may be used as it is fully as effective as the Back-pressure, Arm-lift method although it is somewhat harder on the operator.

The first thing to remember in time of an accident where artificial respiration must be administered, is that time is of prime importance. Second count. Do not take time to move the victim to a more satisfactory place; begin at once, do not delay resuscitation.

loosen clothing, warm the victim, or apply stimulants. These are secondary to the main purpose of getting air into the victim's lungs.

Begin artificial respiration and continue it rhythmically and without interruption until spontaneous breathing starts or the victim is pronounced dead by a medical officer.

Back-pressure, Arm-lift Method, (Preferred).

Place the victim in the face-down position. Bend both his elbows and place one of his hands over the other. Turn his face to one side and place it on his hands.

Quickly sweep your fingers through his mouth, to clear out froth and debris, and bring his tongue forward.

Kneel at his head, on either knee, facing him. Place the knee close to his head. Place your other foot near his elbow. If it is more comfortable, kneel on both knees, one on either side of the victim's head.

Place your hands on his mid-back, just below the shoulder blades. Your fingers should be spread downward and outward, with thumb-tips about touching. Rock forward till your arms are about vertical and allow the weight of the upper part of your body to exert slow, steady, even pressure on your hands until firm resistance is met. This compresses the chest, forces air out of the lungs. Your elbows should be kept straight and the pressure exerted almost directly downward. Do not exert sudden or excess pressure, or place your hands high on the back or on the shoulder blades.

Release the pressure quickly. This is done by "peeling" your hands from the back without giving an extra push with the release.

Now rock backward and allow your hands to come to rest on the victim's arms, just above his elbows. Although he may be grasped anywhere along the arms, the position just above the elbows is generally best. As you rock backward, draw the victim's arms upward and toward you. When doing this do not bend the elbows; keep your arms straight and as you rock backward, the arms will be drawn upward and toward you. Put enough lift on the arms to feel resistance and tension at the shoulders. The arm-lift pulls on the chest muscles, arches the back and relieves the weight on the chest; air is thus sucked into the lungs. Lower the victim's arms and you have now finished one full cycle.

Repeat this cycle approximately 12 times per minute, to the rhythm of:

(1) rock forward, (2) press, (3) rock backward, (4) stretch.

Remember, timing doesn't have to be to the dot. Just maintain that slow, easy rhythm-rock forward on the backpressure phase, backward on the arm-lift phase. This rocking motion helps keep the rhythm, aids the operation.

If you begin tiring, shift to the other knee, or if it's more comfortable, kneel on both knees. These shifts can be accomplished with practically no break in the rhythm.

If a relief operator is available, he takes over by coming in to one side and after one of the stretch phases he carries on as the other operator moves off, beginning with the rock-forward phase.

After artificial respiration has been started, a doctor should be summoned along with the U. S. Coast guard which is equipped to assist with the operation. Both the U. S. Coast Guard and the Charlevoix Fire Department are equipped with inhalators.

The directions given above would apply not only in the case of accidental drowning but in an asphyxia resulting from physical causes when the lungs are deprived of air because of stoppage of the air passages, as in drowning; foreign body in the air passages; tumor in the air passages; swelling of the mucous membrane in the nose and throat, following inhalation of live steam or irritating gas; constriction around the neck, compressing the windpipe and the lack of oxygen from any cause. The most frequent causes are drowning, electrical shock or gas poisoning.

Charles Korvin Stars In Comedy

The second of this season's Cherry County Playhouse stars is Charles Korvin who opens July 10, in "FOR LOVE OR MONEY", a gay comedy by the popular dramatist, F. Hugh Herbert, author of "The Moon Is Blue."

Mr. Korvin, a well-known European actor, comes to the Playhouse fresh from triumphs on Broadway and in Hollywood. He was educated in Budapest and at the Sorbonne in Paris. After a colorful career working as photo reporter, steno, guide at the Louvre at Versailles and Fontainebleau, dance instructor, German teacher in London, English teacher in Paris, director of documentary films, nightwatchman and traveling salesman, he began acting at the Barter Theater in Virginia in "Accent On Youth." Radio and other stage work followed until Mr. Korvin achieved Broadway stardom in "Dark Eyes" opposite Eugenie Leontovich.

Mr. Korvin's Hollywood career was in the logical sequence of events. His motion picture credits include "Enter Arsine Lupin," with Ella Raines, "Temptation," with Merle Oberon, "Berlin Express," "Lydia Bailey," with Anne Francis, "Thunderstorm" with Linda Christian, and many others. He has appeared on numerous major TV shows including Studio One. Mr. Korvin plays the part of a successful Broadway actor who falls in love with a younger girl.

"For Love Or Money" runs at the Cherry County Playhouse from July 10 through July 15. Prices for the evening performance are $2.85, $2.10 and $1.25; price for the Thursday matinee is $1.25. Reservations may be made at the Box Office (opposite the Park Place Hotel) or by telephoning Traverse City 4046 or 4047.

Petoskey Playhouse Launches Third Season

Summer stock has returned to Northern Michigan with the Petoskey Playhouse beginning operations for its third season. There are big changes in the Playhouse this year, according to producer-director, Bentley Lenhoff.

The emphasis in this season's show is on comedy and recent Broadway successes. Slated for production opening night recently was "The Seven Year Itch". Productions to come are "Anastasia", "Raumaker", "Reclining Nude", "Streetcar Named Desire", "Tobacco Road", "Fifth Season", "Tea and Sympathy", and "King of Hearts."

Another of the changes is in the acting company. This year's actors were hired in New York City in April. They are members of Actor's Equity, which is an affiliation of the top Broadway, Television and Screen Actors in this country.

Season tickets, which sell for $8.85 and entitle the holder to eight admissions of $1.80 seats and which can be used by up to eight people to see one evening's performance, are now on sale at the Playhouse, or may be had by contacting any American Legion Auxiliary member or by phoning Diamond 7-4109.

Director Bentley Lenhoff Explains 'Equity' Organization

Special release to the Courier

It is always a welcome opportunity to talk in a free and easy style to you many readers of the Courier. This article is about this season's acting company at the Petoskey Playhouse. Let's start at the beginning.

In the beginning was the word. This word is "Equity." "Equity" is the word used to designate a professional actor in stage work, just as you use the word "Master" with a plumber or carpenter to indicate the fact the one is a master of his work or craft, and the other is a novice, or apprentice, in that line of work. Equity actors are masters of their craft. They have had to undergo rigorous apprenticeship for at least two years. That apprenticeship is rigorous because it is usually paid for little or no salary. Any actor who plays a Broadway show must have proven himself, and must be an equity actor.

This season the Playhouse is an Equity company. We have "Equity" because we want to insure our loyal audiences of the very best in the theatrical entertainment. With this aim in mind we went to New York early in April to hire our acting company. This trip was taken early in April because good actors are like any other commodity — there are many bad ones, but few good ones.

In just two days, in two rooms of the Algonquin Hotel just off Times Square, we auditioned over three hundred actors and actresses to fill our acting company of ten. And what an assortment there was! There were short men with tall tales, tall men who were short on talent, men with beards women with beards, and most important of all, people with talent.

Many of you are familiar with the fact that the theatrical field is one where the supply of actors far exceeds the demand for actors. You have seen this point illustrated many times on the stages of this country and on your movie and TV screens. I wish you could have been with me those two days. You would have been able to see that point pathetically brought home to you. It was pathetic to see men and women approaching eighty years of age, men and women who had played with the best of them, men and women who had in their lifetimes been known and revered by the ranks of theatergoers, men and women who had earned more than a thousand dollars a week for many weeks within many years, yes it was pathetic to see them ask, in fact beg, for a job when they should have retired to their scrapbooks, their memories and to people who remember them.

There was a side to these interviews that was not pathetic. That was seeing the eager, young talented, "the world's my oyster" type of actor. Full of enthusiasm, talent, training and confidence. These are the names of tomorrow.

I had no trouble finding a first-rate professional acting company for our third season. Come on over and see us.

Another new picnic table is made available for public use at one of Michigan's popular state parks. Maintenance duties are a big job for Conservation Department personnel at heavily-used state parks and recreation areas which receive about 18,000,000 visitors annually. In this scene, a careless park-user has increased the work load by being a "litterbug."

Sheriff Rose Issues Safety Rules, Information In Case Of Tornadoes

A tornado, according to the dictionary, is an extremely violent and destructive whirlwind.

Just how violent and destructive, residents of Michigan have learned during the past few years when tornadoes have become more and more prevalent.

Because tornado warnings in the area have become quite common, Sheriff Glenn E. Rose who also heads the Charlevoix county Civil Defense program, has issued tornado information and safety rules.

Tornadoes, according to Mr. Rose, can occur any place at any time of the year. However, they happen most frequently in the midwestern, southern and central states from March to September.

The record shows that the average number of days with tornadoes varies from 12 per year in parts of the midwest to less than one per year in the northwestern and far western states.

How do you recognize a tornado? It is usually observed as a funnel-shaped cloud, spinning rapidly, and extending toward the earth from the base of a thundercloud. When close by, it sounds like the roar of hundreds of airplanes.

Hot, sticky days with southerly winds and a threatening, ominous sky is tornado "weather". However, many such days occur without tornadoes. An hour or two before a tornado, topsy-turvy clouds appear sometimes bulging down instead of up and are often of a greenish-black color. Rain, frequently hail, precedes the tornado with a heavy downpour after it has passed.

Tornadoes appear mostly between 3 and 7 p. m. but they have occurred at all hours.

The tornado may cut a path up to a mile wide but the average is 100 yards. The length of a path may be 10 to 40 miles but the average is 18 miles. However, they have been known to move forward for 300 miles.

The speed of travel is 25 to 40 miles an hour but they have varied from five to 139 miles per hour. The wind speed within the tornado is estimated to be as high as 500 miles per hour.

The causes of destruction are the violent winds which uproot trees, destroy buildings and which create a serious hazard from objects flying through the air and the differences in air pressure which can lift automobiles and can cause buildings to collapse.

There is no universal protection against tornadoes except caves and underground excavations. When time permits, go to a tornado cellar, cave or underground excavation which should have an air outlet to help equalize the air pressure.

The majority of the residents in the Charlevoix area do not have such facilities, however, so Sheriff Rose has offered a few practical suggestions to be followed in case of a tornado.

If you are in open country, move at right angles to the tornado's path since tornadoes usually move ahead at 25 to 40 miles an hour. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression such as a ditch or a ravine.

If you are in a city or town, seek inside shelter, preferably in a strong reinforced building.

Stay away from windows. In homes the southwest corner of the basement usually offers greatest safety, particularly in frame houses. People in houses without basements should find other shelter, preferably in a storm cellar, although a depression such as a ditch or ravine can offer some protection. If time permits, electricity and fuel lines should be shut off. Doors and windows on the north and east sides of the house may be opened to help reduce damage to the building. Standing against the inside wall on a lower floor of an office building offers some protection.

If you are in school, stay inside, away from windows and remain near an inside wall on the lower floor when possible. Avoid gymnasium and auditoriums with large, poorly-supported roofs.

In rural schools that do not have strongly re-inforced construction, remove children and teachers to a ravine or ditch if a storm shelter is not available.

If you are in a factory or plant on receiving a tornado warning, a lookout should be posted to keep safety officials advised of the tornado's approach. Advance preparations should be made by shutting off electrical circuits and fuel lines if tornado approaches the plant. Workers should be removed to sections of the plant offering the greatest protection.

Keep Calm! It will not help to become excited. People have been killed by running out into the streets and by turning back into the path of a tornado. Even though a warning is issued, chances of a tornado striking one's home or location are very slight. Tornadoes cover such a small zone, as a rule, that relatively only a few places in a warned area are directly affected. You should know about tornadoes though, "Just in case".

Keep tuned in to your local radio or television station for latest tornado advisory information. Do not call the weather bureau except to report a tornado, as your individual request may tie up telephone lines urgently needed to receive special reports or to relay advisories to radio and television stations for dissemination to thousands in the critical area.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

If you've seen "Mac" Johnson this week, chances are he's told you his waitress story. For those who haven't heard:

"Mac" recently stopped at an out-of-town diner. He ordered the chef's special—and his waitress (brand new on the job) made every possible mistake. She confused the order, spilled the soup, dropped the rolls, brought him a wrong dessert.

Despite it all, "Mac" left a substantial tip. But she smiled and handed the money back. "Keep it, Mister—you've sure earned it more than I have," she said.

From where I sit, that girl deserves credit for admitting her shortcomings—something not everyone is big enough to do. For instance, I'm convinced lots of folks know they're wrong when they deny me the right to a glass of beer with my supper... just because they happen to prefer some other beverage. They wouldn't like me ordering them to accept my choice.

Cadillac

His Last Switch in Motor Cars!

We have no way of knowing, of course, how many different makes of motor cars this gentleman has owned through the years.

But we're willing to bet that he has now made his last switch in motor cars!

For this time it's a Cadillac! And it is historically true that once a motorist makes the move to the "car of cars", he is usually a Cadillac owner for life.

What are the reasons for this great devotion and loyalty? Well, let us count them off.

First of all, there are the things which everyone recognizes in Cadillac. There is its great beauty... its matchless luxury... and the unquestioned respect which the car commands the world over.

Then there are those qualities with which anyone who has ever driven a Cadillac is familiar.

There is its marvelous comfort and ease of handling... its magnificent power and performance... and its wonderful balance and agility.

And, finally, there are those things which only Cadillac owners themselves can fully appreciate. There is the car's remarkable economy of operation and upkeep—its incredible longevity—and its marvelous resale value.

Incidentally, you will find that we have recently made two additions to this list of things you get when you make your decision for Cadillac.

We're talking about prompt delivery and a generous trade-in allowance!

Better come in while the circumstances are so favorable—and make your last switch in motor cars!

News Round-up at Camp Charlevoix

The first week of camp proved a bright and sunny one though we heard from parents all over the state that it had been rainy and cold in most areas. We were able to turn all activities throughout the week and the boys got right into the camp routine very quickly.

On Monday, each section, the Juniors, the Intermediates, and the Seniors were taken around to the fifteen different activities, as each instructor explained the activity and showed the boys just what they were to learn.

Tuesday morning activities started with many excited boys starting on their summer of learning and summer of fun.

Wednesday, being the Fourth of July, the annual Green and Grey Track meet was held. Events were held in which most of the campers could take part, and after the afternoon was over, the Grey Team came out with three points to its credit. The camp is divided equally into two sides, the Greens and the Greys. Each side has its own captains in each of the three sections. The boys elected to head up their respective sides are Junior Greens, John Deane; Junior Greys, Rusty Smith; Intermediate Greens, John Love; Intermediate Greys, Joe Whinery; Senior Greens, John Jacobs; Senior Greys, Mike Dardas. These men will lead their boys throughout the season. Wednesday evening, the entire camp entered into a "Capture the Animal" event, in which hundreds of slips of paper each bearing the name of an animal on it were hidden all over camp. The boys "captured" these and once again the Greys won in each section, giving them three more points.

Thursday and Friday were regular camp days, with the evening given over to cabin nights where each cabin does something as a unit, such as go riding together, have a camp-fire, use the rifle range, play a ball game, etc. On Sunday morning at the chapel service, Bob Jewett, a Medical student from the University of Michigan, and our fishing instructor, gave a talk on "Responsibility". It was a very

First Census Of Voting Precincts Made For State

A complete census of voting precincts and the number of voters in the state of Michigan has been made for the first time in Michigan history. James M. Ilare, secretary of state, has announced.

This was compiled from reports, required by the state legislature, and made to the Secretary of State by the clerks of all cities and townships.

The report reveals that earlier this year there were 3,128 good talk, and a challenge to the campers as well as the staff. In the afternoon, each cabin had a free afternoon with several ball games going on, and a late afternoon swim was held. In the evening the three sections each held its own Vesper Service.

Parents are urged to refrain from sending any comic books into camp, as well as candy, gum, or cookies. Please advise all relatives, such as aunts, uncles, grandparents, etc., that these articles are not to be sent the boys. They will all be returned to the sender should they appear in the mail.

Boys are already planning the trips they want to take, and Carl Haag, graduate student at the University of Michigan, who is in charge of our campcraft and trips department, reports that the boys are learning much about fire-building, bed making, tent-pitching, and out door cooking. Some of the boys were even able to eat their own pan-cakes.

The camp is running very smoothly according to schedule, and boys and men are enjoying every minute of it.

440 registered voters in 5,175 precincts. Of these precincts 2,577 use paper ballots and 2,598 use voting machines.

In Charlevoix county there were 8,002 registered voters when the survey was made.

The city of Charlevoix, with 1,587 registered voters at that time, had the largest number of voters followed closely by Boyne City with 1,549. East Jordan had 960. The three urban areas comprise 10 of the county's 25 precincts.

Melrose township, which includes the village of Walloon Lake, has 358 registered voters to head the list of 15 townships. South Arm township with 318 and Boyne Valley, which includes the village of Boyne Falls with 312 were next followed by Hayes with 287, Eveline with 298, Wilson with 260, Marion with 191, Bay with 150, Evangeline with 147, St. James with 121 and Charlevoix with 106.

The remaining four townships have less than 100 registered voters. They are Norwood with 99, Hudson with 70, Peaine with 52 and Chandler with 49.

Plans For Venetian Night Taking Shape

Plans for the annual Venetian night celebration July 28 and 29 are taking shape following meetings of the Charlevoix board of commerce which sponsors the event and other key workers, S. E. Coleman, secretary of the board said Wednesday.

The Venetian Night boat parade on Round Lake and the always colorful fireworks Sunday night will again highlight the weekend event. The two-day program of entertainment will be launched with a variety show in East Park at 8 p. m. Saturday night. The entertainment will feature Rod Crede and Company, variety entertainers, the Four Coons, a comedy pantomime quartet and others.

The coronation of Venetian Queen, Merrie Case, Sunday afternoon will open the second day of the festivities. Clarence B. Meggison, state representative of the Charlevoix district, will officiate at the coronation. A parade of campers from Camp Charlevoix and Camp Ta-wa-ma-na, the Queen and her court in an open car and others led by the Charlevoix high school band will precede the coronation ceremony.

A program in East Park featuring the Charlevoix Marine band and other entertainment will begin early Sunday evening and continue until darkness falls and the fireworks and the Venetian boat parade begin.

Mr. Coleman said Wednesday that nine boats had already registered for the Venetian boat parade and others were expected to enter before the week is out. The boat parade features pleasure craft of all kinds decorated in a variety of themes by the use of colored lights and Japanese lanterns. The boats enter Round Lake via the upper channel from Lake Charlevoix in two lines and parade around the lake under the fireworks.

Prizes totaling $225.00 will again be offered this year for the three best decorated boats. Each decorated entry also receives $10.00.

Approximately 150 Residents Added To Registration Roll

Approximately 150 residents of this community have registered to vote since the last election in April, Clifford G. Riley, deputy city clerk, said last week. The new registration brings the total in the city's three voting precincts to 1,727.

A total of 29 people registered on Monday, July 9, the deadline for registering if they were to be eligible to vote in the August 7 election.

Mr. Riley said that the majority of new voters were people who had resided in the community for some time, some as long as several years.

Residents of the community who are not registered, may do so by asking for a registration card at the office of the city clerk in the city hall.

Although Charlevoix's population is growing, there are fewer registered voters now than there were four years ago. New residents in the community have been very lax about registering to vote.

Explosion Destroys Schooner 'Aloha' In Charlevoix Boatyard

An explosion in the Hamilton & Son Boat Yard on the south shore of Lake Charlevoix last Thursday morning completely destroyed the 40 ft. auxiliary cabin schooner, "Aloha", owned by Fred C. Schaub of Big Rapids and hospitalized Ray Hamilton, 61, owner of the yard and Archie Himebauch, 33, an employee.

The condition of Mr. Hamilton who suffered a dislocated right hip, multiple lacerations, superficial burns of the arms and face and a concussion in the blast was reported as satisfactory Wednesday.

Mr. Himebauch was treated for shock and discharged to his home Friday.

Mr. Hamilton was inside the schooner, which had an auxiliary engine and Mr. Himebauch had just stepped on the deck of the boat which was tied at the dock in the boat yard at the time of the blast. The exact cause of the explosion has not been determined by the U. S. Marine inspector, Lt. Frank M. Sperry of St. Ignace, who investigated the accident. However, it is felt that vapor gas in the bilge which was ignited when Mr. Hamilton turned the key to start the motor may have been the cause of the blast which wrecked the schooner and broke windows in several homes in the area. The force of the blast blew Mr. Himebauch onto the dock.

There was no fire as a result of the explosion and workmen who included Robert Hamilton, son of the injured man, pulled Mr. Hamilton from the wreckage. Both Mr. Hamilton and Mr. Himebauch were taken to the Charlevoix hospital via ambulance.

As can be seen in the picture above taken shortly after the accident the schooner was completely destroyed.

The "Aloha", which is well known here, was built in Florida in 1930 and for a number of years Charlevoix had been its home port.

Mr. Hamilton is still confined to the hospital where attendants said Wednesday his condition was good. He is a former mayor of the city and served as city clerk for more than 25 years.

The accident Thursday was the first major waterfront accident here in the recent history of the community.

An erroneous report of the accident sent the Charlevoix fire department to the dock where the tug, Gypsy, owned by Jake White was moored before the error was corrected and the fire truck dispatched to the boat yard.

Light Plant Carries Peak Load Monday

The municipal light plant carried its peak load for the current season when it reached 1850 KWs at 6 p. m. Monday, Hal M. Hill, city superintendent said this week.

The peak load for the season last year was 1950 KWs at the same hour on Aug. 31, 1955. The plant is equipped to carry a load of 3200 KWs, at the present time and with the installation of the new 1136 KW Fairbanks-Morse engine now underway it will be able to handle a load up to 4336 KWs, Mr. Hill said.

Due to the heavy rainfall the water pumping station is running behind last year's figure, he said.

The work on the repair of the yacht slip is continuing with the Roe Construction Co. of its four barges completing the repair of the slip north of the laundry this week. With the installation of fenders on the slips the project will be completed.

A northwest wind last weekend raised havoc with the work accomplished in two days by a bulldozer which had pushed the sand to the water's edge at the Lake Michigan beach. The heavy wind blew the sand higher on the beach thus again exposing the stones and gravel which had been covered, Mr. Hill added.

Legion Auxiliary Installs Newly Elected Officers

Recently-elected officers of the American Legion Auxiliary were installed by Mrs. W. E. Goss during a business meeting held Monday evening at the post home.

At the business meeting which followed Mrs. Allard named her committees for the year.

Plans were also made for a membership drive and a joint initiation ceremony in October with Mrs. Ruth Trulson of Petoskey, district president officiating.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

Charlevoix will have a special interest in the Indian naming ceremony at Harbor Springs this weekend because, for the first time in the history of the event, a former Charlevoixian is being honored. He's Will E. Hampton, now 92 years old. His father was the first president of the village of Harbor Springs in 1881, and for this reason he's been asked to return for the event. This year the event will include the diamond anniversary of the community which for many years has presented an impressive Indian ceremony. As a boy, Mr. Hampton knew the father of the present chief of the Ottawas. His parents had moved to Harbor Springs in 1875 when it was known as Little Traverse. Located in the heart of the Indian country, Mr. H. played with the Indian boys, he relates, and learned to speak the language. And had a wonderful time until the years of play were over. Later Mr. Hampton came to Charlevoix and was editor and owner of the Courier.

When Mrs. Pete Sharrow came from Miami Beach recently, she brought us a Belmont chart in which the horse, Charlevoix, ran recently. After leading for the first seven furlongs, the horse finished last in a field of eight. But for awhile, he sure looked good which had every Charlevoixian who heard the race wish he had some green stuff on the nose. The mystery we're trying to solve is: Who is the P. R. Ryan who owns the horse and how come it was named Charlevoix. Not that we have a copy-right on the name. Just wonder.

Who's going to win the second annual City golf championship? Now there's something to place your money on. But we're warning you, with the tournament sharing up as it has to date, anything can happen. Who knows? Maybe some guy with a handicap of 25 might even win! It's possible.

Don't know who enjoyed 'em the most. The people who raise 'em or those of us who drive past and admire them. We mean the lovely roses that are now in bloom around town. We especially have in mind those at Jim Flynn's Lakeview Inn. At Norm Anne's home at the top of the Coast Guard hill st. Dewitt Peters on Potoskey ave. to name a few. At Claire Martin's on Burns. The loveliest white rose we've ever seen was grown by Mrs. Samuel Freedman whose garden is probably equally as lovely but we haven't seen it. Anyone who can raise not only roses but any kind of flowers has our admiration.

Had a most enjoyable visit recently with a visiting mayor from the west. A. M. Pink-Novotny of Mount Vernon, Wash., who is really serious about his duties and who certainly is a member of the Mount Vernon chamber of commerce. He fell in love with our hospital which had been built since he was here last. He has taken home all sorts of info about it and is going to try and promote such a place for his home community. which now has only two small frame hospitals despite its size.

Was shocked to hear the other day that our good friend, Lynn Rinehart, is in the hospital with a fractured hip. We'd seen him only a week ago for the first time in ages and thought he looked real chipper. And now he ends up in the hospital. That's a pretty tough break for someone who'll be 84 come October.

Farm Bureau Women Hear Travel Talk By Mrs. T. Wieland

The Charlevoix county Farm Bureau Women's Committee met Friday at the home of Mrs. Ole Nielsen with seven groups and several visitors present.

Mrs. Tom Wieland gave a travel talk on Mexico, showing slides of historical buildings, shrines and other places of interest she had visited. She said that modern roads were quite prevalent but living conditions and farming were still primitive in most places. Schools varied from very modern buildings to one room huts with no windows. In some places farming is still done by hand, she said.

Many of the old temples are works of art, requiring years to complete and showing the skill and culture of the Mexican people.

The meeting also ended the drive by the women for clothing, quilt pieces, magazines and other items for the State Hospital at Traverse City.

Announce Winners In City Softball

ter. Pat Burke scooted home for C-M to tie the game 1-1 in the third.

The City Merchants used some fancy bunting to take a 3-1 lead. Guy Swanson scored for C-K run with a single but Larry Peterson's home run gave the Merchants a two-run lead. In the sixth, however, Ken Balch and Potter hit doubles and Walker a single to tie up the game.

In the top of the eighth Peterson led off with a lousy blow to the corner but a perfect throw from the outfield nipped him at the plate. This was followed by Potter's winning run.

Other scores for the week follows: U.S.C.G. 7 American Mold can Mold 2: Freedman's 7 Coast 0: Carson-Klooster 23 Coast Guard 6: Freedman's 15 American night which gave the Dodgers the first round title. Stan Martin pitched a two-hit ball game with Homer Holmes in the eighth for Roger Towles singling home the 5-4 victory. Moss tripled with the bases loaded for the Pirates.

ONE OF THE PLEASANT
excitements that never seems to wear out is speaking Long Distance with someone you miss.
And once you decide to make a call (if you're like most people) you can hardly wait to be connected. (If you call by number you'll be connected much faster. That way information won't have to be your time getting the number. So keep handy those numbers you call often. We'd be glad to send you a free alphabetized personal directory for the purpose.
Just call the telephone Business Office.

NATURALLY we think telephone women are among the nicest people there are. That's why we're so glad when one gets singled out for an honor. Mrs. Herman Gibson, one of our customer representatives at Flint, was one of two Flint women recently selected to represent Genesee County as "ambassadors" to European countries this summer. The visits are part of the Experiment in International Living Program sponsored by the Flint Junior Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Gibson will live with a family in Sweden for a month and spend another month touring that country. All of us wish her a happy voyage.

IT'S TELEPHONES three to one! Back in 1946
there was one telephone for every five persons in the U. S. Today there is one phone for every three. Why the boom in phones? Because the public wants more and more telephone service.
Telephone growth also reflects the general prosperity and an increasing dependence on fast communications. Incidentally, in ratio of telephones to people, the U. S. ranks first. Sweden, Canada, New Zealand, Switzerland and Denmark follow in that order.

Living on Tiptoe

By the changing parade of budding, blossoming, and fading flowers Nature is constantly reminding us that even the most beautiful material things are not meant to last forever.

When I visited my favorite brook late yesterday afternoon, the terraced banks had lost their nodding blaze of yellow ladyslippers. Only a few weeks ago they were at their peak of loveliness. A week ago an occasional withered survivor drooped wearily as if having no wish to go on. Now all are gone. But wherever ladyslippers once flourished now white windflowers sway on slender stems, the purple member of the mint clan, selfless, tosses in the breeze, and the low-growing yellow hedge hyssop waves agreeably to every passing gust of wind. So as seasons succeed each other, wild flowers with an elegant politeness bow out of the scene and give place to each other. Marsh marigolds, trilliums, violets, and wild columbines greet their successors, curtsies, and fade out. The newcomers have their day, salute those who are to follow them, and then depart.

In such a world of change a person must decide how he is to live—mournfully or expectantly. Shall we lament the blossoms that have faded or anticipate with joy the flowering of beauties yet to come?

God never allows a joy to depart but that He has another about to arrive. This is so of the process of aging, infancy, childhood, youth, maturity, and old age each having its peculiar satisfactions which no other season of life can ever know. Enjoy each period as you can, pressing from it all possible good, and then let it pass without regret, awaiting with eagerness the delights of other approaching days.

Marriage too has its buddings, blossoms, and fadings from the bright ardor of honeymoons to the vivid glory of parenthood and the more delicately shaded fragrant flowering of tender companionship. Those who mourn a marriage because its intense flush of honeymoon days has passed are fools who love the buds of May but ignore the equally resplendent blossoms of July and flowers of September.

And what of the passing of those dear to us? A perennial spirit but fades from our sight for awhile, but it will live again to greet our eyes once more with fresh beauty when another season of the soul has come.

The fading of the flowers is as much God's doing as is their blooming. Each has a place in His scheme of things. The mood of faith is not a slouch into despondency but standing on tiptoe to see what new good thing God has in store for us just over the horizon of another day.

News Round-up at Camp Charlevoix

The second week of camp started off on Monday with boys going further and yon to many and varied activities. Dick Hesse, the Head Cowboy, for the last three years, stopped in en-route to the state of Washington where his Army career will get off to a "flying" start. He started the drill team on its first workouts for the rodeo. He has twenty of the camp's best riders working out, and after the horses have learned what is expected of them, it should shape up into the fine drill team that we have had for the last two years.

On Tuesday night, cabin 21, under the leadership of Glenn Miller, went into Charlevoix to see a movie. The boys going in to town were: Charles Lee, Chris Kimball, Tom Baer, Tom Layne, Chris Klie, Bill Neel, David Horite, John Jacobs, and Mike Dardas. Two of the Junior cabins went on a hay-ride, with the new team of Belgian Percherons pulling them, and the boys were really thrilled. It was the biggest team of horses most of the boys had ever seen. Cabins one and two, under the leadership of Carl Haag and Dave Vahlsing. The boys were: Sandy Coakley, Jeff McLean, George Steinhart, David Tappan, John Jordan, Ralph Meisel, John Orman, Ross Gil, Sandy Killins, Bill McInerney, Ken McLean, Billy Rowden, Tom Coyle, and Tommy Quail.

On Wednesday evening two more of the Junior Cabins took to the hay wagon, and our faithful team, Dan and Queen, gave them a very fine ride. Don Brown and Bill Fors took their boys, these being: Jimmy Andrews, Mike Lipsie, David Runciman, Charles Sullivan, Bob Sutherland, Dick Hicks, Danny Schafer, Nelson Smith, John Richardson, Mike Huber, John Thrasher, Roger Witherill, David Gill.

Thursday afternoon it was quite a thrill to see and hear another hayride coming into camp, as the boys were singing camp songs, and were thoroughly enjoying the experience of riding behind a huge team. Al Kristensen and Bill Wright were the leaders of these boys, who were Larry Drummy, Ceylon Hudson, Chris Olsen, Chip Ransom, David Nelson, Phil Madouse, Douglas Pearl, Billy Birkhill, John Deane, Robin Koebel, Cal Matthew, Stephen Wardrop, John Geymann, and Bob Turner.

On Thursday evening the Initiation Council Fire was held in the Council Ring. The old campers blind-folded the new campers and led them in devious ways to the council ring where "Chief Ken" and his braves were ready to meet the group. John McBride arranged for the "Fire from Heaven" which set the campfire off. "Chief Ken" challenged the new campers to be cooperative, respectful, and considerate in order for them to be accepted into the Tribe of Charlevoix. Six of the counselors gave short talks on Reverence, Sportsmanship, Courage, Teamwork, Friendship and Loyalty. The spirits which were buried at the Final Council Fire last year were then dug up after resting in their sacred place during the winter. "Chief Ken" read several of the notes which were right at the top. After taps were played from the west and sung taps, the boys walked silently to their cabins.

Saturday night, the first of a series of skit nights was held in the "Bigwam", Cabin 6, under Bill Fors put on a skit "The Male Animal". The boys in the skit were Jimmy Andrews, Dan Schafer, Mike Lipsie, David Runciman, Charles Sullivan and Dick Hicks was the Hunter and narrator. Cabin 5's skit was very well done with Roger Witherill making a very attractive girl. These boys were Mike Huber, the hero, John Thrasher, David Gill, and Nelson Smith. Jim Rockwell, one of our campcraft instructors, had his cabin put on a skit, "We take Campcraft". It was very amusing and well done by Mac Greene, Greg Hefferan, Hank Holste, Leonard Hooper, Bob Windisch, Steve Walker, Kim Goldberger, Phil Huber, with Mark Lindsay as the narrator. Cabin 14, with Ken Bernecker as its counselor put on a skit about a "Candy Store". These boys were Corky Graveswood, John Harmon, Alan Hartwick, Bob Kimball, Bruce Welker, Carl Thomsen, Vance Miller. The highlight of the evening was Jack Peirce's cabin 14, who, put on a very funny skit called "The Three M's (midgits)" with Marston Price, Stuart Crampton and David Melges, as the midgits. Cabin 21, the oldest and biggest boys in camp put on their version of a "Staff Meeting". Bill Neel took the part of "Ken", and David Horste was "Rudy". The boys in this skit were Mike Dardas, John Jacobs Chris Klie, Tom Layne, Tom Baer, and Chris Kimball. Jim Zick lead the singing, and two more of the staff put on a musical skit, Jack Peirce and Lynn Howell.

On Sunday morning, we had several parents at the chapel in the woods. The chapel choir composed of campers led the singing, and Bill Townsend, Director of Activities, gave the talk of "Personality". It was a splendid talk, and one which was thought provoking for the boys as well as the adults.

In the afternoon, a waterfront event was held in which most of the campers took part. The greys and one which the Juniors enjoyed a lot.

Sunday evening, vespers were held in all three sections and it was thrilling to hear the Seniors singing away from the meeting singing "Now the Day is Over".

We expect to be doing a great deal of singing this year, more than ever before. Jim Zick, our handicraft man, leads the boys in songs every day, and we are truly becoming a "singing camp." More next week...

V-8 POWER

Get Your Dodge Dealer's Deal
Before You Decide!

Your best buy is Dodge... and we can prove it!

Maybe you've had your eye on one of the other two makes of low-priced trucks. But why settle for second best when Dodge is in the same price class? After all, Dodge leads in the features that truck owners look for:

Most Payload! Dodge hauls up to 375 more pounds of payload per trip. It carries the extra weight you'd have to leave behind if you were driving another truck. Saves trips as well as cash.

Most Power! Dodge gives you up to 17 more V-8 horsepower than its competitors. You get the brawn you need for tough hauling jobs without engine strain.

Easiest Handling! You breeze in and out of the tightest traffic or parking spots because Dodge is the sharpest turning truck of all. Try it! It's the most comfortable riding, too.

And when you add to these advantages the biggest brakes in the field and the roomiest cab, plus famous Dodge economy and dependability, you see why we say: Check Dodge before you decide. Come in and let us show you the facts... we'll prove Dodge is your best truck buy.

Basic Principles For Accident-Free Vacation

With the vacation season under way, it is estimated that approximately 85 percent of American families are vacationing by car. It adds up to a heavy volume of summer traffic, a high exposure to accidents, and a seasonally high toll. This toll can be reduced if every vacation driver realizes that there can be no vacation from safe-driving practices.

"It is this idea that the Michigan trucking industry hopes to convey to everyone traveling by car this summer as part of its Courtesy and Safety Campaign for July," said L. D. Rahilly, president of the Michigan Trucking Association.

"There is no denying that vacations are intended as periods of relaxation," he declared. "But relaxation behind the wheel can be fatal. Somewhere on your trip, you will be driving in heavy traffic. You can never predict what the other driver will do. It's up to you not only to drive safely yourself, but to be alert in order to avoid the other driver's mistakes."

"You may be driving in unfamiliar territory. In that case, you must be ready to cope with the hazards of the road as they appear.

"Lastly, you will be a guest in the other driver's territory. Be a good guest and obey the traffic laws meant for both you and him."

Rahilly urged all who will take their vacations shortly on the highway to heed these basic principles for a safe, trouble-free holiday.

"Take time to enjoy your vacation," he concluded.

"Rainmaker" Comedy Hit At Playhouse

"The Rainmaker" opened Monday night at the Petoskey Playhouse as the third production of the season and is, by all odds, the finest thing done so far.

Robust yet gentle, richly comic yet poignant, "The Rainmaker" concerns a family of ranchers somewhere in the west who find themselves with drought and an unmarried daughter on their hands. Just when things look blackest, in roars a fast-talking, delightfully winning con man who, courtesy of fate, does eventually leave them with rain and the girl safely in the romantic hands of the sheriff's deputy.

As the girl who finds love after twenty-seven years of waiting, Harriet Bigus again proves herself to be a fine young actress. Her performance is bright and joyous and coated with the flow of humanity. Richard Pohlers, in the title role, gives a robust and captivating portrayal of a man who finds life less exciting than his dream. He has flair and polish and presents one of the most ingratiating rogues in the theatre. Martin Garner does a superb job as the girl's kindly, gently humorous father, and Paul Stolarsky neatly scene-steals as the simple good-natured younger brother. Wesley Kirk, Richard Blair and Lewis Schrock are splendid in the other roles.

Bentley Lenhoff has directed with humor and heart, and C. Edwin Shade's ranch house setting is all one could desire.

"The Rainmaker" is a beautiful play acted in a like manner by a group of obviously enthusiastic artists. You'll have the time of your life with them. The play will run through Saturday, July 21.

Junior Company Produces Play In Chinese Manner

The Junior Company of the Cherry County Playhouse will present a production of "The Stolen Prince and The Lost Princess" by Dan Tothorah, at 11 a. m. on Friday, July 20 and 27. The play, which is the second in a series of productions to be given by the Junior Players is directed by Mr. Dolph Sweet, a member of the resident company of actors. General admission is 85 cents.

"The Stolen Prince and The Lost Princess" is the story of an emperor's son who is abandoned to the river but is rescued by a poor boatman and his wife. Subsequently, the boy is about to be executed because his tame pelican has stolen an imperial fish, when he is recognized in time as the heir to the throne. In the sequel, his sister is captured by bandits and after many adventures is joined again with her brother. The play is presented in the Chinese manner, with a stage manager who does not always stay awake—providing the props in full view of the audience which must join in the play by exercising its imagination.

"Gigi" Features Former Child Star

The third of the Cherry County Playhouse's parade of summer plays will feature Margaret O'Brien, the famous Hollywood child star and now a distinguished stage actress. She will open this week in "GIGI," a play adapted by Anita Loos, from Colette's amusing and touching novel of the same name.

Miss O'Brien was five years old when Dore Schary starred her in MGM's "Journey For Margaret". Since that time, she has performed in 23 motion pictures, including such greats as "Lost Angel," "Meet Me In St. Louis," "Three Wise Fools," and "Little Women." In 1944, she received the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences Award for the best actress.

Suggests Ways To Enjoy Company During Summer

A house loaded with guest and relatives is not unusual this time of year. It's a time of fun, but a lot of work, too.

Too often, points out Clare Brown, Charlevoix county home demonstration agent, homemakers are too busy in the kitchen or cleaning the house to really enjoy their company. But how do you take it easy?

To cut down on work, she suggests, you might try to set the table for breakfast the evening before. Move the dishes directly from the sink to the table on a tray or wheeled cart. If you are bored with your work, ask some of your guests to join you in the kitchen for a cup of coffee or invite them to work with you.

Save yourself a little housework, too, by keeping walks, steps and porches clean. Use door mats and foot scrapers so dirt won't be tracked in. Clare suggests you provide storage space near entrances for outdoor clothing, rubbers and boots.

There are many ways you can cut down your house and kitchen work, company or no company. For more tips on just how to save steps, you can read two new bulletins available at your county extension office in Boyne City. They are "Take it Easy in the Kitchen" and "Take it Easy When Cleaning." Just ask your home demonstration agent for Extension folders F-216 and F-213.

In her teens, with the exception of making an all Japanese film, she stopped making movies and turned her talents toward the stage and television, all the while continuing her dancing and singing lessons and academic pursuits. It was at this time that David Butler, producer-director, was looking for a natural, fresh but experienced young actress to play Clarabelle Tibbee in his new picture, "Glory." Margaret filled the bill. It is the story of a girl, a horse, and a race; including love scenes, comedy, singing and dancing, which gives Margaret the opportunity to show her great versatility and talent.

"GIGI" runs at the Cherry County Playhouse through July 22. Reservations may be made at the box office (opposite the Park Place Hotel) or by telephone Traverse City 4046 or 4047.

Detroit's Mayor Cobo Visiting In Charlevoix

County Hospital Addition Would Increase Bed Patient Facilities

These statistics were quoted recently at the annual University of Michigan Conference on the Aging which was attended by some 700 experts from the medical and social sciences who are interested in the problem of old age.

The fact that these men gathered at the conference proves that old age has become a problem in this country.

In Charlevoix county the problem has become so great that it demanded the attention of the board of supervisors at its April meeting.

After hearing a report from the welfare committee headed by Clyde Warner regarding the inadequacies at Grandvue hospital, the existing county-operated hospital for the aged, and the great need for additional facilities to care for the county's aged residents, the board approved a resolution to bring a $500,000 bond issue before the voters of the county to finance the construction of a 60-bed addition to the present frame building.

Purpose of the addition would be to give the county facilities to care for bed-ridden patients, facilities that are not now available. The number of beds for use of bed-ridden cases was cut to a minimum last fall when the State Fire Marshall ordered that only ambulatory, or walking patients be allowed to occupy the second floor of the building.

After adopting the resolution, Russell Curtis, chairman of the board of supervisors, appointed a special committee to be headed by Mr. Warner to continue its survey. Other members of the committee are Gerald Fineout of Walloon Lake, Lee Smith of Boyne Falls, Talmon Brudy of Boyne City, Barney Melstein of East Jordan and T. R. Miller of Charlevoix.

The committee reports that at the present time, Grandvue hospital is equipped to care for only 18 bed patients on the first floor and 23 ambulatory patients on the second floor. As a result the county is financing the cost of caring for 14 patients in convalescent homes in the area. There are also 13 applications for admittance to the hospital on hand. The majority of these are bed patients for whom there are no facilities. This leaves the county welfare commission with the cost of caring for them in general hospitals in many cases. This cost is much more than the $4.11 it costs the county to hos-

Nikansira meaning "Our Friend" was the Indian name bestowed on Will E. Hampton at the annual Indian Naming ceremony at Harbor Springs . . . and a more fitting name we couldn't hope for. . . He is truly the friend of everyone he's ever met and he has countless friends the world over. . . We were very fortunate when he spent about an hour of his valuable time with us over the weekend. . . At 92 his memory is ever so keen and he tells such beautiful stories of the early days in northern Michigan. . . For instance, he told us that when he built the house now located at 307 Michigan ave., in 1893, he purchased the property for $150 from Amos Fox, an early settler who owned a "saw" of property here. . . And there was only one other house located north of his on the avenue. . . Can you imagine Michigan ave. looking like that?

Once upon a time when we were way back in the grades we learned a song which went fountain concoction known as a "Jeff" recently, we didn't expect to start a controversy. . . But we've had lots of people tell us they've been eating them for years and where have we been, for heaven's sake. . . This week brought a note from Mrs. Herbert A. Loch Jr. of Chicago who tells us that our first explanation of their origin was definitely incorrect. . . According to her it all happened years ago (she didn't mention exactly how many) when Jeff Fiebleman of New Orleans walked into the old Central Drug then owned by Mr. Herman and asked him to mix some bitter-sweet sauce along with some marshmallow sauce and ice cream in a glass. . . It had to have a name, so the story goes, so naturally it was called a Jeff after its inventor. . . One more piece of information, she adds, is that no one has ever quite duplicated Mr. Herman's Jeffs. . . And from York Beach, Me., comes a card from Vin Emery, a former resident whose only comment regarding the Jeff is "what a dish". . . Must try one of these days. . . To recall such memories they must be extra special super. . .

It was a sad day last week when it was announced that there'd be no more circus under big top. . . Progress, they call it, but to those who saw a big circus under the big top, it just won't be the same. . . Gee, we can remember when we were little the huge circuses that came to Charlevoix. . . the tents, and there were dozens of 'em, would be pitched in the field just west of the golf course. . . How we used to envy the bigger kids who got to work for the circus, hauling water for the elephants and doing all sorts of chores. . . As we grew older we used to dream of joining the circus, but we never quite made it and now they're on their way out. . . A sad day indeed. . . and all because everyone's in such a hurry and demand so much. . . But there are memories, thank heaven. . .

The explosion on the water front recently was a serious thing. . . But like everything else, it has a touch of humor, now that it's over and everyone injured in the blast is recovering. . . Mrs. Dora Hamilton, mother of Ray Hamilton who was injured, lives on Belvedere ave., up from the boat yard. . . The day of the explosion happened to be her 84th birthday anniversary. . . After it was all over she said in passing. . . "They said they were going to do something for my birthday but I really didn't expect such a big blow-out". . . That sense of humor is one reason why she observed that anniversary. . . for without it you're a gone goose. . .

Have you noticed all the beautiful boats in the yacht basin recently. . . You look at them all and then couldn't possibly pick one for your own, even if you had an opportunity to "cause one is nicer than the other. . . A number of boats came in after the Port Huron to Mackinaw race and this week even more will be stopping in after the race from Chicago to Mackinaw. . . Some 64 boats started out in the 333 mile trip. . . How long it will take will depend on the wind. . . and with the weather we've been having it shouldn't take too long to cover the course. . . Wouldn't that be the life tho'. . . We understand our local sailors who made up part of the crew of "My Dream" during the Blue Water race had themselves a whale of a time. . .

We hear via the grapevine that the Minstrel show with a cast to rival all casts will be presented sometime next month. . . It'll be for the benefit of the Winter Sports Corp. and will feature as the end men Bob Neff, Dr. L. E. Grate, Bob Lieberman and Reg Greenway with Dr. Walter Hoffman as Mr. Interlocutor. . . It sounds like a riot to be sure and watch for it. . . Incidentally, fellas, how's the grass on the ski slope doing? . . . Hope it gets a chance to take root before the snow starts to fly. . . if you know what we mean! . . .

Anne Roche Weds Lawrence Cull In Double Ring Church Ceremony

St. James, Beaver Island — Holy Cross church was the scene Saturday morning of the marriage of Anne Roche of Grand Rapids and Lawrence Cull. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Roche of Cloone, county Kilkenny, Ireland, and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Cull of St. James.

The Rev. Fr. Joseph Herp O. F. M. (C) officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of 325 guests. Arrangements of Shasta daisies and lighted tapers decorated the altar for the ceremony.

Eleanor Gallagher was the organist and Jewell Gillispie the soloist. The Holy Cross choir also sang.

Home Gardeners Given Tips On Dwarf Fruit Trees

Home gardeners who are looking for fruit trees to fit the size of their gardens can take a look at dwarf apple and pear trees.

These small-sized trees are particularly well suited to small gardens where space is limited, or as ornamentals on the lawn or along the shrub border, according to Ed Reberman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent.

He cautions that dwarf trees are not recommended for planting in orchards intended for commercial fruit production. They are shallow rooted, inclined to be short rooted and are essentially adapted to the garden.

Reberman says that details on selecting dwarf apple and pear trees are included in a new Michigan State University extension folder now available at the Charlevoix county extension office. Information on planting and care of the trees is also part of the folder.

A Story to Tell

Everything in nature has a story to tell. All things are engaged in writing an autobiography, a tale of what they are like and what they have been doing. Along our brook old blackened tree stumps, dark ghosts of departed forests recount for us, as they have for fishermen of several generations, the tragedy of nineteenth century fires searing the north woods. The great girth of the stumps remind us how high white pines must have stretched and how far their massive limbs must have reached to clasp those of neighboring pines across the brook's romping waters. Where lumbermen have chopped and saved, tree rings on the stump compute for us the years a tree spent wiggling through forest mold toward air and light, stretching above the forest floor toward a small speck of blue in a thick green canopy of leaves and needles that fashioned the forest roof. Rings on stumps describe healthy years and hard years, periods of rapid and slow growth, damage done by insects, lightning and drought. A stump is a tree's own story of its life and death.

The brook, too, reports on its past. Its winding trail shows how, long ago, it chose the path of least resistance. Round, smooth stones in the stream bed tell of centuries of grinding upon each other, each polishing another. Such a finish cannot be had in the lifetime of a man or a tree. The brook is old, its burnished pebbles say.

Retreating glaciers leave deep gouges we call "valleys". Animals bequeath to succeeding generations monuments of bones and fossils. Leaves and ferns of millennia past are imprinted on our soil. Everywhere in nature everything is leaving a record.

Human beings leave traces of themselves, reports on what they are like, everywhere they go, even when they least want to do so. Modern criminology takes advantage of this fact in finding a law-breaker. A person can hardly enter a room, stay for a moment, and depart again without leaving traces of himself behind. Fingerprints, fibers from his clothes, dirt from his shoes, a hair from his head—something or other of himself he will be certain to leave as a witness to what he was like.

You are like that morally and spiritually. You cannot enter a room or a situation without leaving traces of what you are like — good, bad, or indifferent.

The world today is pretty much a collection of traces of what others have left behind. The world of tomorrow will consist of what we in our turn leave of ourselves for posterity, the influence of what we are and what we have done.

Everything in nature is engaged in writing an autobiography —you, too.

IT'S PREMIUM IN EVERY WAY... STILL AT REGULAR GAS PRICE

We invited a large group of automotive engineers to try Blue Sunoco, boosted in octane, in their own cars and give us their reactions. The results of this survey, compiled by an independent firm of certified public accountants, make New Blue Sunoco the favorite.

43% already are users of Blue Sunoco
Of the 1,166 engineers who reported on '56 Blue Sunoco, 43% told us they were already users of our gasoline. This was a far greater number than reported using all other premium gasolines combined—perhaps the greatest testimonial any gasoline ever had!

Blue Sunoco is recommended for the newest high-compression cars when owners' manuals specify a premium gasoline.

Blue Sunoco is the only gasoline that meets the new higher premium octane standards and sells at regular gas price. Follow the lead of automotive engineers. Make your own 10-gallon test today.

Move New Diesel Into Position At Local Light Plant

Charlevoix's newest diesel engine, an 1136 kw Fairbanks-Morse opposed piston engine, was moved into position in the municipal light plant on Ferry av. this week, Hal M. Hill, city superintendent has announced.

The engine, which was purchased in Houston, Tex., last year, was moved into the plant through the west door by the Lake Construction Co. A small section of the wall over the west opening was removed and the roof raised to make it possible to move the engine to its new berth. The 27½ ton engine is now being moved onto the engine rails which were installed earlier on the steel and concrete foundation.

The engine will be placed in operation later this year after the installation is completed and the auxiliaries are connected. The new engine will bring the capacity of the local municipal plant to 4336 kw.

The plant's capacity at this time is 3200 kws. The peak load for the 1956 season has been 1850 kws, which was reached July 16.

Northern County Education Boards To Meet At Alpena

The annual mid-summer meeting of the Northern Michigan Association of County Boards of Education will be held at the Alpena Hotel in Alpena at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday Aug. 1.

Max Cochran of the Department of Public Instruction will speak on the subject "Transportation and Finance".

Charles A. Robinson, Charlevoix county superintendent of schools, and several members of the county board of education are planning to attend the conference.

Five Area Women Attend Homemakers Annual Conference

Five Charlevoix county women recently attended the 29th annual Homemakers Conference at Michigan State University. About 1,400 Michigan Women attended this meeting sponsored by the home economics staff of the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service and the Continuing Education Service on the campus.

Among those attending were Mrs. Ralph Hamilton of Charlevoix, who is chairman of the Charlevoix Home Demonstration council; Mrs. Howard Donaldson, Mrs. Harry Sloop, and Mrs. Julia Ruck all of East Jordan, along with Mrs. Clare Brown, home demonstration agent.

One of the highlights of this meeting is an address, "The Homemaker as a Business Woman," by Mrs. Edythe C. Peck of the Birmingham National Bank, Birmingham.

• Jimmy Bergmann returned home Wednesday from a 10-day visit in Berkeley with Timmy Gloster.

• Mrs. Harriet Baker of Marion, Ind., is visiting at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Baker.

Hospital Addition Would Add Beds

pitelize patients at Grandvue hospital.

One instance of this recently was a resident of this county who was hospitalized at a Traverse City hospital for injuries received in an auto accident in Grand Traverse county. Had Charlevoix county had facilities for caring for a bed patient, she could have been transferred to Grandvue hospital via ambulance and hospitalized there. As it was the county footed her bill in the general hospital in Traverse City because they had no other alternative.

This same problem has arisen countless times in the past and will continue to face the welfare department. If Grandvue hospital is condemned as will no doubt be the case if the costly sprinkler system is not installed, the patients now hospitalized there and others who will be eligible for care there will become the responsibility of the county in general hospitals because there is no other place for them.

It is also true that there are already too many old people in mental hospitals in the state because there is no other place for them. Realizing this, the state has adopted a new policy whereby patients admitted to mental institutions after Jan. 1, 1957 must undergo special supervised treatment. If it is then found their illness is due only to senility they will be returned to their respective counties for care. Many patients hospitalized in mental institutions at the present time will also be released for care in home counties. Thus Charlevoix's facilities, already bulging at the seams, will be broken wide open by the added load.

Realizing all this, the county board of supervisors will present the $500,000 bond issue to finance the cost of building a 60-bed addition to Grandvue hospital to the people in the August 7 election. By doing this they will present the problems of what to do with the county's "senior citizens" who have no one to care for them squarely before the people who will be asked to approve the proposed bond issue and to raise the tax limitation by three mills for a period not to exceed 20 years to finance the construction of a

Some Openings Remain In Play Camp For Boys

There are only a few openings remaining in the Charlevoix Play Camp for boys six to 12 years of age, Del Terrill, who operates the camp, said this week in answer to queries regarding the camp.

The boys enjoy a full program of games including tether ball, archery, kick ball, basketball and softball. The group has a softball team, the Pirates, and participate in the peanut league program.

In addition they have swimming every day under the supervision of Bill Mosier, qualified Red Cross instructor.

One day a week, usually Wednesday, is devoted to an all-day cook-out at a state park or some other site and every other week the boys go on an overnight, usually on Friday night. The daily hours of the camp except for over-night trips are 9 a. m. to 11:30 a. m. and 1 to 4 p. m. Monday through Friday.

60-bed addition to the present Grandvue hospital.

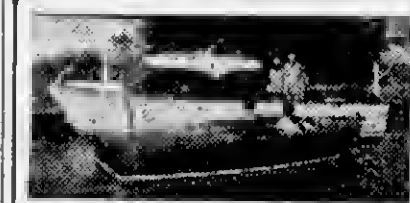

Again you are asked to study the issue and weigh the facts before going to the polls August 7.

4:30 p. m. Monday through Friday.

John Jones and two daughters have returned to Columbus, Ohio, following a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Jones and with his grandmother, Mrs. E. R. Jones.

• Carol Cross had as her guest last week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cross, Jeanne and Barbara Stephan of Buffalo, N. Y., Jan Hughes of St. John, and Joyce and Pat Cole of Lansing.

Frank McHugh Stars In Comedy At Cherry County

The hilarious and very successful comedy, "Three Men On A Horse", is the vehicle for stage, screen and television star, Frank McHugh, appearing at the Cherry County Playhouse in Traverse City this week through Sunday, July 29. This play is the fourth in a series of comedy hits to be presented at the Cherry County Playhouse this summer. "Three Men On A Horse", is the work of Playwright George Abbott, and was a pre-war popular and critical success.

Mr. McHugh embarked in the theatrical business with his parents, playing a child role in "For Her Children's Sake", a blood-and-thunder melodrama. He was born in Homestead, Pennsylvania, and completed his education between theatrical engagements. Early in his career, he toured the middlewest playing one or more parts in many of the well remembered plays of those times, "Camille", "Ten Nights in a Barroom", and "Uncle Tom's Cabin". This was followed by five years of dramatic stock around the country.

Mr. McHugh made his Broadway debut in 1925 in "The Fall Guy", and featured roles in "Fog", "Tenth Avenue", "Confidential", "Florenz Zeigfeld's 'Show Girl'" followed soon after. He went to Hollywood in 1929 and gave outstanding performances in "The Dawn Patrol", "Top Speed", and "The Front Page". His performance in "One Way Passage" won him a contract with Warner Brothers Pictures, where he remained as a comedian for ten years. More recently, he played in the Academy-Award picture, "Going My Way" with Bing Crosby. "No Business Like Show Business", and he created his current role on the screen in "Three Men On A Horse". In all, he has appeared in over 125 pictures.

On television, Mr. McHugh has appeared on many of the leading dramatic shows, most recently in "Doll Face", in which he starred with Glenn Farrell, and received the accolades of the critics for his performance. Price for the evening performance of "Three Men On A Horse", are $2.85, $2.10 and $1.25; price for the Thursday matinee is $1.25. Reservations may be made at the Box Office (opposite the Par. Place Hotel) or by telephoning Traverse City 4046 or 4047.

Never permit your child to ride with you on the tractor or other farm machinery. More children under 10 are killed by farm tractors than people in the 20-30, 30-40. A swine field for the state's hogmen is slated for Aug. 27 at M. S. U.

Charlevoix City Band Largest To Perform In Recent Years

Membership in the Charlevoix City Band, which presents weekly concerts in East Park every Thursday during the summer months, has climbed to 48 members with the return of several members of former years, C. A. Odmark, who directs the musical group, has announced.

Coast Guard Drafts New Regulations For Passenger Vessels

Striving to promote greater safety for millions of Americans, the U. S. Coast Guard has concluded a preliminary draft of regulations affecting more than 8,000 passenger vessels under Public Law 519.

Scheduled for publication in the Federal Register in July, the proposed regulations will be discussed at a public hearing early in September in Washington, D. C. After consideration of the views of all interested parties, which may be presented either by mail or at the hearing, the regulations will be revised and published in the Federal Register, to be come effective six months after publication.

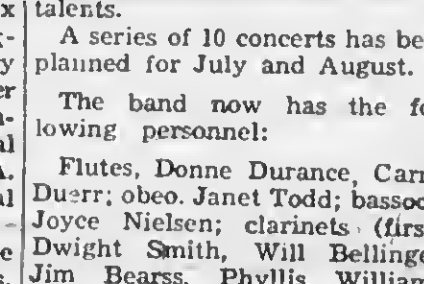

Persons who wish advanced copies of the proposed regulations in the form of an agenda for the public hearing may write Commandant (CMC) U. S. Coast Guard, Washington 25, D. C.

Public law 519 brings all previously uninspected vessels carrying more than six passengers for hire under inspection laws by embracing these categories: (1) mechanically or electrically propelled vessels of 15 tons or less, and vessels over 15 and less than 100 gross tons not over 65 feet in length; (2) sail propelled vessels of 700 gross tons or less; and (3) non-propelled vessels of 100 gross tons or less.

Exceptions to this law are public vessels of the U. S. A., or any foreign state, and any lifeboat forming part of a vessel's lifesaving equipment.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Confused "Sit"-uation

Been meaning all week to tell you about Curley Lawson's "baby-sitting" experience.

His Mrs. left him in charge, about seven p.m., with instructions not to let the children come downstairs. So Curley read his paper and whenever he heard footsteps on the stairs he ordered the culprit back to bed. Happened three or four times.

Little while later, Mrs. Miller from next door came over to inquire if Curley had seen her Sonny. "Here I am, Mom" came a voice from upstairs, "But Mr.

Lawson won't let me go home."

From where I sit, jumping to conclusions like Curley did, doesn't always make for an amusing story. I'm reminded of the people who—without due consideration—have concluded that I'm wrong like an occasional glass of beer. Well, to my way of thinking, that's not only intolerant... but, what's more, "minding" the other fellow's business is not the American way.

News Round-up at Camp Charlevoix

The third week of camp was the start of the trips, and all the skill the boys had learned in the campcraft course, under Carl Haag and Jim Rockwell, was put into use. All new campers are required to take this course, so that they will be more comfortable in the out of doors by knowing how to pitch a tent, build the right kind of a fire for certain kinds of cooking, and how to make a bed roll so that a good night's sleep is assured.

On Monday afternoon cabin 9, and 10, under the leadership of Jim Rockwell and Bud Morse took a horseback trip to a camping area over on Susan Lake. The cowboys, Lee Lenhardt and Tom Kearney accompanied these boys. The campers on the trip were: Mac Greene, Greg Hefferan, Hank Holste, Lenny Hooper, Phil Huber, Kim Goldberger, Mark Lindsay, Steve Walker, Bob Windisch, Mike McCulley, Wes Murfin, Ted Schmidt, Steve Wilson, Fred Gage, David Weiler, Frank Witter, and Roger Zvone. Alan Charlton took his cabin number 11 on a hike into Charlevoix taking their supper, and after playing on the beach and a picnic supper, they went to the movies. Our truck picked them up in town after the movie. These boys were: John Baxter, Kit Redding, Tom, Smith, Jack Sluiter, David Groff, John Kunkel, John Lessing, and Bob Somerville.

On Tuesday, Bob Burns, our canoe instructor took his cabin of boys on a canoe trip overnight to the camping site on Susan Lake. These boys were: Dick Gibboney, Mike Goldberger, Jack Hogan, David Meister, Bob Miller, Larry Blinn, Mike Grass, and Bill McMullin. This was the day that Paul Gach, the photographer from Grosse Pointe who has taken the camp pictures for the last nine years arrived. Old campers were very pleased to see Paul again. Late afternoon, we sent about fifty of our oldest Seniors down to Camp Chipewewa Trail for a dance with their girls. The boys were all excited (as I hear the girls were too). Bill Townsend, our director of Activities, and Ruby accompanied the group along with five of the counsellors. From all reports, a great time was had by all.

On Wednesday, cabins 15 and 16 took a horseback overnight trip to Mt. McSaubia over on Lake Michigan. Lynn Howell and Bob Jewett are the counsellors of these cabins. The boys going on the trip were: John Appel, Jim Cooper, George Davis, Joe DeCoursey, Joe Whinery, Stephen Hardesty, Sam Rae, John Sulzberger, Steve Feinstone, Jib Bailey, Art Lennox, Merrick Pease, Woody Opento, Bob Tappan, Lowell Miller, and David Smith. Paul Gach was busy taking pictures all day, and in the evening showed colored slides of the camp to the ALL-CAMP night program. It was fun for last year's campers to see themselves.

Thursday more camp pictures were being taken. Stan Storey took his boys on a truck trip to Bell's Bay, which is a few miles outside of town. The boys enjoying this overnight trip were: Stephen Bachle, John Baird, Chip Coakley, Dick Daley, Tommy Brumm, Teddy Jordan, Don Norris, and Jimmy Sprow and Jimmy Coyle. Cabin number 19, Collyer Church's cabin took a canoe trip overnight, camping on Susan Lake. These boys were: Arthur Blaul, David Lindsay, Bob Kingsley, William McKenzie, Bob Mehling, Rick Wilson, and Stephen Sims.

Friday was a big day at camp as several of the cabins were being hosts to the girls from Camp Tu-Wa-Ma-Na, which is just across the lake. The committee, consisting of Gary Murfin, John Jacobs, Peck Kunkel and Mike Dardas was busy decorating the Bigwam for the dance they called "Jive Junction". The boys did a terrific job of decorating and after two hours of dancing in the evening, the girls and boys returned to our clubhouse for punch and cookies, and after songs from the campers of both camps, the girls left. It was a very fine evening, and the committee gets a lot of credit.

On Saturday afternoon, we sent a tennis team in to play a group at the Bolevedere Club, and our instructors, Stan Storey and Bob Brown were very proud of the boys, as Camp Charlevoix won the match 7-2. The boys were very proud of Stephen Bachle, nine year old camper from Grosse Pointe, who was playing his first tennis match, and though he lost, he shows promise of becoming a very fine player. Other boys and their scores were: Joe Whinery, 6-1; 6-0; Jim Baird, 6-0; 6-2; Jim Faulkner, 6-2; 6-0; Roger Coff, 2-6; 0-5; Peck Kunkle, 6-3; 6-4; Whinery and Baird won their doubles match, 6-0; 8-0; Faulkner and Coffman, won 6-4.

On Saturday evening, the second Skit Night of the season was held, and once again the campers enjoyed every minute of it. Caions 19, 18, 15, 8, 1, and 3, plus the C. I. T's put on skits.

Sunday morning, our camp doctor, Jack Pierce, was the speaker at the Chapel Service. He gave a splendid talk, using a fifty cent piece and a speck of dust in comparing a boy in relationship to the rest of the universe. Both parents present and the campers were challenged by the talk. In the afternoon, a water-front afternoon was held and every camper in camp was busy and having a lot of fun.

Each year, we have a camper counsel composed of one boy on each cabin. This committee decides what is to be done with the chapel offerings, the carnival profits, and the rodeo refreshment profit. Each year several charities are helped. The boys chosen by their respective cabins this year to be on the All-Camp Council are: David Tappan, Ross

Charlevoix County Needs This Residential Hospital Facility For Its Aged Patients

J. & G. DAVERMAN CO.
ARCHITECTS - ENGINEERS

Proposed Charlevoix County Residential Hospital Facility Presented By The Charlevoix County Board of Trustees

Studies of past, present and projected future case load growth show an urgent need for better and larger hospital quarters. The Board of Supervisors would be derelict in its duty if it did not call the attention of the citizens of Charlevoix County to this great need and place the responsibility for removing this need before the voters for their favorable action.

A negative vote on these issues will most likely result in the early condemnation of our present building. To find other quarters for all these patients will be most difficult and costly for the county. It is our responsibility as citizens to provide for the aged and indigent. The decision is yours. Will you vote YES?

The Evidence of Need

The graph shows the increase in the number of patients needing care at Grandvue Hospital. At present, we have 35 patients at Grandvue Hospital, 14 patients in convalescent homes and 13 people on the waiting list needing care but unable to get in. In addition, there are many that need temporary care.

Provisions For This Need

An old building on which we are spending large sums every year in an effort to make them acceptable to the Fire Marshall and the Welfare Department. This building may be considered entirely inadequate at any time and closed. At present, we may not house any non-ambulatory patients on the second floor. We can only take care of 18 of these patients on the first floor.

The Decision Is Yours!

Will You Vote Yes?

Shape Plans To Cope With Tornadoes In Area

The fire siren will be blown for three minutes without a break in the event a tornado is sighted in the immediate area of Charlevoix, Hal M. Hill local Civil Defense chairman said this week.

The information was issued again this week especially for the benefit of Charlevoix's summer residents and other visitors in the area, Mr. Hill said.

The unusual weather and frequent storms in recent weeks have brought many inquiries regarding weather to the central Civil Defense office in the city hall, he added. In answer to these inquiries, he has assured everyone that local and county Civil Defense officials are in direct contact with state agencies whose job it is to keep the public informed of such information. Thus this community as all others in the area would be assured of an early warning in the event of a tornado with the information reaching the community via shortwave radio from the state police as well as over the radio and television stations.

For example, when the high winds and tornado-like clouds hit Grand Traverse area earlier this month, the Charlevoix county Civil Defense officials were alerted at once. Mr. Hill explained. The progress of the storm was broadcast and the public was kept informed on the situation as it progressed. The same would be true if a tornado was sighted moving in the direction of Charlevoix county.

At a recent meeting of key people in the Civil Defense program, those present reported on earlier assignments.

Miss Anne Baumgartner, superintendent of the Charlevoix hospital outlined a plan of action for the hospital and its personnel in the event of a disaster. The plan was adopted earlier by the Northern Michigan Hospital Council composed of 12 area hospitals.

Chief of Police Clarence Heise reported that his emergency police staff was organized and had held a meeting to discuss their role in the program. The emergency fire group will work closely with the police. The list contains names of many who are familiar with both departments. Among them are: north side, George Bergmann, Fay Davis, Raymond Nowland, Charles Bleha, Richard Edwards and Warren Allison; valley, Clifford Riley, Don Meggison, A. D. Cunningham and Dewey Bruce; second ward, Dan Gensett, Pat Moran, Harry Powers, Bill Lusk, Elmer Reed, Harold Withers, Jim Whitely, Robert Pearl and Shelby Goss; third ward, Henry Supernaw, Emil Pischner, Bud Gill, Fritz Puffpaff, Bill Marmie and Archie Himebauch.

Mr. Heise's regular police force composed of Jack Bucot, Earl Crandall, Joseph Smith and Warren Shadko will head up the volunteers in the various sections of town. Fire Chief John Curtis and deputy fire chief Lawrence Supernaw would be assisted by their regular volunteer firemen in such an emergency.

Mr. Heise and Mr. Curtis added that their crews are prepared to go any place in the area where they might be needed and will not confine their work to their respective sections of town.

Mr. Heise also reported that station wagons and school buses would be utilized as ambulances in an emergency and that he had a list of station wagon owners who had offered the use of their vehicles.

Edward K. Shanahan, who is chairman of the heavy equipment division, said that a number of local groups had already offered the use of their equipment in the event of an emergency and that he planned to contact everyone who might have chain saws, heavy trucks, tractors and other heavy equipment. Among those who have offered the use of equipment are Swanson Construction Co., American Mold Engineering Co., Lake Construction Co. and the Charlevoix county road commission. Anyone having any equipment may contact Mr. Shanahan.

Glenn Snider advised after some investigation that having Civil Defense arm bands made was not feasible and advised that the organization contact state headquarters regarding this issue.

Mrs. Keith Miles, school and community nurse, reported that she had compiled a list of registered nurses, nurses aides and those who had completed a course in home nursing. She also asked for the names of veterans in the community who served with a medical corps or hospital unit during their service. She said that these men would be qualified to assist in an emergency. Anyone who has served in such units is asked to contact Mrs. Miles.

Joseph Etienne, Commander of U. S. Coast Guard Group Charlevoix was present and offered the services of his personnel and equipment.

J. C. Marshall, city sanitarian, outlined the work of his department in the event of an emergency and said that the State Health Department was prepared to send an engineer if his services were needed.

Edward Swanson, representing the city utilities, reported on plans he had made for his departments and crews.

Harry Bingham, who heads up housing and emergency canteens, offered the names of local places which might be utilized for housing and feeding victims in an emergency.

Frances Milner, representing the Women's Guild of the Charlevoix hospital, was present and offered to compile a list of volunteers who would register patients at the hospital if their services were needed.

Peter H. Timmer and Fran Martin reported on the Red Cross in time of emergency. Mr. Timmer said that the Red Cross was prepared to work with Civil Defense officials in feeding and housing victims of a disaster. It was suggested that someone contact summer camps in the area to ask if cots and other equipment might be available to the community if an emergency should arise during the months they are not open.

Mr. Hill reported that Rev. Fr. E. F. Denay, pastor of St. Mary's church, had offered the use of the new St. Mary's school as an emergency hospital or first aid station if the need should arise.

The city hall was named as control center in case of an emergency.

A new superior potato variety called Onaway, has been developed by two M. S. U. farm crop researchers. Seed will be available next year.

Motor Vehicle Highway Fund Is Distributed

New receipts of the State Motor Vehicle Highway fund for the first quarter of 1956 amounted to $66,581,396.58, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler, has announced.

This money has been distributed to the state highway department counties, cities and incorporated villages as provided for in Act. 51, Section 12 of the Public Acts of 1951 as amended.

The Charlevoix county road commission has received a check for $11,118.95. The city of Charlevoix has received $10,180.66; Boyne City, $13,753.44; East Jordan, $7,262.71; Boyne Falls, $1, 397.27. The funds to the county are designated for primary and local roads and in the cities for mapor and local streets.

The above distribution does not include any funds collected under Act. 87, Public Acts of 1955, which increased the gas tax from 4 1/2 to 6 cents, and provided 75 percent of this money to go to the State Highway Department for use on certain designated trunklines, and the other 25 percent to cities, counties and incorporated villages.

Under this act, the Charlevoix county road commission has received a check for $7,227.09 while the cities received the following sums: Charlevoix, $653.39; Boyne City, $882.69; East Jordan, $466.12; Boyne Falls, $89.67. These funds must be used for construction only.

Plans Approved For Addition To Hospital

Plans for the construction of an addition to the new Charlevoix hospital have been announced by the Charlevoix hospital board of directors headed by Fred W. Willis. The addition will be a 28x42 foot solarium to be constructed on the north wing of the hospital overlooking Lake Michigan. It will be of the same type of brick construction as the hospital with windows on three sides. It will have storage space and rest rooms off the large room plus an outside entrance to the west.

Four Accident Victims Here Are Improving

Four accident victims who were injured in a two-car crash at the intersection of US-31 north and the Boyne City road Sunday night were reported in good condition at the Charlevoix hospital Wednesday.

A fifth was discharged Tuesday and two others were given emergency treatment and discharged Sunday night.

The injured were Benjamin Fishman, 57, of Detroit, driver of one car, who suffered a fractured back and facial lacerations; his wife, Shirley, 48, received fractured ribs and severe head lacerations.

Andrew Johnson Jr. 19, of Boyne City, driver of the second car, is hospitalized with lacerations and head injuries and Patricia Kent, 18 of Boyne City, a passenger in his car, is being treated for a fractured right femur, lacerations and bruises.

Dena Fishman, 18, was discharged Tuesday after being treated for lacerations and bruises.

Sandra Kent, 16, sister of Patricia, and a passenger in the Johnson car, and Arnold Zeff, 19, of Detroit, a counselor at Camp Sea Gull, a passenger in the Fishman car were given first aid treatment and discharged Sunday night.

The accident occurred at 11 p. m. Sunday when the Johnson car, going north on the highway, struck the Fishman car as it drove onto the highway from the Boyne City road, Sheriff Glenn E. Rose, who investigated the accident, reported. Both cars were demolished, he added.

The door of the Johnson car, jammed shut by the impact, had to be pried open to release Patricia Kent who was pinned in the front seat.

The injured were taken to the hospital by Ambulance.

Mrs. Clyde Ogden Dies Following A Long Illness

Mrs. Clyde Ogden, 77, prominent Ironon resident, died Wednesday at Little Traverse hospital in Petoskey following an illness of several months.

Funeral services will be held at the Ironon Congregational church at 2 p. m. Saturday with the Rev. Kenneth Mitchell officiating. Burial will be in Brookside cemetery. The body will be at the Portus chapel until the hour of the services. Contributions in memory of Mrs. Ogden may be made to the American Cancer society.

Plans for the addition have been drawn by Gordon Cornwall of Traverse City, the architect who designed the hospital. The plans have been approved by the board of directors.

The project has also been approved by the Ford Foundation through whose contribution the addition was made possible. It will be possible to start the addition this year because of the generosity of summer residents here. Contributions amounting to $9,000.00 have been made by the residents of the Chicago Club, the North Side association and the Belvedere Club with each group contributing $3,000. Earlier a grant of $12,600 was given by the Ford Foundation. Half of the amount has been received with the remaining $6,300 to be awarded next year. The funds from the grant plus the summer contribution will be used to finance the construction and furnishing of the addition.

Mr. Willis said the board of directors expected to approve the final plans shortly and award the contract for the addition later this summer so that the major part of the project could be completed before winter.

The staff of the Charlevoix hospital would like to acknowledge the generosity of the summer residents who have made the construction of the much-needed addition possible at this time.

School Board Adjusts Budget To Meet Income

The Charlevoix board of education held a special meeting Monday for the purpose of studying the budget for 1956-57 and revamping it to meet income demands.

The budget, set up for nine mills on the county's state equalized valuation, must now be cut since the schools in the county were allocated only seven mills. A proposal to give the school two extra mills for one year was defeated in the July school election.

As a result it has become necessary to delete a number of things from the program sponsored by the school in order to balance the budget. After a lengthy study of the budget the board of education has decided to alter the program by cutting $900.00 from its recreation program which includes the skating rink and its contribution to the summer recreation program.

Cutting $5,000.00 earmarked for new bleachers and other furniture to replace old, worn-out pieces from the budget along with an additional $270.00 set aside for the maintenance of instruction material, especially typewriters for the commercial department.

The sum of $6,400 earmarked for the payment on the deficit incurred when it was necessary

Queen Merrie Is Crowned

Venetian Queen Merrie Case is presented with a bouquet of flowers by Edward K. Shanahan, president of the Charlevoix board of commerce, following her coronation in East Park ceremony which was witnessed by several thousand visitors. The ceremony was a highlight of the Venetian night weekend festivities held annually the last weekend in July.

Need For Addition At Grandvue Summarized

The future of the proposed 60-bed addition to the present Grandvue hospital will be decided Tuesday when the voters of Charlevoix county go to the polls to vote on two proposals regarding the residential hospital facility for the aged.

Along with ballots for state and county contests, qualified voters will receive two proposals: the first of which would allow the Charlevoix county board of supervisors to issue bonds and borrow up to $500,000 to construct and equip the proposed addition; the second would allow the board of supervisors to raise the tax limitation by three mills for a period not to exceed 20 years. The fund raised by the extra millage would thus retire the debt.

Hospital Will Hold Meeting On Wednesday

The annual meeting of the Charlevoix hospital Association will be held at the high school band room at 8 p. m. Wednesday, Fred W. Willis, president of the board of directors, has announced. Four directors will be elected to the 10-member governing body of the hospital at the meeting at which annual reports will be given by the secretary and treasurer of the hospital board, the superintendent of the hospital and the president of the hospital guild.

Incumbent members who will be candidates for re-election for three year terms are Mrs. Kit Carson, Floyd Brown, H. A. Craig and Hans DeYoung of Atwood.

Plans for the proposed addition to the hospital, a solarium which will be constructed on the north wing, will be presented at the meeting.

The meeting is open to the public and all residents of the area served by the Charlevoix hospital are urged to attend.

Beaver Island Homecoming To Be August 12

Plans for the fifty-sixth annual Beaver Island home coming August 12 have been announced following a meeting of the general planning committee headed by Frank Nackerman.

Other members of the committee for the popular summer event are James W. Gallagher, Archie LaFreniere, Frank O'Donnell, Mrs. Michael Cull, Mrs. Grace Cole and Mrs. J. A. Gallagher.

The event will get underway Saturday with the reunion of relatives and friends who returned to America's Emerald Isle for the homecoming and August dinner. Saturday evening will be given over to fun-making with the majority of the returnees joining the island residents at Mass at Holy Cross church Sunday morning.

Dinner will be served at the parish hall beginning at noon and continuing until all the visitors are served.

Games and contests at 3 p. m. will replace the parade through the business section.

A grand ball at the parish hall at 9 p. m. with music by the Sunnyside Trio of East Jordan will conclude the festive weekend.

A shoreline lot will be given away during the ball Sunday evening.

In order that visitors may journey to the island and remain for all the events the Emerald Isle of the Beaver Island boat Co. will alter its schedule for Sunday, Aug. 12 leaving here at the usual time, but leave the Island at 2:45 p. m. The last trip will leave here at 5:30 p. m. and leave on the return trip at 1:30 a. m.

Community Chest Budget Meeting To Be August 9

The annual budget and admissions meeting of the Charlevoix Community Chest will be held at the high school band room at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, Aug. 9, Robert Lieberman, chairman of the board of directors, has announced. Representatives of the various agencies which will participate in the 1956 fund drive will be present to explain the work of their respective agencies and to review tentative budgets.

The goal for this year's fund drive will be set at this meeting. The deadline for submitting requests for funds and financial statements was Wednesday, Aug. 1.

Agencies which received funds from last year's drive were the Boy Scouts, Seaside Trails Council, Girl Scouts, Charlevoix Council, Charlevoix county chapter of the American Red Cross; Charlevoix Recreation program; Retarded Children's School; Salvation Army; Charlevoix Community Nurse; Charlevoix Hospital Maintenance Fund; Community Emergency Fund and the Michigan United Fund.

Contests, Proposals Create Interest In Primary Vote Tuesday

A record number of voters are expected to visit the polls in Charlevoix county next Tuesday to cast their ballots in the 1956 primary election.

Two county contests plus a vote on a $500,000.00 bond issue to build and equip a 60-bed addition to Grandvue hospital are expected to bring out the voters in an election which has created little interest except in areas where there are local issues on the ballot.

There are approximately 7,000 registered voters in the county, County Clerk Fenton H. Bulow, said this week. He estimates that perhaps 4,500 of this number will cast ballots in next week's election.

The bond issue which will permit the Charlevoix county board of supervisors to raise $500,000.00 for the purpose of building and equipping a 60-bed residential hospital facility for the aged on the site of the present Grandvue hospital is expected to be the major drawing card in the election. A second proposal would allow the present tax limitation to be raised by three mills for a period of 20 years in order to retire the bond issue.

Contests for the office of county sheriff and prosecutor have also created a lot of interest.

Incumbent sheriff, Glenn E. Rose, and Lester Umlor, Hayes township resident, are seeking the Republican nomination for sheriff.

Incumbent prosecutor, C. Meredith Bice, is being opposed by Harvey C. Varnum, Boyne City attorney, for the office of prosecutor. Both are candidates on the Republican ballot.

Other candidates on the Republican ballot who are opposed for their respective offices are Fento R. Bulow, clerk; Lillis M. Flanders, treasurer; Grover C. Genett, register of deeds; Mary C. Fendt, surveyor; Karl J. Erber, road commissioner; L. E. Grate, M. D., and Services Held For Mrs. Anna Corbett In Stanwood Church

The body was taken to the Stanwood Methodist church for funeral services Wednesday. Burial was in the Stanwood cemetery. The Pontius Chapel was in charge of arrangements.

Besides her daughter, Mrs. Loskot, she is survived by a son, William Corbett of Pomona, Calif.; a daughter, Mrs. Virgil Rosh of Vicksburg; seven grandchildren; six great-grandchildren; four brothers and one sister.

Uniform Fund Is Started For Team To Represent City

A fund to purchase uniforms for a softball team which would represent Charlevoix in sporting events throughout the area was started this week with a sizable contribution from one of the area's best known summer residents, James J. Reis, Dean Davenport, local softball director, has announced.

Contributions to the fund may be made to Mr. Davenport or left at the city hall.

Players from city league teams will be chosen to represent Charlevoix on the proposed team which would play on weekends. A schedule of games with other teams in the area is planned.

Genett, second flight champion, defeated Dave Hardy 3-2 in the quarter-finals; Meggison defeated Joe Etienne Sr. 1 up and Dennis downed Jess Penn 2 up to win the third and fourth flight championships and to advance to the quarter-finals.

Plans for a mixed two-ball foursome for 3 p. m. Sunday were announced Wednesday by Kevin Carey, club manager. All golfers are invited to bring a partner and enter the special event. Refreshments will be served at the clubhouse after the event.

On Sunday, August 19, the popular monkey tournament will be played off. All golfers who want to participate are asked to register at the clubhouse so plans for the event may be completed. A potluck supper at the clubhouse will climax this event.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

Another Venetian night weekend has come and gone . . . we must live right or something because sunny skies looked down on the scene . . . the first sunny weekend this month, if you remember . . . We'll grant you it was a little cool . . . but better the cold than the rain that we've experienced all too often this summer . . .

And how did you like that big pink elephant with his cocktail glass which won first prize Sunday night . . . It was just about the cutest thing we'd seen recently . . . When you consider how much hard work went into each entry it's a shame that all 24 entries couldn't have won first place . . .

This is one for the books, we think . . . Recent guests at the Edward Ross rooming house were
Mr. and Mrs. David Crockett and Mr. and Mrs. Boone . . .
However, the first name of the latter was no Daniel or we might have gotten the idea that frontier days were here again and we'd be watching for the bar that Davy got when he was only three . . .

If you're looking for some entertainment we know where you can find plenty . . . it's at Kipke field the nights the Peanut League teams play . . . We saw our first Peanut game the other night and it was terrific . . . Those kids are dead serious about the game and believe us, you'll get a bigger bang out of watching them play than you could dream possible . . .

Did you happen to notice Lake Michigan Saturday . . . It was in one of its most unusual moods and was really something to see

... The sun darting in and out of cotton-ball clouds was doing its bit in the way of stage effects.
We may be a little late but little recognition . . . Don't know we'd like to add a few more rose gardens we think deserve a how we happened to miss Floyd Bartholomew's lovely garden where you'll find just any kind of rose you'd like to mention . . .
then there's Mrs. Harley Ochs whose blooms defy description and David Peters' lovely bushes
... which Mr. P. says aren't too good . . . These lucky people with lovely green thumbs . . .

We mentioned it earlier but we'd like to advise you to stop in and see St. Mary's new school
... We saw it for the first time last week since it has been finished and we'd like to say here and now that it's something to be proud of . . . Just everything about it is the last word and the people of St. Mary's and their pastor, Father Denay, may well be proud of their accomplishments . . .

We are indebted to our good friend, Wil Hampton for a copy of the June issue of Michigan History published by the Michigan Historical Society which features the Civil War Recollections of Mrs. Cornelia C. Hampton . . . It tells the story of Mr.
Hampton's parents and three of his brothers who went from Michigan to Texas in 1858 only to be caught there by the Civil War . . .
Mr. Hampton was forced to flee for his life to avoid being hanged by rabid secessionists leaving Mrs. Hampton alone with her family . . . Eventually she was re-united with her husband who had enlisted in the Union army in the meantime but it's filled with hair-raising experiences that you'll want to read about . . .
Especially because it happened to someone you know . . . namely
Mr. Hampton Sr. and his son,
Charles, who resides here . . .

Goodenow - Gillispie Marriage Vows Are Exchanged In Levering Church

The First Methodist church in Levering was the scene Saturday evening of the wedding of Nancy J. Goodenow and Louis Eugene Gillispie.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kearney Hubbel of Levering. Mrs. Mabel Gillispie is the mother of the bridegroom.

The Rev. John E. Lockyer of East Jordan officiated at the single ring service in the presence of their immediate families and a few close friends.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a yellow ballerina length gown for her wedding. The bouffant skirt was topped with a strapless bodice, worn with a matching stole. Her corsage of white roses matched her floral headress.

Linda Lou Hubbel of Levering was her sister's only attendant. She wore a ballerina length pink gown matching headress and a corsage of pink roses.

Roger Lee Keiser of Levering assisted his cousin as best man.

Mrs. Hubbell selected a navy dress and matching accessories. Each had a corsage of white carnations.

Immediately following the wedding a reception for more than 100 guests was held at Lark's Lake.

The couple will make their home at Levering.

The bride is a graduate of the Boyce City high school. The bridegroom attended the Charlevoix high school and is a veteran of two years in the U.S. Army, 16 months of which were spent in Korea.

Among the wedding guests were a number from Boyce City and Mrs. Gillispie and three daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Peiron and family, Mrs. Anna Greiner, Mr. and Mrs. John Wogan, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wogan and Linda Towles and Carl Marine of Chicago who has been visiting here.

Watch Where You're Shooting

For the most part people want good things. They sincerely desire happiness, respectability and honor, worthwhile achievement in their trade or profession, and a fine family life. But how often they fail. They start out with high hopes for one kind of a life and end up with a record of quite another sort. The best intentions are not enough.

Again we may intend to do nobody real harm. We are just having innocent fun in our own way, and it's nobody's business but our own. Then we discover that in a complex world such as this there are no private affairs. Everything we do or say affects someone else, soon or late, and in spite of good intentions our follies work unexpected harm. Someone has smilingly paraphrased Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's poem "The Arrow and the Song":

"I shot an arrow into the air,
It fell to earth, I knew not where,
Until next day, with wrath profound,
The man it fell on came around.
It did not take him long to tell
Exactly where that arrow fell.
And now I do not greatly care
To shoot more arrows into the air."

Bizarre accidents described in our daily news reports show the unintended results of simple acts. Sometimes the doer suffers for the deed. Often others do.

A Mr. J. Smith, while shaving with a straight razor, was annoyed by a fly buzzing around his head. Smith angrily struck at the fly with his razor, missed, and sliced off the tip of his nose.

Mrs. Soder, of Makinen, Minnesota, was in a hurry to finish her washing, so when a pin in her washing machine broke off she looked around for a substitute. She found something that seemed made to order, sawed off the end of it, and started to hammer it into the machine when the substitute pin exploded, converting Mrs. Soder from washerwoman to traveling woman. She had thoughtlessly chosen a stick of dynamite.

Clarence Brown, Jr., of St. Louis, Missouri, is an excitable baseball fan and capable of considerable indignation if the game doesn't go his way. In fact, sometimes he feels "burned up". While watching a sandlot game a few summers ago, Clarence was struck by a hard line drive and instantly burst into flame. The batter had unintentionally clubbed a perfect bull's-eye, on a pocketful of matches. The outcome? Both batter and blaze were put out.

Plymouth, Wisconsin, literally became a boom town when sixteen-year-old Robert Marth shot at a sparrow perched on a farm wagon and missed the sparrow. But his shot did hit the wagon loaded with a thirteen-hundred-pound cargo of dynamite. Casualties listed: six hundred and fifty Plymouth windows, one wagon, one sparrow.

We often hit something bigger than what we were shooting at. When the gossip hears of the damage she has done, she becomes the epitome of innocence and exclaims, "Why, it was just an innocent remark. I didn't mean any harm." Many a person has confessed to me about some evil affair he thought was "nobody else's business." "Why I never guessed it would go that far. Had I thought it would involve and hurt so many people I wouldn't have been so foolish!" Sometimes our shots miss their mark and hit something else. Often they hit the target but ricochet and raise havoc as they glance about from one life to another.

But there is more than warning in the thought that, besides the intended results of our deeds, every act of ours has side effects that go far beyond our purposes. That can be good. We purchase corn flakes for our breakfast, desiring nothing more than something to satisfy hunger and sustain health. But in making that purchase we outreach our purpose. In driving to the store we use gasoline which profits the service station owner and his attendant and the gasoline and oil refining industry. In patronizing the store we help support clerks, bookkeepers, grocery owners, wholesalers, truckers, farmers, farm machinery manufacturers—all who had anything to do with those corn flakes from the time the seed was sown until they were poured into your cereal dish. Even eating breakfast cereal is not a private affair. Lives other than our own are involved. We are constantly doing more good than we know.

Olive Schreiner has said in her poem "By Our Stairs": "When we lie down worn out, Other men will stand, young and fresh."

By the steps that we have cut they will climb; By the stairs that we have built they will mount.

At the clumsy work they will laugh; And when the stones roll they will curse us. But they will mount, and on our work; They will climb, and by our stairs! No man liveth to himself, And no man dieth to himself."

Both the tragedy and the glory of life are involved in the accidental effects of our deeds—the things we do not mean to do. The rising cost of getting the product from the farm to the consumer may be responsible for about 40 per cent of the farm decline, believes an M. S. U. farm economist.

Need For Addition At Grandvue Cited

In addition to these expenditures, the county is spending approximately $12,000 a year for the care of its patients in convalescent homes, in the area because there is no room for these patients at Grandvue hospital. It is also costing the county another $13,000 a year to care for patients in general hospitals in the area when these patients could be cared for at Grandvue hospital if bed space was available.

The cost of financing the proposed facility which would give the county 60 additional beds would be $500,000, the amount of the proposed bond issue. This amount would also include the cost of equipping the facility.

This sounds like a lot of money to the average taxpayer but actually it is very little when spread over a 20-year period or until the bonds are retired. Based on the county's equalized valuation three mills on property valued at $1,000.00 would be only $3.00 a year or less than one cent a day; on property valued at $2,000 it would be $6.00 and on $3,000 only $9.00 per year. Using the current valuation figure, the proposed three mill levy would raise $60,000.00 a year. Even if there would be no further increase in the valuation and if collections are normal, the three mills would raise enough revenue to retire the debt in 12 or 13 years. However, it is necessary to increase the tax rate by three mills for 20 years to provide the necessary security for the bond issue.

One County Man To Fill Draft Quota

One Charlevoix county draft registrant will be called to fill the county's September draft quota, Mrs. Eleanor Left, clerk of the draft board has announced. There will be no call for pre-induction physical examinations next month.

Robert E. McGeorge of East Jordan is tentatively scheduled to report later this month for induction into the armed services while Dale H. Suomela expects to report for a pre-induction physical examination. Both are volunteers.

In Charlevoix county who have property assessed for taxes may vote on the millage and bond issues, Proposal 1 and 2, on the ballots; all qualified voters residing in the county may vote on Proposal 2 which is to raise the tax limitation.

Following the action by the board of supervisors to bring the issue to a vote the decision regarding the proposed addition now rests entirely with the qualified voters of Charlevoix county. There is no doubt of the need for the proposed facility for the aged of the county. Whether or not the people of the county want to accept the responsibility of caring for its "senior citizens" will be the issue decided when they go to the polls Tuesday.

It is the wish of the hospital building committee of the board of supervisors headed by Clyde Warner that the people of the county study the issue carefully before going to the polls to cast their ballots in this all-important election.
